TT contains Notices of the Political, Social and Moral Questions of the day; Agricultural and Commercial Notices; an Epitome of the General and Local News of the Week, together with carefully selected Miscellaney.

In remitting money, or desiring a change of address, subscribers should not neglect to give the name of the Post-office where they have been receiving the paper. Many correspondents simply give the name of the Township in which they reside, forgetting to state the post-office, thus causing trouble and loss of time. Letters containing money, if paid and registered, will be at

TERMS:—$1.00 per annum, if paid within three months from the time of subscribing; or $1.50 will positively be charged if not paid within that P. MURRAY, PROPRIETOR.

County Officials.

TAMES SMITH. County Judge. Office in the Court House,

TEIL McDOUGALL, Y Sheriff. Office in the Court House, Lindsay

LACOURSE. Office in Keenan's Block, Lindsay. WILLIAM GRACE, . Clerk of the County Court, and Registrar of the Surrogate Court. Office in the Court House, Lindsay. C C. WOOD. O. County Clerk and Official Assignce. Office in the Court House, Lindsay, TAMES MCKIBBIN.

Clerk of the Division Court. Office in the H. Registrar. Office corner of William and

M. ROCHE. Of. Crown Land Agent. Office on William | And while fair weather and frost together, Professional Cards.

SMITH & SMITH, Barristers, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries, &c., &c., Office over Mr. Beall's store. BON, SIDNEY SMITH, Q.C.

LACOURSE. Barrister, Attorney-at-Law, Conveyancer, &c. Office-Keenan's Block, Kent-st., Lindsay. CAMERON & DORMER.

Barristers, and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Notaries Public, &c. HECTOR CAMERON, M.A. | GEORGE DORMER, B.A. DENNISTOUN & HUDSPETH, Barristers, Attorneys, Solicitors and No-

taries Public. Near Ontario Bank, Lindsay. J. F. DENNISTOUN. ADAM HUDSPEYH. MACKAY & HEAP, Barristers, Attorneys, &c. Office-Over

Bertram Brothers' Hardware Store, Kempt's Block, Kent-st., Lindsey. Agency of the Liverpool and London Fire and Life Insurance

T W. & GEO. DUNSFORD'S Law . and Chancery Offices, over C. Britton's Let your title-deeds be clear and bright, D S. MARTIN, . Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c. Solicitor FOR THE ONTARIO BANK. Office over T. Foley & Co's Hardware store, Keenau's Block, Lindsay.

A RTHUR O'LEARY, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor, &c. Office-Knewlson's Block, corner Kent and William streets, Lindsay. Entrance on William street.

DRS. MARTIN & TWEEDIE,
Physicians, Surgeons, &c., Lindsey and State of McGill University. Medical coto the Britannia, North British and Mer-

BENSON, M.D., 1. Cate of Peterborough,) Graduate of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York, and also of Victoria College, Canada; Physician, Surgeon, and Accoucheur. Office first door north of Boynton's Hotel, William Street, Lindsay.

R. COGAN, M. D., . Physician, Surgeon, &c., at Medical Hall from 9 a.m. till 12; and 2 till 5 p.m. Residence Lindsay Street.

THOS. W. POOLE, M.D., Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur. Residence and Office-House recently occupied by Mr. J. Kennedy, corner of William and Russell streets, Lindsay.

LA A. HERRIMAN, M.D., Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, Wellington street, Lindsay. Office and Residence -In the Blue Cottage back of the Methodist

Business Cards.

WM. MARGACH, Land Agent for the Counties of Victoria Ontario and Durham. Office-Brick house west of the Union School, Lindsay.

DROF, J. B. JENKINS, Albert of Wales," Grand March and Waltz), respectfully proposes giving instructions on the Piano, Harmonium, Violin, Thorough-bass and Composition; Tuning included. Lindsay

DOYAL OAK HOTEL, GAMBRIDGE, Centre Road, WM. MUNRO, Proprietor. travelling community will find good accommodacigars. Good stabling. H. Murray, TAHOR.

Shop opposite the Market, Kent Street, Lindsay.

BELL'S HOTEL, William Street, Lindsay.

Special Attention to Travellers.

ST BOARD, SI PER DAY.

Boynton's Hotel,

WILLIAM ST., LINDSAY, WM. N. BOYNTON, - PROPRIETOR.

GEO. WRIGHT, CARRIAGE, SLEIGH, SIGN,

AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTER, Kent Street, Lindsay.

T. S. MOFFATT, ISSUER OF

MARRIAGE LICENSES. At the Elephant Cheap Cash Store, near the Steamboat Wharves, MISSISSAGA ST., ORILLIA. TICTORIA GROCERY AND

LIQUOR STORE. Just received by the subscriber a complete the attention of intending purchasers. HOTEL-KEEPERS will find an extensive and choice assortment of PALE AND DARK BRANDY, Port and Sherry Wine, Holland and Old Tom Gin, and several brands Whiskey.

Cash for Produce. JOHN CHISHOLM, Kent Street, next to Mr. Brown's Store.

ADVERTISER FOR OF VICTORIA.

