

DO THEIR DUTY IN EVERY CASE

HOW DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS BANISH PAIN IN THE BACK.

Cured Mrs. Jas. Murphy and Everyone Else She Recommended Them To.

River Gagnon, Que., April 24—(Special)—No complaint is so common among women as Pain-in-the-Back. It is a safe estimate that fully half the women in Canada are afflicted with it. For that reason every evidence that there is a sure and complete cure in existence is thankfully received. And there is abundant evidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills is just such a cure. This district could furnish a dozen cures, but one is enough for an example. The one is that of Mrs. Jas. Murphy. She says:

"I suffered for thirty-eight months with a pain in my back. I took just one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I have never been troubled with the pain since. I also recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to other people, who complained as I did and in every case the Pills did their duty and brought relief."

MANY RUSSIAN EXILES THEY ARE THE BEST EDUCATED IN THE EMPIRE.

By One Who Has Voluntarily Left St. Petersburg Never to Return.

I am not a revolutionary, or in any way a dangerous character, but an advocate of moderate and prudent reform on strictly constitutional lines. I am well known in St. Petersburg, where I am a member of the several most important committees, and on the "douma," or local town council. My father held a very high office in the Government service, and several of my sisters are to-day maids of honor to the Empress, writes an exile in Pearson's Weekly.

Yet because of my opinions of reform, and principally because of my attaching my signature to a petition, advocating the reception of a deputation of workmen, my name has been removed from the list of Gentlemen of the Court.

My house in the Bolshoi Morskaiia has been kept continually under espionage since that moment. I could not walk or drive without spies following me, as if I were some criminal. Hint has been thrown out to me that worse punishment may follow.

For weeks this torture continued till I could stand it no longer, and so I have sold up my property and migrated to the FREE SHORES OF BRITAIN.

Already in London I have met some thirty Russians who only a few weeks back were law-abiding citizens of St. Petersburg. I have been given the addresses of more than a hundred wealthy exiles, who have voluntarily come to your country. I am assured that many hundreds of my countrymen have recently made their homes in Paris. As you will see by your newspapers train-loads of wealthy Russians are leaving my humiliated and mis-governed country.

The bureaucracy is forcing us out. The ignorant peasant, by the perniculous police system, are whipped into submission. The intelligent and educated citizen who allows himself opinions is either forced to suppress them or be banished from his home and loved ones, perhaps for ever.

Because we seek to amend governmental methods we are called Nihilists. The term is very misleading. There is no section of the protesting Nihilists in Russia to whom the word applies, really belongs. Rather should we be called reformers.

Yet, because of our views—and amongst our ranks are members of the nobility and a great number of the best educated in the Empire—for the advancement of our country, we are hounded about and

TREATED LIKE CRIMINALS.

In the penal settlements and mines of Siberia are thousands of cultured men whose only offence was their dissatisfaction at governmental methods.

The majority of them have been deported under what is called "the administrative process," which does not require any legal form to carry into effect. They have been sent off because it has been considered necessary to restrain them, lest they might be "tempted to do something which would tend to raise a presumption that his or her presence at home was likely to become prejudicial to public order."

Yet every such charge is supposed to be investigated by the Governor of the district. The investigation is a sham. It is too much trouble for the average lazy, drunken official.

Some of Russia's greatest men have been exiled to Siberia. I could tell you the life-story of hundreds of them. My friend, Professor Kaval'shaya, under "administrative process," was exiled to Minnsinsk, in Eastern Siberia, and his wife, Maria, was deported to the mines of Kara. After several years of separation she was allowed to join her husband, but a change of governors taking place, she was sent back again to the mines. On her friend, Madame Sigida, another political exile, being flogged to death for striking the commandant, Madame Kaval'shaya

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Korobenko, a novelist whom I met frequently in St. Petersburg, was exiled on two occasions by administrative process. He was twice exiled to the mines. On the first occasion he was sent to Tomsk, 2,000 miles from St. Petersburg, and on the second to Yakutsk, 5,000 miles away. Fortunately he managed to escape to the United States, where I believe he lives to-day.

Felix Volkovskiy, a poet of repute, was exiled for political reasons, but escaped, and is at present in London. Dr. Bellie was captured in Ivanogorod on the charge of giving lessons to two ladies who were "politically untrustworthy." He was sent to Verkhovansk, 6,000 miles away, his faithful wife following him.

After traversing 4,000 miles, however, and coming to a place called Verkhovansk, which she believed was the place where she would find her husband, and discovering that she was still 2,700 miles from him, she became insane, and died in Tokutsh prison.

"It would fill a volume with the painful details concerning political exiles I have known personally. But enough has been written. Besides these poor sufferers, every Continental city has numbers of intelligent Russians who have voluntarily exiled themselves. Thank Heaven, my reader, that you live in a country where freedom of speech, thought, and opinion are universal. They are a blessing beyond all price.

