Church Matters DEAR SIR, -According to announcement made from the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church last Sabbath, there will be a congregational meeting on Wednesday evening, May 28th, to consider the question of church enlargement. It is to be hoped the office-bearers will be in a position to show the necessity of such enlargement ; that they will have plans, &c., to submit to the meeting, with a close estimate of the cost of the proposed additions. Also, a well devised and feasible scheme for raising the funds necessary to carry. out the work successfully. At the same time would it not be well for the meeting to consider other matters connected with the best interests of the Church. It is well known that a large number of the members and adherents of the Church favour the introduction of an organ in the Church, to aid in the psalmody. A compliance with their wishes in this respect would no doubt increase the enthusiast and co-operation cannot well be dispensed with in this undertaking. It is not necessary to enter into a discussion of the organ question at this time of day, as all admit its advantages, and those who have see and admit the folly of opposing the inevitable. Yours, VIDETTE inevitable. Yours,