"MEASURES, NOT MEN."

TERMS: $1.00 PER ANNUM

LINDSAY, ONTARIO: THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1869.

NO. 1.

Poetrn.

P. MURRAY, PROPRIETOR.

VOL, I.

THE REIGN OF AUTUMN. The rust is over the red of the clover. The green is under the gray; And down the hollow the fleet-winged swallow Is flying away, and away.

Fled are the roses, dead are the roses, The glow and the glory done, And down the hollow the steel-winged swallow Flying the way over the sun. In place of the summer a dread new-comer His solemn state renews :

A crimson splendor instead of the tender Daisy, and darling dews. But oh, the sweetest, the full completeness That under this reign are born! Russett and yellow in apples mellow, And wheat and millet and corn.

His frosts so hoary touch with glory Maple and oak and thorn; And rising and falling his winds are calling Like a hunter through his horn.

No thrifty sower but just a mower That comes when the day is done, With warmth a-beaming and gold a-gleaming, Like sunset after the sun. Color the woods so gay

We must remember that chill December Has turned his steps this way. And say as we gather the house together. And pile the logs on the hearth, Help us follow the light little swallow, E'en to the ends of the earth.

YOUR HOUSE. Be true to yourself at the start, young man,

Be true to yourself and God; Ere you build your house, mark well the spot, Test all the ground and build you not On the sand or the shaking sod. Dig, dig the foundations deep, young man, Plant firmly the outer walls;

Let the props be strong and the roof be high, With an open turret towards the sky, Through which the dews may fall. Let this be the room of your soul young man, When shadows shall herald care-A chamber with never a roof or thatch To hinder the light, or door, or latch,

To shut in the spirit's prayer! Build slow and sure, 'tis for life, young man, A life that outlives the breath-For who shall gainsay the Holy Word ? Their works do follow them," saith the Lord, "Therein there is no death."

Build deep, and high, and broad, young man, As the needful case demands Till you enter your claim to the Lord of Light, For the house not made with hands, Miscellaneons.

MAN AND WIFE.

"You wish to delay your decision till you have had an opportunity of further consulting your wife, I presume !" This observation was addressed by a house agent to a young tradesman with whom he had for some time past been in treaty respecting the lease of a shop.

"Consult my wife!" repeated Bradshaw in a tone indicative of surprise and indignation. "No; I would never consult a woman upon a matter of business." "Oh, I beg your pardon," hastily rejoined the wary house agent, secretly rejoicing at having discovered the weak side of the man he was dealing with ; "but I thought you might possibly like Mrs. Bradshaw to see the house. I know the ladies like to have a voice in such matters."

ence I do not really possess, I'll strike the ments which often attend unsound argu-

all the usual methods of drawing the busi- dence her husband was about to take, ness to a close. He had assured him that his rival draper, Mr. Dawkins, had been his rival draper, his rival draper, Mr. Dawkins, had been his rival draper, after it, and that several other persons were however, was vain. "Pshaw—stuff!" mutgency displayed an energy of character cried Bradshaw; and as he spoke, he with I learned a valuable lesson, however, from throwing open their vests, each disclosed in ungodlines eager to have it. These, however, had tered Mr. Bradshaw. It was all he could which was little expected, but which could some difficulty linked his arm within that their experience. Thinks I to myself, when his bosom an ever-burning flame! These view of the failed. Bradshaw still had scruples re- say, for he had not even a lame leg to stand alone be of any avail in saving her from of his companion and bustled towards his I marry, I'll have a wife I can trust, and rent and taxes were exorbitant, and the Mr. Peter Bradshaw's once small and treatment of the unhappy young wife re- abruptly asked after a brief pause... terms of the lease far from favourable; but comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now stored her, in a very short space of time out its length are comparatively unpretending concern now store for his wife's consent, than Hutchinson's a firm, though it had really less ground for dent counsel then induced her to make an ests or my feelings; and she shall have no to the earth; but, as he quitted him, he said Glasgow flourisly as the said end, as he had acutely perceived would be so doing; and fresh placards and advertise- effort for self-support, by means of the foolish enough to let your wife get the up- temptation to deceive me, because she shall willing to allow his wife all the home com- plate-glass, the puffing nor the partner, had had the happiness of accomplishing. She no upper hand in the matter." forts his means would afford, and his manner towards her was not often unkind; but to inspect the wares; and many of those

