Williams, and "The Burglar of Cornfield Inn," by H. Babson, make the fiction department unusually strong. Notable sporting features are : "Winter Fishing," by E!. W. Sandys; "A Moose Hunt on the Yukon," by the late V. Wilson, and "A Night Among Wolves," by Fred. Whishaw. "The Horse of Fred. Whishaw. Society." is a finely illustrated article by E. B. Abercrombie. Sketches of cycling, travel and adventure add variety to an excellent number.

-The Century Magazine celebrates its quarter-centennial in its November issue with an "Anniversary Number." In honor of the occasion it dons a new dress of type, with new headings, etc., and it appears in a new and artistic cover. Although The Century has reached an age that is unusual among American maga-zines, it continues to show the youthful vigor and enterprise that have always characterized it. The programme that has been arranged for the coming year contains a number of interesting features. Much has been written already concerning Mrs. Humphry Ward's new novel, "Sir George Tressady"; which has been secured for its pages. It begins in the November number with an account of the November number of the November number of the November number of interesting in the November number with an account of the November number of interesting the next the November number of interesting the next of an English parliamentary election. It will be the leading feature in fintion for the coming twelve months, other and shorter novels being contributed by W. D. Howells, F. Hopkinson Smith, Mary Hallock Foote and Amelia E. Barr. There will also be contributions from Mark Twain and Rudyard Kipling (the latter furnishing to the Christmas Century one of the most powerful stories he has ever written); a series of articles on has ever written); a series of articles on the great naval engagements of Nelson, the book to Lindsay subscribers.

ment in that vicinity. --Northwarders appreciate the new electric light at the corner of Elgin-st. and Victoria-ave., which made its first appearance last Saturday night.

The large and valuable glass-covered ornament, a special prize given away by the "Glass Blowers," Dobson's old stand, Saturday evening, was won by Mr. Alfred Grozelle, a former employee of THE Post. -Mr. R. Touchburn has decided that his record as a councillor, and chairman of the streets and bridges committee, entitle him to a claim on a higher municipal office, and he is out for the position of first deputy-raeve. —While the glass-blowers in Dobson's old stand were doing business to a packed house on Saturday night the strain proved too great for the floor, which sagged a few inches, much to the alarm of the people

-Street Overseer Walker had a difficult time coping with the mud which rolled serenely down Kent-st. Saturday. However, up till a late hour Saturday night he succeeded fairly well in making the crossings passable.

—Clothes-line thieves are getting in their work again, being apparently undeterred by the couple of examples made last season. A number of articles were whipped off a line in the south ward one night last week.

-Mr. Albro Silver was in Toronto last week putting up a large raised letter sign on Bay-st. The wording required 76 of his patent letters. Now that he has succeeded in introducing his signs in the city it is likely he will be kept busy. Our pushing fancy goods dealer, Mr. C. W. Hughan, has taken the weather into his own hands, and in his window may be witnessed a fine downfall of "the beautiful," which is attractive and effective in catching the eye of passers-by. -The average output of bleyeles for the year 1895 is estimated at 750,000. Allowing an average length of 6 feet per cycle, the above output, if the wheels were arranged in a line end to end, would extend 850 miles, or almost from Chicago to New York.

-The Sabbath school scholars of St. Andrew's church will have a Christmas tree and cantata on Friday evening. An excellent program is being prepared by the scholars and an entertaining evening for the children is looked forward to. All the children of the school will receive a present that evening.

-While Mr. Peter Moffatt, of Fenelon township, was driving home on Friday night last his two handsome Collic dogs were picked up by some parties in a rig heading for Lindsay, and he has been unable to find trace of them since....Mrs. Oliver, of Sussex-st., mourns the loss of a pet pug, but thinks she has knowledge of

-If the frequent blockade of Lindsayst. by freight trains is caused by lack of yard room the company should put to a couple of additional switches, as the present state of affairs causes great inconvenience and is a constant menace to drivers of young and fractious horses. The other evening the crossing was blocked for over a quarter of an hour, yet to leave a clear passage the train need only have moved a car-length.

