Their Victory Celebrated in Bracebridge, Cannington and Elsewhere-Mr. Mc-Gillivray's Majority a Large One-The Globe's Comments

on the Result. Dracebridge, Dec.12.-Mr. McGillivray is elected to represent North Ontario In the coercive Parliament after one of the liveliest political campaigns on reoppsoition vote, which accounts Mr. McGillivray's big majority. Cannington, Dec. 12.-This town is wild with excitement to-night over the victory achieved by Major John A. Mc-Gillivray and the Conservative party in North Ontario. The first return to come in was Cannington, which showed a majority of 45 for Major McGil-This is the largest Conservative majority ever given in the history of this town, and credit is claimed by the Young Men's Conservative Association. The reports from the surrounding municipalities began to come in about 6 o'clock, and as each report succeeded the other it soon became evident that the Conservative candidate was elected by a big majority. When the figures showed 500 of a majority for Major McGillivray the enthusiasm of his suporters knew no bounds. A torchlight procession was formed, and headed by the Citizens' Band paraded the principal streets, the memberelect, who is in town to-night, and Dr. Glilespie being drawn in a cutter by about 40 men. Never in the history of Cannington has such an interest been taken in a political contest, and the Conservatives are heartily celebrating the victory which has been achieved in the riding. Bonfires are blazing, and hundreds are parading the streets.

The Globe's Comments. The Globe, in commentin on the re-Sult says: That the combined Liberal and Patron vote in North Ontario was larger by several hundreds than that polled for Mr. McGilivray is a fact that we refer to by way of warning rather than of consolation, inasmuch as the same electors are opposed to the policy of ment's tariff policy, condemnation of the corruption and extravagance of the Conservative regime, condemnation of the polley of coercion of Manitoba, yet in the face of this popular disapproval the Government candidate slips in, and the Government will be able to boast of a victory. It will matter little to them that the principles they rehave secured the election of a flexible supporter who will follow wherever they lead. Principles were thrown to the winds in the election. Mr. McGillivray wrigsieu out of a declaration on the school question, and this enabled his canvassers to say in one place that he would support the Government policy of ccercion and in another that he would oppose it. This deception was practised until the last hour of the election. Mr. McGillivray's friends even had the effrontery to deny the report of Mr. Clarke Wallace's resignation, and it is probable that a large number of Conservative votes were cast in ignorance of the fact that the Controlles of Customs had severed his connection with the Government, on account of their school policy. It is difficult to see how this double game can be played in the coming byeelections, but it must be borne in mind that the Government and their friends are playing for enormous stakes, and will leave no stone unturned to save themselves from defeat in any of the remaining constituencies Whatever may be the effect of the bye-elections upon the parties, we hope that we shall soon hear the last of the Manitoba school question in Federal affairs. North Ontario has pronounced against it in the most emphatic way; that is as clear as is the fact that Mr. Mc-Gillivray is elected.

Victims of the Hurricane.

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 12 .- A despatch received here from St. Pitre, Miq., says a hurricane of great violence prevailed there to-day, doing tremendous damage to shipping, and that the schooners Mabel R. Bennett, Hattie D. Linnet, S. P. Willard and Jennie Severns, belonging to this port and engaged in the frozen herring fishery, were driven ashore and will probably be a total loss. Also, that a French steamer was driven ashore. The vessels were among the finest sailing from this port.

IN: FAR AWAY ALBERTA.

A Surprisingly Fine Country-Splendid Grazing Prairie. Toronto, Dec. 16.

