ONTARIO AGRICULTURAL AND EXPERIMENTAL UNION MEETING.

We have received a program of the next annual meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union, which is to be held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on the 10th and 11th of December next.

Besides the presentation of and the discussion of the results of the co-operative experiments conducted throughout Ontario, addresses will be delivered by the following noted specialists: John Dryden, minister of agriculture for the province of Ontario; Hon. Sidney Fisher, minister of agriculture for the Dominion of Canada; Prof. Chas. E. Theobald, director of the Ontario experimental station, Wooster, Ohio; Mrs. J. Hoodless, principal of the school of domestic science, Hamilton, Ontario; Mr. Thos. Grainer, author of 'How to Make the Garden Pay,' etc., La Salle, New York; and Wm. Rennie, farm superintendent, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

From a letter written by Prof. J. W. Robertson, we also make a quotation as follows: 'I do not know of any organization which illustrates more fully the great gain which comes to the farmer through co-operation, than the experimental union in carrying on co-operative experiments in agriculture and dairying.'

The Canadian Post.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, DEC. 4, 1896.

DIFFICULTIES OF TELEPHONE COMPETITION.

A writer in the New York Post says: When a new telephone company attempts to secure a foothold in a large city it finds that one of the great problems it must solve lies, not in the total number of subscribers it can secure, but in the number of desirable subscribers that will be secured.

A second problem, and one not so difficult of solution as that of securing the necessary desirable subscribers, is to secure the capital necessary to construct a modern telephone plant. A city of 100,000 subscribers, if the plant is to be properly constructed for less than from $100 a subscriber to $150 a subscriber, depending on the quality of the material used, is a plant the high average cost per subscriber. A first-class telephone plant having a switchboard capacity of 100,000 lines would probably require an investment of $500,000 to complete every detail in a modern plant.

Thus we find that after years of suffering and helplessness Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved successful after all other remedies and the best medical treatment had utterly failed. With such marvelous cures as this to its credit it is no wonder that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the most popular medicine with all classes throughout the land, and in this case certainly justifies the claim put forth on its behalf that it "cures when other medicines fail."
