LINDSAY, FRIDAY, DEC. 11, 1896

NOT FOR THE GRABBERS.

When recently there was found for the first time in this province a deposit of a variety of coal at Chelmsford, north of Lake Huron, and near the celebrated Sudbury nickel mines, there was at once a rush of speculators to grab up the wild public lands in that vicinity. But the administration of the Hon. A. S. Hardy was not to be caught napping. Five thousand acres adjacent were reserved from entry until plans are devised to let them on terms at once fair to operating capital, and adequately safeguarding to the people's interest in the public domain. This is just as it should be-Canada for the Canadians and not for the grabbers.

EDITORIAL NOTES

This is a great country, this Canada of ours. If you don't like the weather all you have to do is wait for a few hours and it will change. You can have the whole Mr. Sootheran charges me with the gamut of the seasons run for you in fortyeight hours.

One of the important electrical projects of the day is that of the Keewatin Power Company to convey 5,000 horse-power of electricity from the Lake of the Woods to Winnipeg. The distance to be covered is Winnipeg may be a Manchester yet.

The refusal of the St. Boniface school trustees to pass a resolution of protest against the school settlement is important, if the facts are accurately stated. It makes it appear as if the Manitoba Catholies had had enough of turmoil, and were willing to accept peace at almost any price.

Up in Glasgow a few nights ago Hon. John Morley was twice stopped in the course of an address in St. Andrew's hall and compelled to apologize for using "England" instead of "Britain." These hard-headed Scots can't be induced to believe that the part includes the whole.

Premier Laurier's settlement of the Manitoba school question was his birthday gift to the people of Canada. On the day on which he announced the settlement he was just 55 years of age. Inasmuch as that settlement enunciated again the doctrine of provincial rights and guaranteed the religious privileges of all classes, it was a gift worthy of the ruler of a free people.

Stratford Beacon: Judging by the evidence which the tariff commission is receiving just now, what this country wants is protection and plenty of it. It should be remembered, however, that the people who are speaking now have been fed for years on government pap in one form or another, and have not yet been weaned. They speak, too, for their own selfish interests. The people of the country at large spoke last June, and they spoke unmistakeably for tariff reform.

The prohibitionists in the States cut rather a sorry figure in the late election.

Four years ago they had only one candiate and they had only one candiate date, and they polled 279,000 votes; this year they had four candidates, and polled only 130,000. In some southern states they made gains. In Georgia they polled they polled they made gains. In Georgia they polled they polled they made gains. In Georgia they polled they polled they made gains. The Mayor's Salary. [To the Editor of THE POST.]

SIR,-Now that we have heard the last of the ballot question, I think it is quite in order to discuss the question of the mayor's salary. The council can give no reason why the mayor should get a salary, while a dozen good reasons can be given why none should be paid. With a bonded debt of a quarter of a million; our assessed value fully 20 per cent. too high, as will be shown, I think, by the report of the county valuators now at work; with a rate of 25 mills on the dollar, and our streets the very worst in Ontario; with plenty of first class material willing and ready at any moment to serve the town as mayor for the honor that is in it—why, I ask, should any member of the council try to "bond the town," as Reeve Ray very nicely puts it, for "still another five thousand"? I maintain, Mr. Editor, that the council has no authority from the ratepayers to establish a precedent of that kind. Let the ratepayers decide that on January 4th. RATEPAYER,

The Mayor's Salary. [To the Editor of THE POST.]

SIR,-Your correspondent, "Ratepayer," objects to paying a salary to the mayor. The penurious system advocated by "Ratepayer" has been the means in the past of providing rather light weight material for a seat at the council board. He relies too much on the honor conferred, and forgets that men of ability confer honor not only on the position, but on the town, and in order to secure ability you must pay for it, and until you are willing to pay you can-not get the services of competent men. This is the true meaning of a 25 mill rate on the dollar of assessment, as it is at

If in the past the town had paid efficient men for managing their affairs, instead of securing the services of incompetent men who wanted the honor for nothing, it would have been in much better position financially. Ability has a price which can only be secured by cash or an equivalent; the empty honor of the mayor's chair alone is not sufficient to secure it, but accom-read with interest: The motion introduced by Mr. J. Cowan and carried by the Oshawa sufficient to provide against any possibility | board of education on Monda of loss, and you will have no difficulty in having your town affairs properly ad- appointments of teachers, may not appear ministered, and until you do you will have | to be a questionable move at first sight. to take pot luck. Sometimes you may secure a fairly good council for a year at a time, but at the end of the term the good men see clearly that in order to do their duty to the town they are called upon to lose too much time for nothing, and they quietly drop out, preferring to pay the ever increasing rate of taxation occasioned by bad management rather than remain in a position without proper compensation. Time is money, and the public cannot secure it for nothing any more than a private individual can, and the man who expects to get it is rather small potatoes. If the position is worth filling, it is worth filling well, and you cannot fill it profitably until you are willing to pay. It seems to me that the matter most requiring criticism in public matters at present is the school board .- Yours faith-