Among the recent arrivals from the Northwest country is Mr. R. R. Holt, who has spent the past summer in connection with a Government surveying party in the northern portions of the Alberta district of the Northwest Territory. To a World reporter Mr. Holt said that the country he has visited is surprisingly fine from a grazing standpoint. "Never have I traversed mile after mile of finer and more promising grazing prairie than is to be found in the district we have surveyed in what is known as the Vermillion country," said Mr. Holt. "The country is in extent about 566 x 300 miles and lies along the banks of the Saskatchewan River,commencing at a point 130 miles northeast of Edmonton. At the present time there are no residents in this district and the magnificent prairie grazing iands are allowed to go to waste. Of course there are portions of this country that are absolutely useless, but the area of such portions is far less than of that which is particularly adapted to the successful growing of

"While I found a large number of immigrants flocking to other portions of the northwest country, it must be admitted that they are not of the class calculated to improve a new country; as a rule, the settlers are agricultural adventurers. They have little if any money and are unable to carry their undertakings to a successful issue. The country is being boomed by the only railroad company which traverses it. and the five-cent per mile teriff exacted by that company, considering the long distance between points of promise, has a tendency to make less exact the investigation which a newcomer might naturally be expected to make before settling down to a life-long task. I would, therefore, advise those who are comfortably settled in Ontario to remain where they are; the Northwest, I judge, is open, at the present, only to those who are we'll equipped with ready money and "Going back to the country where l spent the greater porthe past summer," said Mr Holt, "the Saskatchewan country, it is my opinion that a railroad built lion country and along Beaver Lake to Fort Saskatchewan, would tend to open this magnificent country and bring its virtues to the front. At the present time the country is difficult of access, and one of the grandest openings to cattle-growers on this continent is necessarily neglected. Such a railroad, I am convinced, would result profitably to the company undertaking its construction." Referring to other sections of the Northwest Territory, Mr. Holt said that on his return to Ontario he had stopped at Indian Head and visited the Experimental Farm. The farm consists of 640 acres, though but about 250 are under cultivation. It is remarkably successful as a venture in its line and is proving of great value to the agriculturists of that country. "The crops throughout the Northwest country during the past season were simply enormous; the telegraphic reports were not in the least exaggerated," said Mr. Holt. "From what 1 could learn the average was about 45 bushels to the acre, but the figures named by buyers were so low that a large number of the producers have declined to part with their products, and are holding for a better market." Mr. Holt expects to return to the Alberta district in the spring, and believes that large sections of the country he has so loudly praised will be taken up by cattle-growers, who are constantly on the lookout for new and promising fields.

The arrest of Thomas Rush, alias Smith, by Detectives Burrows and Duncan, has proved to be one of considerable importance. It is said that Rush, who has been taken back to Windsor, came to Toronto after the White burglary there, with an accomplice named Cranham. They engaged a room in Yonge-street, and on hearclect Conservative candidates in other ing of Rush's arrest Cranham made constituencies where a majority of the himself scarce. In a search of their room the detectives found two crucibles for meltin jewelry, a knotfor Mr. Gillespie and Mr. Brandon re-present condemnation of the Govern-ment's torics. rosts, a slun-gshot and other evidence tending to show that it was these wor-thies who robbed the residence of Dr. D. E. Thompson, Queen's Park, and cther houses in the city.

In their investigation the detectives unearthed a bold scheme of robbery planned by Rush and frustrated by his arrest. He and his pal had discovered that the employes of a certain large factory in the city were paid every two weeks, that the office was in one part of the city and the factory in another, and that the manager was in the habit of carrying the two weeks' wages from the office to the factory.

Awful Depredations in Armenia Continue.

Turned Mohammedans Rather Than to be Left Homeless to Starve - Another Son Born to the Duke and Duchess of York - General Cable News.

