

GRAVEYARDS.

(From a Correspondent.)
PRESENTATION.—On Tuesday evening, the 20th inst., the members of Palladium Temple, No. 422, E. O. of G. T., met at the residence of J. T. Kirkpatrick, Esq., to bid farewell to their esteemed sister, Miss Ellen Magee, who is removing from here to her home in the eastern part of Ontario. During the evening the Rev. Walter Wright, W. C., was called to the chair, to present an address and a token some copy of the Holy Bible, as a hand- some gift to the young lady. The estimation in which that young lady is held by the members of the Temple- Miss Magee has identified herself with the Temperance cause in this village since the subject was first broached, and has done much, by her active zeal and sympathy in the cause, to keep the little spark in this desert place alive, and increase its brilli- cency. On behalf of Miss Magee, Bro. Tho. Nisbet replied in very feeling terms, ex- pressing regret at parting with friends amongst whom she had spent so many happy and profitable hours. She hoped that if it ever befell her to visit Graveney, she would find that the cause had prospered, and if the liquor traffic was not abolished, it would be so far dis- minished in this neighbourhood, as to resemble a mere speck in an ocean of Temperance. After an hour cheerfully spent in home like little speeches, and song, the company sang the National An- them, bid farewell to their esteemed sister, and departed to their several homes at a true temperance hour.
 The Wesleyan Methodists are making preparations for building a church in this village. The building is to be a handsome one by 50 feet, and will be a handsome orna- ment to the village, when completed. The committee bought a lot, near the centre of the village, last fall, and got the stone foundation built, ready for an early start in the spring.
 We were in error in stating that Mr. A. McKay is contractor for building the new dwelling for Miss Moffatt. Mr. John Fox has the contract.
