Ottawa, Dec. 13.-(Special.)-It announced that immediately the new year is ushered in the Tariff Committee of the Cabinet will make arrangements to hear delegations from farmers' organizations, for the purpose of obtaining their views on the suggested tariff revision. Hitherto nearly all the evidence submitted has been in favor of the maintenance of the present tariff, or increased pro-tection, but it has been decided that

Last month the revenue from customs alone fell away by $267,291. The net decrease in revenue for five months

The oil boom in Bothwell has led to GRAND CONCERT. -On Christmas night | many enquiriles being sent to the Geoborings for oil in that district many years ago. In 1865-67 there was quite a boom in Bothwell and many wells were sunk, but unfortunately accurate "logs" of the operations were not kept. Dr. Dawson, Director of the Geological Survey, points out that it would be a great advantage to the survey and would enable information to be readily given to applicants if a careful record were kept of boring work as it proceeds. In this way there would soon be obtained a clear knowledge of the underground structure of the whole of the Ontario Peninsula. The greatest depth to which boring for oil or natural gas has been carried in Ontario is 2400 feet. The wells in the Petrolea oil field average from 350 to 400 feet. As the Bothwell district promises to be a very prolific one, it would be well for prospectors to act upon Dr. Dawson's suggestion. Mr. Nat Boyd, M. P., arived here today from the south. During the past two or three weeks he has been buying stock in Kentucky, and has shipped a carload of yearling thoroughbreds from the famous blue grass region to his ranch at Carberry. Mr. Boyd is doing good work for the improvement of Manitoba stock. Dr. W. T. Bradley, son of Mr. A. P. Bradley of Ottawa, was married in France, on Nov. 24, at Dinard, Brittany, to Mile. Antoinette, youngest daughter of the late M. Paul Robberechts of Dinard. Recently Dr. Bradley, who is a B. A. of Toronto University, and M. D. of McGill, passed his qualifying examinations for membership in the Royal College of Surgeons, England, and for licentiateship of the Royal College of Physicians. Dr. Bradley intends returning to Ottawa Speaking of his intentions in regard to Canadian public works, Mr. Tarte said yesterday that not a single undertaking of importance will be commenced without a personal knowledge of the situation. He has covered the western country now, he says, and will visit the Maritime Provinces and Ontario in due time. Hon. L. H. Davies leaves for Ottawa Montreal parties will apply to Par-

and New Year's. AGAIN READY FOR AN EDGE.

Barbers say that the best razors in their shops sometimes become temporarily useless, not from breakage or injury, but from the loss of the capacity to receive an edge At such times honing and strapping are in Taught by experience, the barber knows what to do. He simply places the razor in its case and lays it away. In a few weeks he brings it forth again, sharpens it without trouble, and finds that it cuts as well as ever. Curtlers and machinist are familiar with this peculiarity of iron and steel. Metals that are called upon to endure a straic, especially with motion and friction, must have periods of rest entirely irrespective of any outward signs of weakness or frac ure. They must have a nap; they must go to

Now, whatsoever disturbs sleep is an nemy of man, and whatsoever does so in vast number of cases (and continuously) destroys human sanity, numan health, and human life-as no other enemy has power to do. What, then, did so infernal an office for these two women? They will tell us, one after the other. The first says: "In April, 1877, I felt tired and worn out. At first I had a bad taste in the mouth and a thickly coated tongue. I could eat but little, and even that pained and distressed me. My sleep was so disturbed with horrid dreams that I got little rest at night. Then my legs became hot and painfal and began to swell. For thirteen weeks I could hardly get across the flor. Later on I had a bad asthmatic cough and could scarcely draw my breath. I was in this condition over a year. I took blood mixtures and other medicines and got no better. Then l heard of Mother Seiger's Curative Syrup, and a few weeks' use of it restored my appetite, my strength, and my sleep. All the other bad symptoms also left me, and I now feel like a woman created anew. (Signed) Mrs. Elizabeth Clawson, Wel-

bourne, near Lincoln, November 15 h, The second lady says: "Ia the early part of 1880 I became ill without understanding the reason why. My mouth tasted badly, my tongue was furred, my appetite poor, and I had strange pains in the chest. sides, and between the shoulder-blades. I lost a deal of sleep, and my rest was disturbed with horrid dreams. I could not shake off the profound nervous depression that had seized upon me. I took no pleasure or interest in anything. I was too ill to go about, but not ill enough to lie up altogether. I had been in this miserable condition for eighteen months when I first read of Mother Seigel's Syrup, and what it had done for other persons afflicted and oppressed as I was. I bought the Syrup at Mr. Wells' Stores in Salisbury, and after taking it a few days felt greatly relieved, and after using two bottles I went about as bright and well as ever, and have erjoyed good health and good rest since then. (Signed) Mrs. Amelia Whitlock,

The Green, Bright Waltham, Wantage, Barke, December 7th, 1893." If the disease from which these ladies suffered-indigestion and dyspepsia-were to be dreaded for no other reason, its fearful effects on the nervous system would brand it as the most dangerous ail ment known to man. It is the frui fal source of "horrid dreams" and of the neryous disorders of which they are the sign. Let women notice and remember the cur: For, if cold machinery must sleep, all the more must human beings have there regular hours in which both body and mind are beyond life's labors and cares.

The imperial war office has just given an order for 240,000 pounds of corned beef to the Ramornie Meat Company, Australia. The American companies have supplied the greater part hitherto. Why do not some enterprising people go into the canning business in the North-West? There will be no embargo on their exports.
