THE TRANSPORTATION ROUTES

The increase in volume of the grain-conveying trade by the Parry Sound and Midland-Grand Trunk railway routes continues to excite the uneasy interest of the Toronto papers. Because western grain brought on big lake vessels seeks the shortest cheapest routes to eastern markets and to tide-water, and these routes do not happen to pass through Toronto, or is not handled again at that place, the Toronto papers and politicians are grievously alarmed. The World, for instance, is writing up a projected faid on the Provincial and Dominion treasuries to build a double track air line railway from Collingwood to Toronto, with "necessary terminals in the city" to convey most quickly and cheaply, it is claimed, grain cargoes from Georgian Bay vessels to Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence vessels assembled in Toronto harbor. "The whole country" remarks the World, "will be behind "any project that reduces the cost of "any transportation. Toronto will "receive the support of the North-west "as well as of Ontario in any efforts "it may make to reduce the cost "carrying grain to the seaboard." How very kind and public-spirited, and enterprising and generous Toronto is with provincial and Dominion funds to construct cheap through lines and expensive terminals in, for and through Toronto. But would there not be a different tune if it were proposed, for instance, to ask for two or three millions to double track and improve the Midland route-say from Midland City, the best and deepest harbor on Georgian Bay-through Lindsay to say Belleville, - where transhipment could be made to St. Lawrence boats if found desirable? Could not a much stronger case be made out for a project of this kind? Would it not receive the support of the whole province and all the North-west more promptly and heartily than the Toronto route? And yet, if we were to demonstrate its superiority in every way, the Midland route would not receive a tittle of support from most of the Toronto papers, merely because the grain cargoes would not be dumped into eastgoing vessels huddled in their dirty little bay.

is preparing plans to get a Dominion half-million or so spent on improving its harbor facilities. There is no doubt on general public grounds Toronto harbor should be greatly improved in many ways. It was systematically neglected during the conservative regime, and the country will LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS cordially support Mr. Tarte in taking up this important question and dealing with it in a progressive and generous way. Mr. Tarte should and no doubt will deal with the Toronto harbor question in the same enterprising, and cleanliness helps to restore what public-spirited and far-seeing way have been stolen by reckless exposure that he has dealt with the Montreal to summer wind and sun, and rain and harbor question. But he should insist! fog, Our great stock of Baby's Own | emphatically upon one condition before Soap, Infant's Delight Soap. he spends one dollar on Toronto har-Florida Water, German Co. bor. He should insist that the bay logue, etc., will keep you along should be kept clean, and not made receptacle for the city sewage. It would be unwise to spend public money on harbor improvements that would be steadily depreciated in value by the unsanitary conditions that Torontonians permit and appear to enjoy in connection with the bay, but which to most outsiders are "rank and smell to heaven."

We had occasion to allude recently to the parochial spirit displayed by the Toronto papers in discussing the transportation question, and in fact any provincial project that does not directly benefit Toronto. We are bound to say that the Globe has been reviewing the transportation problem in a broader spirit. It has pointed out that Montreal must be the national port, in equipping which with the best modern im- patrons were well satisfied with the reprovements the whole country is most interested. Not in the interest of 'Montreal but in the interest of forty years in existence it has still the great mass of producers of Canada, "that port must be provided with terminal facilities sufficient for the rapidly expanding business of the country; the pilotage dues should be lessened, or even cut in two; the chan- morning, to their heart's content. 'nel of the lower St. Lawrence should be deepened, straightened, swept and to soon see him on the mend.....Mr. A. "as well buoyed as the St. Mary's river A. Burnett's infant child is very sick "which connects Lake Superior with at present. "the lower lakes, and where the buoys Mr. Richard Dark, of Lindsay, was 'are so numerous that the most stupid rock or shoal unless he shut his eyes : and everything else should be done to attract new lines and tramp steam-'ers to do our business." That is the proper and the patriotic view. These sentiments are what should have expected from the Globe, speaking for the whole country. Improvements on a large scale in harbor and terminal facilities must be promptly made at Montreal, and the channel to the sea must be greatly improved, if Canada is to have its share of the grain conveying trade. As a result of improvements already made, and the enterprising and vigorous policy Mr. Hays, the new Grand Trunk manager, there has been an increased grain shipment of twenty million bushels this season. It is a business that will expand enormously in value. It is gratifying to find that the present Dominion government appreciates the importance and magnitude of the work, and have adopted an energetic and progressive policy. We may feel assured that by wise and liberal expenditure they will prepare for the great result that may be confidently expected. But Montreal should do its share. There is enormous wealth in Montreal; that city should follow the example of Buffalo in providing better terminal facilities if it wishes to rise equal to the great occasion and to secure a large proportion of the enormous trade volumes pouring from the west down to the sea.