London, Dec. 15.-The representative of the United Press in Constantinople telegraphing under yesterday's date, says that advices from the interior showed that forced conversions from Christianity to Mohammedism are occurring everywhere. Women and children whose husbands and fathers have been killed and whose homes have been destroyed have, rather than to lead a life of vagabondage, accepted Islamism, whereupon they were housed and fed by the Turks. The sincerity of these conversions may be judged from what has occurred at Kaiserea. In this place, many women, whose protectors had fallen in the massacres were offered their choice between embracing the tenets of the Koran or being either hacked to pieces or meeting the worse fate of being kidnapped. Ostensibly the women accepted Islamism and thus rendered their lives, and, perhaps, their honor secure. It is now thought that 1000 persons were killed in the massacres in Kaiserea. The fury of the Kurds was not satisfied with the death of its victims, but vented itself upon the inanimate bodies. The mutilation of the corpses was frightful and in many cases was of a nature that can not be described. In Harpoot 60 Christians fled to a church in the vain hope that its walls | York was delivered of a son at Sanwould furnish them a shelter against dringham Hall this morning. Mother those who were crying for the blood | and child are doing well. of Aremnians. They were permitted for a time to believe themselves secure, but suddenly the church was surrounded by a great number of Kurds. The doors were then blown in and the Christians thought they would be massacred within the sacred structure. They were not. Their captors took them one at a time outside the church and there, heedless of the pitiable cries for mercy from the women and children, killed them either by shooting or stabbing them. The first victim was the Protestant pastor of the church, who, as he was dragged out bade the others, if they had to die, to die as Christians. He met his death like a martyr. Some of the refugees, in a very agony of terror offered to abjure their faith and accept Islamism, thinking thus to save their lives. The offers availed them nothing, for their insatiable enemies, after accepting them, dragged the converts out and killed them one by one.

The Armenian Church has been turned into a mosque and the Protestant Church into a stable. In Kaiserea the soldiers joined in the looting that accompanied the mas-

AGRICULTURAL DISTRESS.

The Right Hon. Mr. Douglas Promises Government Relief Measure.

London, Dec. 14 .- The Right Hon. A. A. Douglas, First Commissioner of Works, who represents the East Division of Kent in the House of Commons, has assured his constituents that the Government will introduce measures in the House for the relief of the prevailing agricultural distress, and that these measurs will be made the first business of the session, which will begin on Feb. 11 next. As the Ministers are still undecided what form the relief measures will take, Mr. Douglas was unable to give any definite information concerning them. A forecast of the Government's proposals, based on various official utterances, includes, besides modifications in the system of land taxation, a bounty on Kingdom. Prime Minister Sansbury declaration against a protective tariff is held in Conservative circles to be quite consistent with the acceptance of the bounty system. In any event, unless the Government produces a measure that an influential section of its supporters will deem effective, no habits of obedience that have long controlled the Conservatives will prevent a disruption of the party. There are 232 members of the House of Commons pledged to maintain the program of the National Agricultural Union and they will not accept other than a substantial instalment of their destaisfy us some how," said a leading agriculturist at a conference of the Union, "let us make a clean sweep of boy's diet-were nourishing.

them." This proposition was received with thunderous applause. Another plank in the program of the Union declares for preferential trade between all parts of the British Empire. This program obtains, besides the unantmous adhesion of the Conservatives, the growing support of the Liberals. The circular of the Right Hon. Jos. Chamberlain, Secretary of the Colonies, to the Governors of the various British Colonies, has raised the question of an Imperial zolverein into the sphere of the immediate practical politics. The Statist argues that such a zollverein is improbable unless the colonies consent to absolute free trade with the Mother Country. But the tone of the Conservative and some of the Liberal papers tends to the acceptance of the resolution adopted by the late Intercolonial Conference at Ottawa, which declared in favor of granting to Great Britain only a preferential tariff over foreign countries. It is expected that an international conference of the Irish parties will be arranged to be held in Dublin in April. The anti-Parnellites, who are projecting the conference, desire that all sections be represented, including the extremists. It is recognized that if the conference aims at anything practical, all the delegates must promise to accept the decisions of the majority. Unless the projectors find that the meeting is likely to result in some uniformity of policy the conference will not be convened. When some basis of the agreement is obtained Mr. Justin Mc-Carthy, the leader of the anti-Parnellites, proposes to retire from the leadership, leaving it to the conference to select a new chief.