Mining to anow his wife all the home com	Plate-glass, the putting fresh people
Mining to anow his wife all the home com	Plate-glass, the putting fresh people
Mining to anow his wife all the home com	Ch—oh! that is your opinion, is it?
Was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended, seeing that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon Here, he contended that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon Here, he contended that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon Here, he contended that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended that its was lost in a fit of musing—"depend upon
Here, he contended that its w she must never dare to express an opinion who had been regular customers at the late and taxing him with being the cause of all live with a woman who did not allow me to without mutual confidence. The more a on any subject-the preparation of the shop in Church Street discontinued dealing, the evils which had befallen them. She be master.' dishes for his table, or the dress of his thinking that, in order to make so much did not even vaguely allude to his folly, or "Nor I, my friend; but then I would, that the interests of her husband are her This Hotel has been lately renovated, and the children excepted. We sometimes hear show, the articles must be really inferior. She at the same time, allow her to be mistress." own; and I believe that extravagant, mismention made of individuals who have but Toadd to Mr. Bradshaw's distress, the house merely endeavoured to show him that, howtion, and will receive every attention. Bur alone; and that one was-that it was be- pired, owing to its being in want of a tho- desire to share his fortunes unabated. She influence. neath the dignity of a man to take the rough repair. counsel of a woman. His notion of the Just at this period the attention of the only half-subdued pride with patience, try- door of the house; and the cheerful smile savoury supper, put a stop to the convermental superiority of "the lords of creating to soften the rigour of their present that sat upon Mrs. Bradshaw's countenance, sation, also to poor Bradshaw's reverie; tion" were so towering, that he looked nature. Mr. Bradshaw's eldest brotherhad situation, and selecting opportunities for when told by her husband that he had bro't and in performing the rites of hospitality down upon his gentle spouse with feelings died some years previously, and made him offering wholesome advice, and forming ju- home a guest for the night, and the alacrity to his friend, he forgot, or at least pardoned, bordering on contempt, and consequently his executor, and also the guardian of his dicious plans for the future. Though weak- with which no one ever his telling him a truth which no one ever halia came round, he found himself with a treated her as he would an upper servant, only daughter. The interest of the money minded and imprudent in the extreme, parations for his accommodation, clearly in- had the moral courage to tell him before. whose office it was to administer to his do- was to be appropriated to the young lady's Bradshaw was not an unprincipled man. dicated that the draper's statements were It was nearly three years ere the two mestic comfort. He on his part thought board and education till she became of age, his absorbed again met, and then it was by the speech, began with saying, "Gentlemen, he was discharging his sole duty by finding when it was to be put at her own disposal. his character for integrity was not impeach gave the gentlemen an excellent opportuniher the means to supply a liberal table and Miss Caroline Bradshaw had been brought. ed. Mrs. Bradshaw therefore advised that ty for unrestrained confidence. Rawlins pied contained many useful and ornamental since our last anniversary," &c., &c., the "Well, Martha, I've taken that shop in cation was deemed finished, till within a few ed, and recommence business on a small Mr. Bradshaw could never allude to the the greater part of the evening, Rawlins to the jeers of his companions, he sat out Market Street," the husband exclaimed on months of the expiration of her minority, scale, trusting to the generosity of their circumstances of his late failure in the could not allude to the subject of their last returning home; and as he spoke he threw at which time it was proposed by her uncle former customers for a renewal of their hearing of his wife. The shrewd reader conversation; but he thought, from the himself at full length (which, to own the that she should take up her residence in his favours. She went on to say that she may possibly give a broad guess for what fact of her being present, that there was of a winter's morning, he mounted his horse truth, did not far exceed five feet, notwith- house. As his fair ward had, in addition would cheerfully confine the household exstanding his exalted idea of himself) upon to a pretty face, the attraction of fifteen benditure within the limits of their profits, himself. Rawlins at the request of his host most desired it. At length he found an peared much too high for our means."

not pleased with her vague allusion to the must be the termination of the career he with the part she had taken in the whole "Why, you've been a fortunate fellow, Labor. - Much has been said and sung imprudence of which his conscience accused was pursuing, and she trembled lest her matter. Mrs. Bradshaw, too unostenta- that's all; you always were so; you never about the "dignity of labour," and yet it him of having been guilty. "There is no niece should be involved in the ruin he was tious to feel any desire for commendation, got into the scrapes that I did when you is true that there is a general disposition thing to be done now-a-days without a bringing upon himself, and she feared on was satisfied with accomplishing what she were a boy." great show; and I think I have stayed in them also. She made several appeals to felt to be right, though she would certainly "Fortune has had nothing to do with it, of course many exceptions familiar to us respect may be attributed to the fact that

"The change will be for your benefit, is old enough to choose a husband for her- one of those quiet country towns in which Martha," Mr. Bradshaw interposed; "you self, and I shan't interfere in the matter," the only variations known are the deaths will have the use of three or four additional he on one occasion angrily returned. "I of the elder members of the families, and rooms, and large ones, instead of these lit- would not certainly have any hand in mak- the younger ones springing up in their will have any reason to complain." "I am not complaining, Peter," she re- hands for the use of the firm; but she shall tants had gone on for so many years in the turned; "I am only fearful that you will certainly do as she pleases." The wife had same routine of events, that they looked find it difficult to meet the expenses from next recourse to arguments with the young upon anything which prognosticated adthe other for twenty-one years."

she dared not add more.

passion, as the only means of silencing the judgment of his own sex came again into Peter Bradshaw. His small unpretending my having made use of those qualifications, passion, as the only means of silencing the remonstrances of those who have the most cause to complain; and to this refuge Mr. Bradshaw fled, knowing that he had no arguments to trust to. His wife being too gentle to resist, and too wise for strife, sufficient or resist or resist, and too wise for strife, sufficient or resist or resist. The result was that Miss Caroline Bradshaw was within hearing.

