On secount of the dry weather last spring I found the house cellars in better condition than usual, the occupants generally trying to submit to the laws relative to ventilation and cleanpremises of the cheese factory at Little Woodville and Little Britain, I was compelled to increase my visits to those places to keep down the nulsances. In the course of my inspection I have caused many yards, privies and pig pens to be cleaned, while some pens were removed. After notifying the secretaries of the various schools to attend to sanitary duties connection with their respective schools, I made an inspection of these places and found things improving. I found good water at s.s. Nos. 3, 5, 10, 11, 15, 17; bad water at Nos 4, 8, 14, 16, 18; well dry at Nos. 6 and 7; no well at Nos. 1, 9, 12, 13, 19, 20. In conclusion, I am glad to state that there is each year an improvement in things, and an effort on the part of citizens to comply with the health by laws. Raspectfully yours, J. M. INDIGNANT.—Public opinion is excited over a rise in the freight rate on the I. B. & O. railway. A timber buyer (Mr. Doody) purchased last year, and was in this, and had men making squared birch, ash and pine timber for export. When a considerable quantity was prepared the freight rate is raised to $30 per thousand, and the rate on cordwood from 50cts, to $1 per cord, for the 17 miles between this and the junction. A wood buyer, Mr. LePlant. who would have bought under the former rate, 3,000 cords, now declines to come in, and some other buyers who had contracted to take out, have stopped, and will only take what is cut at present. Mr. Doody has sent away his men, and now has men examining the country to find a road to and across Cockelong lake to Dysart station to take a quantity of timber pur-chased at Ursa and around Big and Little Bear lakes. It is considered there would be only nine miles, as the crow files, to this point, and if the output of shingles from the mill, as well as the timber, went this route, there would be a well broken

COBOURG P. O. CASE.

Seager Will Report That the $100 Was Really a Payment for Mr. Sykes' Resignation, Cobourg, Dec. 4.-In the Cobourg Postoffice investigation case, which was concluded here yesterday, the following decision was given out by Commissioner Charles Seager, Q.C., to-day. He will report to the Government that the $1000 transaction was a most colorable one, and really a payment for Mr. Sykes' resigna-tion; that Mrs. Schwabe, Edwin Guillet and George Guillet were parties in the transaction, and that Mr. J. W. Bickle knew the true nature of the transaction when he endorsed the note. As to Charles Guillet, there were a number of circumter, and he was the beneficiary. Some four or five years ago Mrs. Macpherson sent her eldest daughter to New York. While there she resided with her uncle and attended school, being then only about sixteen years of age. The social life of her temporary home made rather severe demands upon her time, and being ambitious she was anxious to make rapid progress in her studies. In each particular she enjoyed a covetable measure of success, but at no small cost. Many remarked her paleness and loss of color.

She began to feel tired and weak after a little exercise, such as a short walk.

Miss Macpherson's stay in New York lasted about two years. All this time she ate and slept fairly well. In the spring of 1893 she came home, and her mother could not but remark how changed her daughter was-pale and languid instead of being bright and ruddy.

Thinking that nourishing food and perfect quiet, with judicious exercise, would restore the lost vigor and ruddy glow, it was participated into the fullest extent.

For a month this was tried, but still

Miss Macpherson was as pale as before, liable to turns of weakness and with an insatiable desire for sleep. At this juncture the family doctor was consulted.

Iron pills were prescribed and a trip to the Thousand Islands taken, the stay lasting about six weeks, during which time everything was done to help her recovery. The friends with whom she stayed came to regard her recovery as extremely doubtful, and when she returned home her mother saw no improvement.

IN 1897. ALL NEW FEATURES, the leading American Magazine, its table of contents including each month the best in literature and art.

The present interest in American history makes especially timely a Great Novel of the American Revolution its leading serial feature for 1897 and the musterpiece of its author, Dr. S. Weir Mitchell. The story. Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker." pu ports to be the autobiography of its hero, an officer on Washington's Social life in Philadelphia at the time of the revolution is most interestingly depicted, and the aracters incl. de Washington, Franklia Lafayette, and others well known in history. It is safe to say from it a clear idea of the people who were foremost in revolutionary days, and of the social life of the times, than can be had from any other single source. The work is not only historically accurate but is a most interesting story of love and war. The first chapters are in the November number, Howard Pyle will Campaigning with Grant, by General preparation for many years. General Porter sus aide on General Grant's staff and a close fried of his chief, and the diary which he kept through the war is the basis of the present articles, which are striking pen pictures of campaign life and scenes. They will be fully illustrated. The first one is in the A New Novel by Marion Crawford.