A ROYAL BOOKLET.

The Grand Trunk Railway System are distributing a very handsome booklet descriptive of the Royal Muskoka Hotel, that is situated in Lake Rosseau, in the Muskoka Lakes, "Highlands of Ontario." The publication is one giving a full description of the attractions that may be found at this popular resort, handsomely illustrated with colored prints of lake and island scenery, the hotel itself, and many of the special features that may be found there. It is printed on fine enameled paper, bound in a cover giving the appearance of Morocco leather, with a picture of the hotel and surroundings on the same, and the crest of the hotel embossed in high relief. A glance through this booklet makes one long for the pleasure of Summer and outdoor life, and copies may be secured gratuitously by applying to any Grand Trunk ticket office.

LONDON BRIDGE.

The work of widening and improving London bridge is now nearing completion. The old bridge will be considerably beautified by the alteration. Practically Sir John Rennie's bridge, built over seven years ago at a cost of $10,000,000, still stands, for the main improvements are the widening of the roadway and footpaths, and the substitution for the solid parapet of an artistically designed open balustrade parapet, worked in Dartmoor granite. The need for a greater traffic facilities across city bridges is emphasized by the fact that the high-level footways of the Tower bridge are now practically useless. They have lost their charm of novelty. The hydraulic lifts stand idle, passengers realizing that little time is gained by using the high level while the low-level bridge is raised for shipping traffic. The city corporation has applied to parliament for power to close the high footways.

A GUARANTEE TO MOTHERS.

There is only one medicine intended for use among infants and young children that gives mothers a guarantee that it is free from opiates and poisonous soothing stuffs. That medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. Milton L. Halsey, M. Sc., public analyst for the Province of Quebec, and demonstrator in chemistry for McGill University says—"I hereby certify that I have made a careful analysis of Baby's Own Tablets which I personally purchased in a drug store in Montreal, and said analysis has failed to detect the presence of any opiate or narcotic in them." These tablets cure all minor ailments of little ones, such as teething troubles, simple fevers, colds, constipation, diarrhoea, colic and worms. They make little ones sleep naturally because they remove the cause of sleeplessness. They are a boon to all mothers and no home where there are young children should be without a box of Baby's Own Tablets. Sold at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A NEW SALMON PRESERVE

It is Too Far From the Great Cities to Encourage the Pot Hunters.

It will be unexpected news to many sportsmen that the new Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is going to trouble the available salmon fishing waters of the continent. The news is gathered from the reports of engineering parties who have been at work this winter surveying for the projected road.

The main line is to run across the Dominion, considerably to the north of the Canadian Pacific, as far to the north, in fact, as possible without getting altogether beyond the wheat producing belt. With great foresight, small parties of surveyors have also been at work examining promising valleys running north and south, or following timber districts to their northern limits, to insure being able to establish, and keep for the railway company, such feeding lines of rail as may be necessary.

These men have experienced much hardship and acquired some curious geographical information. Often some of them have run out of provisions owing to the inability of the Indians to follow them through the deep snows. The presence of Indian guides with a knowledge of the district has been the salvation of life over and over again.

In one instance the guide located a cache of dried and smoked fish at just the critical moment. The discovery that the fish was red salmon, fat and good, and apparently not long from the salt water when killed, excited the curiosity of the chief engineer of the party. As a rule, do not attain the size of most of these fish, and the lake beside which

LIGHT ON ANCIENT EGYPT.

Flinders Petrie Believes Pharaohs Were Ethiopian.

Prof. Flinders Petrie has returned to London from Cairo on an exploring expedition to Sinai, where interesting and unprecedented discoveries were made. Memorials of former rulers of Egypt were found which show that it was the custom to erect at the top of a picture or effigy of the King under whose direction the mine was being worked.

One engraving represents the Pharaohs with typically Soudanese features. Thus the origin of the dynasty to which this Pharaoh belonged is at last discovered, hieroglyphics under the picture fixing the King's date and name. Prof. Petrie maintains that the origin was Ethiopian.

The most interesting find was a Semitic temple in an almost perfect state of preservation. Its position is 40 miles north of Mount Sinai. The designers and builders had evidently taken as a model Solomon's Temple at Jerusalem. Its date is anterior to the birth of Mohammed.

Sir Henry Seton-Karr has also returned to Cairo from an expedition to Fayoum. He found from certain depressions that Lake Kurin of the ancient times really consisted of a number of smaller lakes to the northwest of the present lake. He discovered numerous corn grinders and crushing stones on high ground between the depressions, leading to the inference that it had been the site of ancient settlements.

He found flint implements of hoolithic origin scattered everywhere. From the discovery of the latter it may be assumed that this was where the Bedouins got the arrowheads which years ago they used to offer for sale.