"Peler Bradshaw. His small unpretending and three purple of the resistance of those quaincations, and placed unbounded confidence in her."

The little draper looked somewhat discontant or resistant retort. Thus it shortly subsided into a attained her majority.

dressing his wife a few weeks subsequent Three weeks after his niece's mar- him from his contemplations, and he the Mrs. Bradshaw advise? Surely Mrs. Bradto the period at which the change took place, riage, Mr. Bradshaw received a letter next moment recognized the features of an shaw was more quicksighted? Women are rode, and that he was proceeding toward cents. A farthing was three can side," her husband answered. "I have the profits of the concern should be shared veying with a pleased expression the al-

the wife in surprise. "I thought you im- ly to himself. Mrs. Bradshaw, with her London," the traveller resumed, "but I've "The planets have no more to do with plied that you had it only in contemplation. customary penetration, perceived that this often thought of you. We used to be your disasters than I have, my worthy Pray who may it be that you have made was likely to involve them in still greater cronies at school, you know." this arrangement with?"

thousand pounds into the concern, which vident than ever. She again ventured to "No, nor ability neither," thought his that!" cried Bradshaw. will be an excellent thing to stock my new expostulate with her husband, representing auditor; but he loved his little protege, shop, and will enable me to extend my con- how much betterit would be to disselve the from the very fact of his having always you will thank me for the information when-"A thousand pounds will, I think, be a solute ruin. Had this advice come from any and was really pleased with having met "Pray, what may it be ?" poor recompense for having a young man other quarter, it is probable that Mr. Brad- him again.

that the son will not bring you into trouble. large amount, having in the mean time night," exclaimed the draper: "we can was; still he made no remark. You know he has caused his father a great | launched out into expenses which a capital | find you a bed; and I see," glancing at the | "Now, I tell you what it is, my good feldeal of unhappiness by his imprudence and of five thousand, instead of fifteen hundred carpet-bag his friend held in his hand- low," Rawlins proceeded, "we lords of the

"It is quite natural the father should less condition. hope so; but not that you, my dear Peter, Poor Mr. Bradshaw was in a state bor- "I wouldn't allow it; and, to do her jus- were in consequence, much esteemed; but tions in a matter which may be so mind sunk under an accumulated load of inclination to dispute my authority. All spoke. My father, happily for his family, "I tell you I don't ask her advice in of the picture, Martha; you are always torted; "and to prove to you, Mr. Hutch- to hope the best." This speech was accominson, that I don't boast of an independ- panied by one or two of those nervous movements; but Mrs. Bradshaw, who was really The house agent had previously tried much concerned at the new step of impru-ments announced "that Messrs. Bradshaw education which she had received. The per hand : is it so?" Now, it must not be inferred, from the and Smithson would now be able to offer task of soothing the irritated feelings, and "You're quite mistaken there, my friend.

her husband, begging him, as he loved the have been pleased with an expression of my friend," Rawlins exclaimed. "The se- all. Henry Ward Beecher well expresses the people, as they progress in education, "This shop has afforded us a comfort- happiness of his brother's child, to warn her approbation, and she immediately set about cret of my success is this—I made choice of this sentiment as follows: "Men seem become convinced of the injurious effects able maintenance for seven years, my dear," of the precipice on which she stood; but the necessary preparations for removal. he was deaf to her pleadings. "Caroline B-had, for nearly a century, been tle pigeon holes, so I don't see that you ingup the match, because people might say places—the changes of the seasons and the that I wanted to keep her money in my own alterations of day and night. The inhabilessly replied; adding, "and I have taken prevent. She represented to her husband that it was deemed requisite to have a stathat if he withheld his consent for twelve tion there; and such a circumstance of "Twenty-one years !" exclaimed the wife months, he would by that time see how the course turned the heads of half the inhabiin astonishment and alarm; but seeing that young man conducted himself in the contants, by exciting a desire for speculation. The Cash System will be strictly adhered to. the gathering storm was about to break, nection he had already formed with the As in all other revolutions, the results were fered it to have its vent without a word of became Mrs. Smithson on the very day she it on highly advantageous terms. The fact been a fortunate fellow, that's the upshot in their new abode; and the usual methods of Mr. Bradshaw, to invest the greater part regarding the length of time it would be we wont get into a dispute. Let me hear of advertising informed "Mr. Bradshaw's of the bride's fortune in establishing a busi- most prudent to extend it. friends and the public that he had removed ness in London. The fact was, that Smithfreeds and the public that he had removed from No. 7 Church Street, to 50 Market Street, where he hoped, by offering the best suricises at a very moderate price, to merit their continued patronage and support;" but notwithstanding this announcement, the expected influx of customers did not follow, at least in proportion to the additional expenditure of the shopkeeper, and his an expenditure of the shopkeeper, and his on was not at all pleased with the subording business being over, in the precincts of the source of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had above all, that the money should pass throw his hands, which Mr. Bradshaw was not sorry to change the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, had business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, where he hoped, by offering the best on the held in the firm. He want-allway station, amusing himself by watch and putting on a dolorous aspect, where he hoped, by offering the best on the held in the firm. He want-allway station, amusing himself by watch and putting on a dolorous aspect, which was more conspicuous than young business being over, in the precincts of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, which was not sorry to change the business being over, in the precinct of the subject; and putting on a dolorous aspect, which was not sorry to change the subject; and putting o al expenditure of the shopkeeper, and his prise or suspicion; but this was the preparthe shoulder, and a hearty "How do you occasional queries, which were by no means nual festival, Mr. Archibald B., having resident one means occasional queries, which were by no means nual festival, Mr. Archibald B., having resident one means occasional queries, which were by no means occasional queries occasional queries o

