FOREST HILL.

[Correspondence of THE POST.] Social.-The annual entertainment of the Forest Hill Sunday school, held in the schoolhouse on Thursday evening, Dec. 2nd, consisted of a basket social and entertainment, and was a grand success both socially and financially, the school room being filled to the doors with as good-natured a crowd as was eyer seen. The chair was ably filled by the Rev. Geo. Brown, of Cannington. The proceeds amounted to $36 50, a result largely due to Mr. Peter Brown, auctioneer, of Mariposa, whose ability and genial off-hand way, together with the beautiful baskets, seemed to capture the bidders. "Those having anything to sell by public auction could not do better than to secure Mr. Brown for auctioneer," was the verdict passed by all the older heads present. Everybody came with the intention of having a good time, and all went away well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

BUSINESS CHANGE -Mr. Nell Clarke, merchant tailor, of Cacnington, has bought the tailoring stock of A. J. Smith at a low rate on the dollar. Clothes will now be sold very cheap, as I understand Mr. Clarke will take all kinds of farmers' produce in line of cash, so now no man need go naked, as a a cow, or wood, or eggs, or buster still, will cover his nakedness. Notes.-Mr. Archie Campbell has completed his grist mill, and is now running day and night to keep up with the demand. Mr. Donald Grant, of the len, is now installed in the fine new house built for him by Mr. Wm. McLean. There are a great many more besides Mr. Grant, good farmers retiring from hard labor, who would be better satisfied if they moved into the towns or villages, leaving their strong, able sons to work the land, Tile the old folks take a well deserved

DEGRACEFUL. -Last week I had occasion had committed an unmentionable crimein fact a crimical assault case- I was horrifled to observe a great number of young women and girls crowding the corridor, the court room doors being opened on account of the great heat arising from the of court here on Tuesday, Dec. 7th ... We vast crowd of spectators. Now, it seems | regret to hear that the condition of Mr. A. to me these young ladies were awfully Thornton is unchanged. anxious to catch the evidence as it was uttered by the poor, simple girl who stood there trembling in the witness box. They for life in the person of Miss Hetherington, ran up the gallery stairs and stood at the side door, and with more effrontery, actually stood behind gentlemen at the main entrance eagerly listening to what they could catch until these gentlemen actually blushed to see them there. Surely those young female persons lack modesty Does it not show a morbid curiosity to be. so eager to hear language that would make a gentleman blush? Why, here in Woodville our girls would not enter a court of justice unless forced to do so by law. Why is it different in Lindsay, where young women are supposed to to educated, and many of whom are likely to have the educating of children. How can they even in thought have such a degrading tendency? Lord bless you, girls, if you have not modesty by nature, please assume it; remember you are to be in mothers of the future generation. I also noticed a large number of school boys enter the building and push their way into prominent places.

Is there not a law to prevent young lads from entering criminal courts, particularly on such occasions? Perhaps I am wrong in speaking of or noticing the young girls present on this occasion—they may have been the daughters of the "New Women"

Why not put them on the jury list—they could then see and hear everything. In my opinion all cases of a criminal court nature should be heard with closed doors, thus excluding the morbid mind ed and scandal-loving public, and it would not be amies to seal the keyholes. VERITAS PREVALEBIT.
