There Never Was a Time

when there was such DECEPTION in Woollen Goods.

Take Blankets for Instance.

They are white as snow, thick and soft, and to all appearance, a first-class article. But how disgusted the buyer, when on wash day the blankets have turned yellow and sticky. All store blankets which have been bleached are bound to smell of sulphur, and will be a yellow shade when washed. The borders also run through and stain the blankets. The consumers' only protection is to deal direct with the Manufacturer, who will warrant the goods, then, if anything goes wrong he may have his money returned. We know how our goods are made, the material contained and will refund money if not as represented.

At the monthly Teachers' meeting of the Methodist Sabbath School held last evening the sixteen classes were provided with teachers, the officers' reports were received, and after paying about $50 for improving the School room, and sending $40 to the Book Room for Sabbath School Literature for the present year, there remains a balance in the treasurer's hands. The past year has been one of faithful labour and prosperity and all present felt to thank "God and take courage."

In these energetic go-ahead days we are continually hearing of some new and curious way of making money, but the following way is perhaps as ingenious as any previously devised: A little boy entered a surgery the other day when the village doctor was in attendance, and marching up to him whispered cautiously: "Please, sir, mother sent me to say as how Lizzie's got scarlatina awful bad; and please, mother wants to know how much you'll give her to spread it all over the village?"

Rev. Father Falton, of Ottawa, in his sermon on Sunday said there were far too few marriages in his parish. He said the young ladies of the present day expect too much of their intended husbands. They want a lot of land, a house, and a furnished one at that, and high social standing, a condition of affairs that their parents never waited for before being united in marriage. Courtships extending over a period of six to ten years were entirely too long. The Kingdom of heaven, said Father Falton, was one place where the people were neither married nor given in marriage, and if his parish kept its record it would soon be in a position to take its place in the celestial kingdom.

Valentine Party.

One of the best and most enjoyable evening of the season was spent Tuesday of last week. It being the occasion of a Valentine party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Corniel of Ops to a large number of invited friends of their estimable daughter, Grace, of whom it may be deservedly said that she is an excellent entertainer. After a considerable part of the evening was spent in some of the latest and choicest "progressive games," all repaired to the large dining-hall where a sumptuous supper had been prepared for the "rosy Valentines" and their ambipartners. After supper, games of various kinds were carried on, which were social, educative and enjoyable. Special mention must be made of Miss Belia Spence who gave two excellent recitations both of which were highly appreciated. Great taste was shown in the decorations for the evening, and the different games and amusements engaged in. After singing the usual farewell greetings, the merry crowd dispersed for the evening, feeling the satisfaction of a good time and tendering to the happy host and hostess and daughter, a hearty vote of thanks as a slight token of the appreciation of their kindness, during the entire evening.