-Mr. G. H. M. Baker, local agent for the Rathbun Co., is now shipping the season's cut of ties from here at the rate of 1,000 per day. The output of the mill here for the season was about 150,000 ties, but about half that quantity was shipped during the summer, as the yard was overstocked. On Monday Mr. Baker left for the north on a special train to begin the work of gathering the ties piled at different points along the Victoria division.

-Anyone anxious to know how the local trotting horses are going this season will find out by taking a trip down the river as far as the old cut. On Tuesday of last week five "flyers" were on hand, and the ice was in grand condition for fast work, the covering of snow being just deep enough to af-ford good footing. The cut being seven-eighths of a mile in length, the drivers can gain a very fair idea as to what their horses can do over a mile course at the winter meets.

-Style and comfort meet in Cravenette in rare combination. The sober virtues sometimes have a drab appearance which tell against them. Cravenette keeps out the rain, defies the dust, and yet makes up as a stylish costume, which the most fastidious lady might desire. There are six shades: Navy, Myrtle, Brown, Grey, Castor and Black. Cravenette is the ideal dress for street and country. Gives long service, can be worn in all weathers, and is perfectly perous and healthy. Beauty first and foremest, and unique comfort superadded, that is Cravenette, which the ladies now prefer to anything else for

-Mr. I. H. Oliver, photographer, who is one of our crack marksmen, has invested a new rifle for use in association matches. It is a Winchester of 23-100 callbre, with nickel-metal barrel; the missile is a little tube of hard metal filled with lead, propelled by smokeless powder. When testing his new weapon the other day Mr. Oliver made a target of 34 inch boards, placed it against a brick wall, and fired at it from a distance of 20 feet. Then he proceeded to detach board after board to find out the power of panetration, but failed to find the bullet until he had probed the brick wall at the back to a depth of three inches.

-Capt. Geo. S. Thompson, of this town, author of "Up to Date, or the Life of a Lumberman," has delivered a few copies of the volume, which has just been issued from the press. The book makes most interesting reading, many of the reminis-cences having a local application, and the numerous illustrations depict scenes that go far to convince the reader that the life of a lumbarman is full of vicissitudes, perils, hard work and hard living. Capt. Thompson's many friends here will be pleased to learn that he has succeeded in obtaining advance orders for a large num-ber of the books, and is about to have an edition printed in French for lumbermen unable to read English. His son, Mossom, who attends the Collegiate here, is now delivering the book to Lindsay subscribers. Our Short Story. We call attention to a most interesting sketch in another column by Miss Edith opier, whose literary ability is very marked, as the sketch, "The Two Pictures," will show. We hope to be able to give other contributions in the way of sketches, articles on timely topics, etc., by local writers well qualified for such work.

Y. M. C. A Notes. -Preparations for the New Year's reception are going on apace, and the Ladies' Auxiliary and the members are endeavoring to make this a big success.

The junior department have made arrangements with the VanAmburgh family to give one of their popular entertainments in Lindsay on January 17th. As the boys are trying to get separate rooms, they hope the public will help them to make this concert a success.

Frem the Far West.

Mr, John Cowdry, banker, of Fort Macleod, arrived in town the other day with his two children and their governess, to spend Christmas with his brother, Mr. N. H. Cowdry, our local grain-buyer. No doubt many of our readers are unaware that Fort Macleod is 1,000 miles west of Win-that Fort Macleod is 1,000 miles west of Winnipeg, and the centre of a great ranching country, and Mr. Cowdry states that the ranchers shipped more cattle to the Eaglish market this year than ever before—before the end of August they had shipped 25,000 head from Alberta, and about the same number from Munitoba points. The price free on board cars is $40 per head for four year-old and $25 for threeper head for four-year-old and $35 for three-year-old cattle. Dealers do a large busi-ness in shipping yearling cattle to Alberta ranchers at $16 per head, with privilege of repurchasing when four years old at $40 per head. From Ontario alone 3,000 head of yearlings have been brought into the Alberta district during the past year. It is needless to say that Mr. Cowdry is a firm believer in a great future for the afternoon. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. J. W. Macmillan and the pastor. -Large congregations attended the Christmas services at St. Mary's Catholic church. Vicar-General Laurent officiated. At the vesper service the altar was very prettily decorated, and a beautiful motto was to be seen in small candle lighte, 'Jesus is God.