Examination Fees. [To the Editor of THE POST.] SIR,-At the departmental examinations this summer there were 67 candidates who paid a fee of $7 each. In the case of 13 of these there was no difference of opinion, but as to the others, in a most unaccount able way Mr. Harstone mis-read the regulations, and told the candidates that the fee was $5. As he was so very positive that he was right, I consented, against my own judgment, to receive $5 instead of $7. The result was that I not only received a snub from the education department for my carelessness, but I had to collect forthwith an additional two dollars from each of the 54 candidates. As this was an unexpected claim, and as some of the candidates were reduced to the necessity of borrowing the money, I promised that, if the state of the finances warranted it, would ask the trustees to refund one dollar to each candidate who had paid $7. It is possible that in the case of some schools it may have taken every dollar of the fees to pay the expenses, but the L'ndsay trustees made a clear profit, over and above all expenses, of one hundred and sixty-three dollars out of the fees of the candidates.

write the letter signed "Citizen."

Mr. Sootheran says I am a member of the board of education, and, as such, voted by ballot on the election of Mr. Fred. Reeves as caretaker of a town school. Now, I have never been in the position to yote by ballot or otherwise on Mr. Reeves application. As a fact, I never gave such a vote, therefore I have never "swallowed myself," as Mr. Sootheran pute it, on the ballot question. In this case I never did Mr. S. has written two letters to tell

I accept the explanation Mr. S. gives of the annuity by-law. My information was I must hesitate to ancept the statement refer him to the closing paragraph of his second letter, wherein he says the faults I complained of concerning committee meetings had been remedied in the new rules to suit my views. Mayor Smyth said the same thing in council, and Mr. S. was probably his authority. I leave the mayor and Mr. S. to explain this matter at next council meeting. Yours,-

Hard on the Settler and Shipper. It appears that a short time ago Mr. C. J. Pusey, manager of the I. B. & O. R. R. made a further advance in freight rates, which were already very high, the result being that contractors for timber, wood and other forest produce find it impossible to pay the charges and allow the settlers a reasonable remuneration for cutting and delivering at the railway. A Dangerous Move. As there has been considerable discussion in our columns on the subject of the ballot in council, the following taken from the Whitby Caronicle will no doubt be read with interest : The motion introduced use the ballot at the board in voting on but upon inspection it will be found that it leads to a most dangerous method of doing public business. Mr. Cowan's ground for moving the motion was to enable members of the board to secretly vote against the recommendations of the school maragement committee when so disposed, without leaving themselves liable to be singled out as opponents. As a matter of law we do not believe such acts would stand. Elections are held to enable ratepayers to review the conduct of their rethe motion was ruled out of order, as it secret. By looking into this matter a little ratepayers will see that the ballot Was ever anything more reasonable than my request? Was ever anything more unreasonable than the refusal of the truswould prevent them from knowing which of their representatives served them well, and which otherwise. This would be worse than an absolute form of government, underwhich we would at least know who did the mischief and who did well.

A Postscript. [To the Editor of THE POST.]

Sootheran's last letter force me to ask the favor of a little more space. I shall be brief, as I do not wish to earn Mr. Graham's reproach that I am "a very verbose man." authorship of a letter, signed "Citizen," reflecting on the way he handles tenders for wood. not correct or complete. I had the newspaper reports only for authority, and they do not go as far as Mr. S. goes. Many, however, say my information was full enough to prove my case, but I give Mr. S. all the advantage of this point. I contended that the public should be informed of what takes place in committee. How different the ballot affair would look if it had been published in the press that, at the last committee meeting before the council meeting at which the ballot matter came up, it had really been agreed upon to drop out the ballot clause completely! See how important these committee meetings are?

Gooderham to a cheque for $2,700, was tried at the Toronto criminal assizes on Monday. Mr. W. G. Murdoch defended the prisoner, bringing evidence to endeavor to establish that the young man was not responsible for his action when the cheque was presented. After three-quarters of an hour deliberation the jury returned a verdict of guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy.

presentates, but the use of the ballot in the crdinary proceedings at the board would hide the conduct of its members from public scrutiny. Thus the whole object of frequent elections would be dest oyed. The Municipal World, a recognized authority, takes the ground that where the law does not expressively permit bal-loting there shall be none. Two of the best authorities on municipal law in this country informs us that the use of the ballot would not be legal or proper at the board of education unless an open vote were afterwards taken for final adoption of the report. Tals, of course, would erable any member to force a recording of the yeas and nays, and would at once expose the secret vote, which we presume the Oshawa board is bound to prevent. Balloting was moved by a member of the Whitby town council two years ago, but was held to be in conflict with our munisipal law and the proper idea of representtative government. Teachers are the servants of the board, and why should members fear them. We are told that some members promise to vote for every applicant, and then are in a fix. A mem-ber who will do this, or who is afraid to let people know how he votes away their money, should at once resign his functions to a more stalwart man, and if he does not resign the people should ask him to do so, or else get rid of him at the first opportunity. There is not a man sitting at the Oshawa school board, or any other board, who is so wise and just that he can be trusted to vote the people's interests in