With proper terminal fac.lities a Montreal the already large conveying trade by the Midland route will be enormously increased. Mr. Hays has been quietly making extensive improvements at Midland, Lindsay and other places along the line to provide for the enlarg- about a great boom in all kinds of ed business, which we should not be surprised to see quadrupled in another year or two. The Midland-Lindsay route is just as advantageous in every way as the Parry Sound route. Al it requires is proper terminals and the Rev. Mr. Dean, of Sunderland, ensome grade improvements, and then to tertained the large audience. Both are work it for all it is worth. That appears to be Mr. Hay's policy, and he is evidently going to carry it out with the quiet energy that appears to be his characteristic.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS.

The sound of battle is in the air, and the five bye-elections which will be held on the 14th inst. will give an opportunity, sufficiently definite-and extended to form a reasonably accurate estimate of the feeling in the country generally towards the government. Of the quintette of contests, two will be in Ontario, viz., North Simcoe, rendered vacant by the lamentable death of Mr. Dalton McCarthy, and West Lambton, vacated by the late Mr. M. C. Cameron on his appointment to the lieutenantgovernorship of the Territories; two are in Quebec, in Bagot, which lost its late member, Mr. F. Dupont, by death, and in Montmagny, where the representative, Mr. P. A. Choquette, has left the political arena for the bench; and one in Prince Edward Island, East Prince, the representative, of which-Mr. J. Yeo-has gone to the upper chamber. It is over twelve months since an opportunity was last given to a constituency to pronounce upon federal issues, and much has occurred in the meantime, that much however, is fearlessly claimed by the government as an addition to a record of which they have no reason to be ashamed. If general indications are good for any- evening, 5th inst., and was addressed thing, the results, when announced on by Mr. Chambers, the agent of next Thursday night week, will be in the same class with those attending the already been held since the present government assumed office.

The provincial bye-election in East Northumberland, rendered necessary by the unseating of Mr. Douglas, the late liberal member, takes place on the same

Mr. Fell won the two games. Mr. Dark complained about the checker board and checkers being so dark that he could not see them, so Mr. Fell went to the Falls and got a new board and new checkers, and played Mr. Dark again in the evening, resulting as follows: One game for Mr. Dark and ten for Mr. Fell-a victory for Mr. Feil of 122 games to Mr. Dark's one.

NORTH VERULAM Mrs. James Heaslip, a most highly respected citizen of Verulam, passed peace fully away last Friday, at the ripe age of 69 years. Mrs. Heaslip was born in Ireland and when quite young moved with her parents to America. She and her sorrowing husband lived in Manvers in her carly married life, but for a great many years they have lived in Verulam. For several years they, lived in Devitt settlement and then moved to her late home on the 6th concession of North Verulam. Mr. and Mrs. Heaslip have done their share to make this township what it is. They have worked hard, and succeeded in building a beautiful home. The deceased looked forward to a few years of enjoyment in the new brick residence which they erected this year, but was only permitted to live in it for about three weeks and then passed on to her house not made by hands. Mrs. Heaslip was a most faithful member of the Methodist church, and her removal will be long left by the society in which she worshipped. The sympathy of all goes to the bereaved husband, daughter and son, in their affliction.-Independent