my dear Peter," Mrs. Bradshaw quietly re- and that, in the event of Mr. Bradshaw unexpected pleasure." made a bargain which cannot be otherwise equally with their dear uncle. All he most gigantic form of his quondam play- quick sighted himself, he could not but foredesired was, he said, to have the superin- fellow. "Then you have settled the affair !" cried tendence of the London business left entire- "I lost sight of you when I settled in been born under such an unlucky planet. associate his son with some steady man removed from under their eye, it was likely and work all my sums, for I never had ten years, we should meet again." of business, and is willing to put a that he would be more reckless and impro- much taste for such things." of George Smithson's habits as a partner in shaw would have seen and acknowledged its "Come home and take supper with me, it without a little reluctance," Rawlins rethat at the expiration of a few months the treated you?" "And why not, pray?" her husband sharp- names of Bradshaw and Smithson appeared "Oh; I've managed at least to avoid posed to that which I have taken; that is, ly asked. "I have known the father these in the Gazette amongst the list of bank- failure; but I'll accept of your kind invita- from your having scorned the counsel of it appears to me to be like rushing into ruin pounds would scarcely justify. Nor was "I see you have your luggage with you. creation are apt to plume ourselves on a with your eyes open to have any connection | this all. He had, during his residence in | Let us go home at once."

unhappy wife in a most destitute and hope- postpously returned.

should depend on such slender founda- dering on insanity. His naturally weak tice," he pursued, "she never showed any they both held the lordly views of which I very serious. My own observation," she sufferings, which, in spite of his inordinate the complaint I can make of her is, that she made a wise choice in his partner for life; added, "has led me to remark that a diso- self-esteem, he could not but feel had been is a little too forward with her advice some- but there his wisdom ended: he scorned to relieved of the presence of his unwelcome cause of our relieved of the presence of his unwelcome cause of the presence of the presence of his unwelcome cause of the presence of his unwelc bedient, extravagant youth, seldom makes a brought on by his own want of prudent times. But that has nothing to do with the make use of her good sense and judgment, conductor, he ventured to address his forforethought. He was really distressed be- present matter; she'll make you welcome, I supposing, like you, that women ought not mer friend, Mrs. D., whom he saw sitting, as Church, the given "Oh, you always look on the dark side | youd measure at the contemplation of the | promise you. I never yet knew her to look | to be consulted in any matters beyond the | had been her wont on earth, absorbed at | blessing,—fait misery in which it had involved his gentle black upon a guest, let me invite him when household economy. My uncle was less loo-requesting her to rest from the game, justification, any matter," the young man sharply re- prognosticating evil. For my part, I like wife and innocent children; his neice's dis- I would." tress, too, and consequent illness, gave ad"You seem, my good friend, to have been dy, thoughtless woman. Still, had he treatplace, which appeared to him to be very and ordinance ditional poignancy to the stroke. He could fortunate in your choice of a wife, at all ed her with confidence, and showed her that unlike what he had expected, and indeed an Testament not but feel that he had not fulfilled the events," the traveller observed; "and your he considered she had an equal interest with extremely agreeable one. But with a cry guard the part of father orguardian towards her; and description of your home is so inviting, that himself in his commercial success, he might of agony she answered that there was no that in our that her premature death, or the horrors of I cannot resist the very strong inclination possibly have corrected her thoughtlessness; rest in hell; that they must ever toil on at add to the ket-place. Didn't I tell you I thought of George Smithson, who was amongst the had themselves incarred. Bradshaw lishusband rejoined a little tartly, for he was man. She saw that poverty and misery acknowledge it, he was really much pleased been the key to my prosperity?"

family, and thus have a better opportunity various; to some it wrought evil, to others line interposed. "I selected a partner with simple gristle, and soft at that."

was whispered, and not without some of the matter." Another month found the family settled without the consent, or even the knowledge, that he on this occasion consulted his wife that fortune had nothing to do with it; but

Mr. Bradshaw was one evening strolling, mine. atory step for the plan being put into exe- do, my old friend?" from a voice the tones pleasant to answer. These were—"But of which were not unknown to him, aroused what did your wife say to this? What did to the period at which the change took place, "I am convinced that my want of success here is wholly owing to the small capital I have, so I have been thinking of taking in very advantageous terms; that they is have, so I have been thinking of taking in very advantageous terms; that they is have been thinking of taking in the offer of a dashing shop on Regent Street on very advantageous terms; that they wished therefore to take up their residence.

