Struck by an Electric Bolt.

Mount Pleasant, Ont., June 21.-A ter- Special to the Mirror. rific electrical rainstorm passed over our village at 12 c'clock to-day. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper had just been administered in the Presbyterian Church, the worshippers passeing down the aisles to leave for their homes, when an electric bolt struck one of the the stove pipe, knocking down Mr. John Boyd, who, in reaching for his hat, placed his foot on the zinc under the stove. The electric current stunned and partially paralysed Mrs. Hunter, and several others who were in the church felt the pulsations of the current as it passed through them. The building was set on fire between the ceiling and the roof. The stupified and badly trightened congregation rushed for the doors when smoke was discerned. Willing ments with a Toronto firm to do and strong hands, led by the clergyman, soon had the fire under control. Fortunately no lives were lost. The damage to the church will not exceed $50, covered by insurance.