Mr. John Dillon will start to-day from Rome, where he has been spending part of his honeymoon. He is returning home to assist in the deliberations of the International Conference. If the hopes of earnest Nationalists are realized the conference will put an end to the factionalism now prevailing, and no personal jealousies will be allowed to debar a reunion. In speaking of the leadership, it can be said that many of the anti-Parnellites would not hesitate to accept Mr. William Redmond, the Parnellite leader, who is admitted to be one of the best speakers and most capable politicians belonging to the Irish parliamentary party. Mr. Thomas Sexton would be preferred as the ablest parliamentary tactician, as well as the greatest Irish orator in the House of Commons, but unless the conference should give him an almost unanimous vote he will not be likely to accept. THE PROTECTION MOVEMENT.

An Apparently Widespread Agitation in the Tory Party for a Return to Protective Tariffs. New York, Dec. 15.-London special

the Tories has been coquetting with protective—or, as they call it. "Fair trade '—propositions, but the leaders trade '—propositions, but the leaders have scouted any modification of the English free trade policy as beyond the range of practical politics. But during the past week, when, cwing to the great Christmas cattle show, numbers of representative agriculturists from all parts of the country were in London, the Ministers received a series of deputations whose mission was to invite the imposition of protective tariffs on various articles of agricultural produce, such as barley and hops. The only Minister who expressed appreval of any of these proposals was Walter Long, the Minister of Agriculture, who promised to introduce legislation during the next | session of Parliament prohibiting the importation of live sheep. It is true that he defended this measure on the ground that it was only intended to stamp out disease, but the Radical papers have denounced it as being in its nature protectionist. Lord Salisbury has been attacked in The St. James' Gazette, politically one of the most influential of the London Tory papers, for refusing his official countenance to fair trade suggestions and a speech he made in 1892, just before the general election, is quoted as showing him to be then in favor of placing a retaliating tariff on foreign slaughter Case at Owen Sound. Owen Sound, Dec. 14.-The case of the Crown v. Helen R. Findlay was resumed at 9 o'clock this morning. Mr. Alfred B. Owen of the Barnardo Home said when the boy left the home he received a book of instructions and two post cards addressed to the home, one to be sent to the home on his safe arrival at his destination and the other to be kept in case he should not be able to procure paper and stamps to communicate with the home at any time. He also stated that he could read and write. On these points he seemed somewhat uncertain on cross-examination by Mr. McKay, saying the boy could read print, and he received a postcard from him after his arrival, purporting to be signed by him. Dr. C. M. Lang, on Nov. 16, with Dr. Middlebro, made a post-mortem examination after the body had been buried in damp soil for nearly a week. He stated that the skin of the shoulder and breast had a large number of bed sores. The skin had a large number of spots, some as large almost as a 5-cent piece. They extended nearly back and legs. He stated that they could not be caused by insects. The condition of the body as regarded nutrition was fair. He had cut into the bone and found the joints tuberculous. The heart had not been cut into on the former examination. He cut into it and found clots. Death was due to stoppage of the blood, due to these clots; examined the lungs and found traces of pneumonia. The bowels were normal and there was no evidence of starvation. Frank Smith and William Brooms Convicted on Saturday. Toronto, Dec. 16.

At the Criminal Court on Saturday Frank Smith and Wm. Broome were convicted of manslaughter. They were originally indicted for the murder of Mrs. Mary Atkins, but on Saturday morning, Judge Rose told the jury that the elements of murder were wanting, but the evidence was such as to warrant a charge of manslaughter, and as such the jury was directed to regard it.

The evidence for the defence was that of Drs. Scott, Nattress and Jones, all of whom supported the opinion that the deceased Mrs. Atkins did not die of shock.

The jury, after being out an hour and ten minutes, brought in a verdict of guilty against both. His Lordship said that he would withhold sentence till next week, so that he might have an opportunity of hearing what there was to be said as to the previous history of the prisoners.