I mext moment recognized the reatures of an old schoolmate. "Bradshaw, my dear fellow!" exclaimed the traveller, now bending the offer of a dashing shop on Regent Street of the offer of a dashing shop of the offer of a dashing shop of the offer of a approving of the arrangement, he and his "It is so on my part as well as yours done her utmost to prevent the marriage "You must go with me!" "Oh, I have taken care to be on the right beloved Caroline were quite willing that my good friend," our hero returned, sur- of his niece; but he made an attempt to get firm at once, and thus save himself from ab- looked up to him as a protector and friend, ever you see me."

your business," Mrs. Bradshaw observed. wisdom. Indeed, as it was, he had his mis- and I'll introduce you to my good lady," sumed; "but I'm confident that the result "It is not often I interfere in such mat- givings; but the fact of his wife having urg- Bradshaw continued. "I've been an un- will fully recompense you for the effort it ters," she pursued, "but if you take my ad- ed it was a sufficient reason why he should lucky wight, but I'm getting on pretty may cost you. It is this, my friend :-All pursue a contrary course. The result was, comfortably now. How has the world your misfortunes have arisen from your twenty years, and his character has always rupts; and a very inconsiderable dividend tion when I've secured a bed at the inn, your wife." had they to offer, for Smithson had given and then we'll make mutual revelations." Poor Bradshaw at that moment wished "That may be; but it does not follow bills upon the credit of the firm to a very | "Make our house your home for the his old schoolmate any place but where he

London, formed connections with several "But are you sure that my stay will not the ladies credit for affection, gentieness, the giddy dance! There the panting steed the "living organism is to be re-"You are too severe upon the young man, dissolute young men, who, being, like him- be deemed an intrusion by Mrs. Bradshaw?" kindness, and all that sort of thing, but we Martha," interposed Mr. Bradshaw, with | self, in want of sufficient means to gratify | the traveller hesitatingly interposed; add- | fancy that all the intelligence, good sense, | an inflection of voice which indicated that their extravagant desires, occasionally had ing, "It is not, I know, always agreeable and sagacity, are thrown into our scalehis judgment was more than half convinced recourse to fraudulent means to supply those to ladies to perform the rites of hospitality that is, our pates. I had an early opportuout the wanton song or mendlin blasphemy! daily repair this water-be her future life, would be alike owing to this I have to avail myself of your kind offer." but as this was not the case, she was con-a total wreck. Her kind and judicious dwelling. "Are you married, Rawlins?" he then I will trust her. She shall see that I above-related conversation, that Mr. Peter the public goods of superior quality at a calming the perturbed spirit of her hus- My idea of happiness in married life is for solves into practice, and it has fully answer-Bradshaw was a domestic tyrant; he was before unheard-of price." But neither the band, was less easy; yet this she in time man and wife to go hand in hand, and have ed my expectations. Depend upon, it my ance. Unhappily, Mr. Bradshaw had but it seem likely to do so till the lease had ex- be, her affection was unchanged, and her "Not a bit of it; but I am under female any other circumstance." bore his petulence with calmness, and his The friends had by this time reached the ed by a little hand-maid with a well-cooked suitable apparel, and by treating her with up at a boarding-school in the suburbs of they should return to their late residence would not have hesitated to tell his tale if articles which it had not done at the form-words struck the young man's ear like a London, and remained there after her edu- in Church street, which was still untenant- Mrs. Bradshaw being present knell, but ashamed to expose his weakness hundred pounds, Mr. Bradshaw had, dur- whatever they might be; and not only so, related his story first; but as it was void of opportunity of whispering a word in Brad-number, was the favoured individual. This tened, for the first time in his life, with of incident," he observed as he concluded. of the little draper will, however, possibly "No, Peter; you once said that you had circumstance caused Mrs. Bradshaw considering like complacency to this prudent if have had no hair-breadth escapes, no elucidate the mystery. It was this: "I've looked at it, and asked the rent, but it ap- erable uneasiness. Unhappily for her own counsel. He was too well satisfied with sudden reverses; no accounts of being drag- not forgotten it, my good fellow; I've not prospects, she had no reason to alter the plan to raise even an objection; and ged to a prison for my own or any one else's forgotten your prophecy, and I can't help were bought up by the family. Two or making. It stood across the "I am going to try it at all events," the opinionshe had formed concerning the young though his pride would not allow him to debts; and now, shall I tell you what has fulfilling it. Thank ye thank ye !"

a good partner; and-"

the partner I took into my concern." Rawlins laughed heartily at his own blun- Like the polyp that floats useless and nasty fluenced by their habits. There are too your profits; besides which, we must, you know, have this house on our hands three her own judgment in such matters superiknow, have this house on our hands three her own judgment in such matters superiof things, however, had its day, and also woman herself; but Miss Caroline thought vancement as an absolute evil. This state of things, however, had its day, and also

woman herself; but Miss Caroline thought vancement as an absolute evil. This state of things, however, had its day, and also the company the search of those who are thought vancement as an absolute evil. This state of things, however, had its day, and also rears longer."