-At St. Paul'e church on Christmas day Mr. Percy Spanes read prayers, and the rector read the lessons, preached and celebrated holy communion. He took for his text Matthew 1:21: "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus; for he shall save His people from their sins." The congregation was large, being equal to the average Sunday attend-

The Bg Blow-out at Oakwood. Sheridan & Co. started a business at Oakwood about nine months ago, and for time seemed to carry on a large trade. They claimed that they were selling chesper than other people, and with the facts just to light we do not doubt that they did. A few days ago they made an assignment, and at the meeting of creditors in Toronto on Monday last the statement of their affairs caused a good statement and they were severely deal of comment, and they were severely criticized in business circles. Their liabilities are about $11,000, with assets of $8,000. The deficit of 3,000 cannot be located. The inspectors refused to entertain a compromise with the insolvents, but sold the stock at once without giving them a chance to bid it in. This should be another lesson to wholesale men, who seem too anxious to sell goods, and very frequently sell men possessed of a very small capital large stocks to go iato business in opposition to cld established firms who have paid them 100 cents on the dollar for years. The outcome is generally a disastrous failure; the stock sells at a very low rate on the dollar, and their old customers are compelled to compete against goods sold at prices lower than they can purchase goods in the regular way.

Local Brovities. -It is said that the curlers are seriously contemplating manufacturing their own ice if the present mild weather keeps on. -Mr. James Storer, locomotive foreman of this division, was basy on Tuesday weighing al! engines on this division that entered the yards.

-A large gang of Montreal shantymen passed through last Tuesday. They were greatly concerned as to the chances of -Over seventy dollars' worth of stamps were sold from the post office on Tuesday. Evidently all the sweethearts and friends were not forgotten this Christmas. -Mr. W. Hungerford, engineer in charge of the government dredge at work at Rosedale, and all the employees—most of them Peterbore men—arrived from the north by the early train Christmas morning. -It is reported that Coun. R. Robinson, of the south ward, contemplates retiring That ward cannot afford to lost so good la representative, and it is to be hoped pressure will be brought to bear by his friends to induce him to offer again. -The monthly meeting of the Church of England Temperance Society will be held in St. Paul's schoolhouse on Monday evening, December 30.h, at 8 p.m. Rev. J. W. Macmillan will deliver an address, and an interesting program may be expected. -We understand that the Eila Cameron Co., which played here some months ago, appearing in "The Strategists" and other comedies, will return during January, According to Kingston papers, the company have been scoring successes there.

-Mr. Gibson, representing the Freehold Loan and Savings Co., Toronto, owners of the premises occupied by Mr. James Boxall, have agreed to enlarge his workshop by building an addition of 20 feet, which will make it the largest shop of the kind in town.

-Newspaper men ere not all talk and print. Now the Montreal Star comes forward with an offer to equip, at its own expense, a Canadian regiment in case of war with the States. Well done, Star, and good for the subscription list. The Post has a couple of men ready to enlist in Mr. E. D. Orde's Dysart brigade.

-The number of Harper's Bazar issued on December 28th will be distinguished by very elegant wraps, fur-trimmed, and designed for recaption and theatre toilettes.
Several beautiful calling costumes will be given in this number, which, as a whole, will be very rich in striking and appro-priate winter fashions. An article by Mrs. Sears on "Chaperones and Chaperoned", will be of timely interest.

-We find our figures in last Monday's issue re the Rathburn's Company's tie shipping were not correct. Their cut of shipping were not correct. Their cut of ties and posts for the season was 100,000, not 150,000. When shipping from their mill they loaded at the rate of over 5,000 ties per day, instead of 1,000, as we understood, and during the week about 100 carloads were sent out, keeping a train crew busy. When loading and inspecting on the line the company hand over to the G.T.R. daily quantities varying from five to twenty thousand ties, according to circumstances.
