MANILLA. CHURCH NOTES,-Rev. Mr. Tucker,

Toronto, preached in the Methodist church here on Sunday evening last an elequent sermon on the subject, "Godliness with contentment is great gain." It was listened to with much pleasure and profit by the large congregation. Rev. Mr. Tucker is at present visiting at the home of his son, Rev. W. B. Tucker, pastor at this place. We are sorry to learn that through failing we are sorry to learn that through failing health the father was some time ago compelled to leave for a season the work in which, for thirty four years, he has been engaged in, and in which he must (to judge from Sabbath evenings sermon) have been an active worker.....The Women's Auxiliary meet at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon. All are cordially invited....On Sabbath evening at 6 o'clock will be held the song service in the Methodist church. The subject, it is expected, will be "Rest." These services are always interesting, and all who come will derive both instruction and benefit therefrom. SILENT CONTEMPT.—In future we will not in anyway regard the attacks of the correspondent of the Cannington Gleaner, save it be with silent contempt. We will explain ourself in this way: If there be anything which is open, honorable and just, on such thing; we would be glad to debate with any person who will advance any such open, honorable or just thing, with permission of the editor of this paper. But with regard to any small, petty back-thrusts, which are but the indirect ways of satiating revenge or private ill-will, we will not indulge knowingly. Such things are too insignificant to place before the editor of such a well-known and highly esteemed paper as THE POST, and are also too insignificant for its correspondent to countenance. Hoping in all good-will that the Gleaner correspondent clearly under-stands the reason why we will not THE ENTERTAINMENT at East Manilla

HAVE THEY PERISHED?

Two Prominent Torontonians, Who Were Hunting for Gold, Are Missing in The Far North. Toronto, Nov. 30.

There is considerable anxiety as to the safety of Lawyer John Shilton and Surveyor Johnson, two Torontonians, who have been out in the Seine River district looking for gold. Five weeks ago they were supposed to be shut in by ice in a district some 50 miles north of Lake Abraham, when about to stake some claims.

The voyage north to the gold mine had been made by canoe, and while en route they were suddenly caught by a sharp frost, which rendered the rivers impassable to the canoes, though the ice was not hard enough to bear their weight. Nor could they go through the woods, which were all one mass of swamp. On the trip they were accompanied by a Toronto prospector named Mills, who left them at Wa-bigoon Mission on account of iliness, and said he would remain there till their re-

They had only two weeks' provisions with them when they left seven weeks ago, and it is thought they must have perished. On the other hand, the means of conveying news regarding them are very limited. There is a faint possibility that they are Word was received from Mr. Mills ten days ago stating that not a line or message had been received from the others, and that he had no money to collect a relief party together. Funds were immediately forwarded by those in the syndicate which the lost men represent, and after a great deal of trouble Mr. Mills, with the assistance of the Hudson Bay Company, is on the road to try and find He has with him Indians, dogs, sleighs and toboggans. Some men, it is reported, knew the country so well that they refused $500 to take part in the relief expedition. Mr. Mills, by the way, started out alone to rescue them, but only made 12 miles in five days, and was foreed to return. The party will have to portage 50 miles to reach their destination. Such a long time has elapsed since Messrs. Shilton and Johnson were blockaded that little hope is entertained of finding them alive, and it is feared they have been starved or frozen to death, or perhaps fallen through the ice in an effort to escape. One my of hope l'es in the fact that they have weapons and may shoot game. It might be well for the Government to form another expedition to assist the first one, for the road they have to travel is a hard and dangerous one. John Shilton is a member of the legal firm of Shilton & Wallbridge, and Surveyor Johnson has a wife and family living in Wellington-street west.

ANTIDOTE FOR TYPHOID.

Two German Scientists Bave Been Experimenting With an Anti-Toxine and Hope for Great Results.

Washington, Nov. 29.-United States Consul George Sawter at Glanchau, sends to the Department of State an account of a report soon to be published in a German medical journal by Prof. R. Pfeiffer and Dr. W. Kalle, two well-known bacteriologists of Berlin, giving the effect of a number of experiments they have made with a typhus anti-toxine, "If their hapes are confirmed," says the Consul, "the science of therapeutics in infectious diseases will have received another most valuable accession in this new discovery. The typhoid bacilius is largely known to exist in well and spring water, and the fact that they are frequent-ly the direct cause of infection is widely recognized by authorities on bacteriology. Consequently this latest important discovery is to be greeted with joy, as it may prove in the future the means of preserving numberless lives from untimely demise, particularly as man is susceptible to attack from these bacilli during the best years of his development-20 to 25 years. The inoculations of 'typhus anti-toxine' can be easily and quickly executed, and will prove of great value and benefit, especially in times of epidemic, when the need of a prompt and efficacious life saving remedy is most urgent, "The fruits of the experiments will soon be published for the benefit of the entire medical world." Death of Baron Savile. London, Nov. 29 .- The death is announce ed of Baron Savile, who for many years held high diplomatic appointments. A Hard Winter Promised. The weather prophets have been making careful observations with a view of finding out exactly what sort of a winter suffering humanity may look forward to, and the conclusion is that it will be one of unusual severity. The goose bone shows it; the squircels are not satisfied with their usual hoarding places in trees and are burying nuts underground, out of reach of the frost; the summer birds left early; the husks on the corn are thicker than they have been for years, and the hogs are making their beds in south west corners of their pens. These, and less noticeable signs, are taken as conclusive, and preparations should be made accordingly. If mankind does not follow the example of the squirrls, hogs, etc , let punishment be the result. Almost a Fatality. Mr. George Baxter, while working at Nassau, on the Trent Valley canal, met with an accident which nearly cost him his life, and by which a valuable horse was drowned. It appears that Mr. Baxter drove the horse, which was attached to a cart, to the bank of the river to give him a drink, when the animal in some manner slipped. The current, which is strong at this point, caught the floating cart and swung it around with considerable force. The whole outfit was precipitated into the water along with Mr. Bixter, and all efment was precipitated into the water along with Mr. Bixter, and all efforts to save the horse proved unsuccess ful. The Young Woman Fought a Highway Robber Who Attacked Her Near the Village of Hastings. Hastings, Ont., Nov. 28 .- A good deal of excitement was created in this village Saturday morning when it was reported that a highway robbery had taken place a few miles west of this place the evening before. Miss Katie Walsh, daughter of Michael Walsh, who lives about five miles west of here, had been in the village, and when about two miles and a half out a man suddenly sprang from the side of the road, grabbed the horse by the head and drew him into the bushes. Miss Walsh, with great presence of mind, drew the whip to spur the horse, but saw it would be useless, and instead used it over the villain's head, sprang from the buggy and started to run back the road, all the time calling for Mr. Hoar, whom she had passed on the road shortly before. She was soon overtaken, however, and her purse, con-taining some eight dollars, was taken from her in the scuffie. She attempted to pull a handkerchief which he had tied over his face off, but could not do so.