"I shall easily find a tenant," he care—then tried to delay a union she could not this period brought so near to the place, spoke of my partner. I have had no other out again, of no earthly account, influence for any man to oppose it. The cause of because he brought a thousand pounds, but their frames of iron and of bone : but promoting the good cause more than any of Sen he turned out a sad rogue."

your story ; I fancy it has more interest than

"You must be cautious whom you trust, in London, instead of returning to B--; glad to see you; on my word, this is an the long lease; that she did object to young Smithson as a partner; and that she had see would follow, by lamenting that he had trouble. She foresaw that it would enable "Yes," Bradshaw rejoined, with a very claiming; "but I'll give you a piece of inforflew the stranger was still beside him, till friend," Rawlins interrupted him by ex-With the son of my father's old friend, Smithson to make what use he pleased of undignified "he—he—he!" "You used to make good use of atlength, in his desperate attempt to escape, Smithson. The old man is anxious to his partner's name; and now that he was fight my battles, correct all my exercises, it, you'll thank me if, at the end of another the rider was thrown, but instead of being "Oh, I hope we shall meet long before

"I hope we shall: but be that as it may,

"I am afraid you will not make use of having pursued a course diametrically op-has sowed his wild oats his father hopes settled; and the consequence was, that he "Mrs. Bradshaw never thinks of oppost capied adjoining houses. They married, that he will settle down into more steady was obliged to fly the country, leaving his ing anything I do or say," the little man and commenced the world together, and they were as alike in character as in age.

happy in his selection. He married a gid- and introduce him to the pleasures of the fruit of faith not have any cause to complain that I am ungenerous. Well, I put these reso by the want of this confidence than by ashamed of Labour, and often, you of liquor, and therefore abstain from its "Ah, you were lucky there at all events," shall find men who have made them- use from a desire to promote health and Bradshaw interposed. "My partner has selves respected in labor, have built thus prolong life. It is not many years Rawlins looked up in astonishment. who turn to their sons and say: 'You of temperance was regarded as excusable, "What! that quiet, gentle-looking wo- shall never do as I did; you shall lead a and a man's position in business circles was man?" he remarked. "Why, I thought different life; you shall be spared all this.' scarcely injured by a knowledge of the fact. Oh! these rich men's sons! They aim to It is not so to-day, and those who deviate "She! No, I don't mean her: I mean lead a life of elegant leisure; and that is a from the path of sobriety soon find that the life of emasculated idleness and laziness. percentage of discount on their notes is inor use. Such are these poor fools. Their temperance is progressing because our best "I took a young man into my business parents toiled and grew strong, built up men set a worthy example, and they are 6th. denying all this to their sons, they turn act that can be passed by the wisest of "Ah, I had no such inducement," Raw- them upon the world, boneless, muscieless, lators.

The entrance of Mrs. Bradshaw, follow-

When some persons have done that which their consciences decide to be wrong, they of happiness for his niece. Poor Mr. Bradponderance was of the latter; and amongst their consciences decide to be wrong, they of happiness for his niece. Poor Mr. Bradponderance was of the latter; and amongst of far more value than a thousand pounds; in every society the man of intelligence. A feiend a done that which the pool of happiness for his niece. Poor Mr. Bradponderance was of the latter; and amongst of far more value than a thousand pounds; in every society the man of intelligence. 1-3m net unfrequently have recourse to a fit of shaw's prejudices concerning the superior those individuals who benefitted was Mr. and the secret of my success, my friend, is must direct the man of labour.—Johnson.

commonly called the Hell Club. Besides their nightly or weekly meetings, they held one grand annual saturnalia, in which each tried to excel the other in drunkenness and blasphemy; and on these occasions there to be careful to remove te was no star amongst them whose lurid his brother's path !

One morning after returning from his an- breadth is equal to one inch. tired to bed, dreamed the following dream : gold was about 88 69. A He fancied that he himself was mounted was $538.32. A talent of gold w city-when a stranger, whom the darkness two pints. A firkin was seven p of the night prevented his distinctly discern- omer was six pints. A cab was the ing, suddenly seized his horse's rein, saying,

"And who are you ?" exclaimed the young man with a volley of oaths, whilst he struggled to free himself.

"That you will see by and by," returned the other, in a tone that excited unaccountable terror in the youth , who, plunging his spurs into his horse, attempted to dashed to the earth, as he expected, he found himself falling—falling—falling—falling still, as if sinking into the bowels of the earth. At length, a period being put to this mysterious descent, he found breath to inquire of his companion, who was still beside him. whither they were going. "Where am I?

-Where are you taking me?" he exclaimed. "To hell!" replied the stranger; and immediately interminable echoes repeated the fearful sound, "To hell! to hell!" At length a light appeared, which soon increased to a blaze; but instead of cries of water. Of the human frame, or and groans and lamentings, as the terrified traveller expected, nothing met his ear but If a man weighing one hundred; sounds of music, mirth and jollity ; and he found himself at the entrance of a superb ic press, one hundred and five building, far exceeding any he had seen constructed by human hands. Within, too, what a scene! No amuse ment, employment or pursuit of man on earth, but was carried or pursuit of man on earth, but was carried pounds of carbon and nitrogen, on here with a vehemen e that excited his sprinkling of other elements diffu unutterable amazement. There the young six buckets of water. Berzelius superiority we do not possess. We give and lovely still swam through the mazes of in recording the fact, further remarks still bore his brutal rider through the excite- a mass diffused in water;" and D ment of the goaded race There, over the a series of experiments, tried on midnight bowl, the intemperate still drawled person, found that the food vice by her argument. "He has been a little means. This was discovered just at the for a stranger, without any previous intimabrother were partners in business, and oc- and the slaves of mammon toiled through LET es see that with en eternity their endless tack; whilst all the heart and effort we labour magnificence on earth reled before that tion of the land. Let us go which now met his view. He soon perceived that he was amongst to others. We have the old acquaintances, whom he knew to be guage and given to go dead; and each, he obser ed, was pursuing study and pray the object, whatever it was, that had for- the Gospel pro they said were the pleasures of hell; their | seek to enlar choice on earth was now their inevitable of the Church "Remember! in a year and a day we meet | word." We ech

At this crisis of his dream, the sleeper word."-Rev. D. awoke, feverish and ill; and, whether from the effect of the dream or his preceding orgies, he was so unwell as to be obliged to keep his bed for several days, during which period he had time for many serious reflections, which terminated in a resolution to abandon the club and his licentious companions altogether. He was no sooner well, however, than they flocked around him, bent on recovering so valuable a member of their society, and having wrung from him a confession of the cause of his defection, which as may be supposed, appeared to them eminently ridiculous, they soon contrived to make him ashamed of his good resolutions. He joined them again, resumed his former glass in his hand at the table. When the the feast, plying himself with wine, even "What shop, my dear?" Mrs. Bradshaw ing these few months, several overtures for sked in surprise.

"What shop, my dear?" Mrs. Bradshaw ing these few months, several overtures for her hand; but, to the dismay of the rival portion of those profits for the purpose of regard for him, we will not tire the reader only heard by the person to whom it was house; whilst a few yards off lay the corpse horse was found with his saddle and bridle

Now, as I have said in introducing this story, it is no fiction; the circumstance hap- WORLD. -These were: 1st, The pened as here related. An account of it lossus of Rhodes, 121 feet hi three, however, were preserved, and the Rhodes 66 years, and was then narrative has been reprinted.

TEMPERANCE is certainly on the increase in human nature to avoid it. There are One great cause for improvement in this up a business, and amassed a fortune, ago that an occasional violation of the rules and an enemy cannot be hid in

POSTERS. HAND BILLS, CONCERT BILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, BLANES, Orders from a distance

for Job Work with n

spatch, and at low ra

The Pi

HAS EVER

JOB :

and satisfaction guarante Ir is said of an Indian tha got into a bad place in a swa ground was too soft for safe a stake to mark the place. only avoided the danger his others from falling into the not every Christian learn this rude son of the fores guard against his own false he prays, "Lead us not int

Power of the Heart.-Let while sitting down, place the lefthe knee of the right one, and p hang freely, abandoning all ne trol over it. Speedily it may be to sway backwards and forwards limited space at regular intervals, ing the number of these motions given time, they will be found to actly with the pulse. When thele all the arteries within it are bent every time the heart or rushing through the arteries straighten them, and it is this produces the motion of the leg n Without such occular demonstrat difficult to conceive the power er that exquisite mechanism, the no sations of which are never perceive whose very life they are. Potatoes contain 75 per cent.

nips no less than 90 per cent., of beef steak, though pressed between paper, yields nearly four-fifths of one-fourth is solid matter, the rest pounds were squeezed flat under a water would run out, and only the pounds of dry residue remain therefore, chemically speaking, the sixths are also water.

gious privileges, and see Canada flourisl

PHANTOMS AND

At times the most fami

formed into phantoms.

ecdote of this kind, which an eye witness, who was a ship Newcastle-on-Tyne. During a he made the ship's cook died. after the funeral, the chief mate ning to him in a great fright with that the ship's cook was walking o ter, astern of the vessel, and the crew were on deck looking at him captain, who was angry at being & with so nonsensical a tale, answer ly that they had better put and race the ghost to News osity, however, was prehe went upon deck to frankly avowed that t saw what really appear mate, just as he knew hi walk, clothes, cap and fig sembling the dead man. The general, and every one was str ess for a time. He had the mind, however, to sieze the the ship about, when, as t ghost, they found the absu fright was a broken ninet which was floating after th position. If the captain sailed up to the supposed of the dead cook walking would have continued to this half the good inhabitants of THE SEVEN ANCIENT WOR down by an earthquake. It was born a Jew from the Saracens, who loade camels with brass. 2nd The Pyran Egypt. The large he engaged ? workmen 30 years in milding, and he at least 3,080 years, 3rd. The of Rome, invented by Pins Clar Censor. 4th. The Labyrinth of Ps chus, on the banks of the Nile, c within one continued wall 1,000 twelve royal palace ble, and having on