Make a Law Prohibiting Sale of Pernicious Literature Says The Mail and Empire.

Half in jest, half in earnest, a Frenchman will say "Cherchez la femme" when the motive of a crime committed by an adult person puzzles the authorities. To this saying some of our detectives would now add another, pointing to the instigation of crime in boys and girls. They would say "Find the book," or more likely, "Find the books," for nearly all young persons convicted of acts of violence are found to be voracious readers of the lowest class of fiction. Their craving for this stuff, like any other craving, grows on what it feeds upon, and it undermines the intellectual and the moral powers as the cigarette habit undermines the bodily and the mental health of the child.

If old Fagan were to open a school for crime in Toronto, he would surely nowadays teach his Artful Dodgers to read, and he would give them free range to their literary tastes. Of text books they would have no lack, for, as fast as multitudes of diseased minds can disburden themselves of their wretched dreams to the typewriter, stories of horror and brutality flow from the printing presses. In the vicious characters which the writers of these stories present as heroes and heroines boys and girls find models for personal imitation, and in the perverted morals practised by the characters they find their standard of conduct. Is it any wonder that a neglected child of twelve or thirteen, whose power to read is thus applied only as an instrument of vice, should become morally deranged? To postulate that a child is neglected is, in most cases, to imply a susceptibility in it to bad influences. No child will be left to its own devices, or to succumb to a vicious environment if it has good parents. If the parents of a neglected child are alive there is usually something wrong with them, so that in addition to the unwholesome social atmosphere in which its lot is cast, it has the disadvantage of inherited tendencies towards wrongdoing. At all events, a neglected child has nothing but its own natural sense of right to save it from wickedness. That natural sense, weak or strong, is left for its education wholly to chance. And the chance that good examples will prevail against the bad is unfortunately not great in the habitat of the neglected child. Even for the most forsaken child, it is true, there is always the school. In this city it is free to all—in fact, all children are obliged to attend it a minimum number of days every year during what is known as the school period of their lives. But the school cannot, as now constituted, be the moral asylum for these little ones that it ought to be. One thing it does—it teaches them to read. How much better would many of them be without that knowledge? Illiteracy would place them out of the reach of the depravers who write and purvey the five-cent novels which are the mental poison of children of the Josie Carr

A GLASS OF SODA PER DAY. That five cents a day will probably be a bone of contention between the economists and those of us who are not economists, and indeed there appears to be something in the matter, judging from the following by Benedict Bachellor in the "New Idea Woman's Magazine" for July: "One glass of soda per day—delectable stuff, too, we must assume—would cost $15 per year, provided the consumer observed the Sabbath. What will $15 per year do? Well, among other things, it would (at least in my town) send three and three-quarter children away for two weeks each to some Fresh-Air farm. It would pay the schooling for one year of a native Armenian missionary student. There's charity for you. It would buy a second hand typewriter. There's literature of your own making. It would buy an illuminated set of the works of almost any well known author, living or dead, that you may name. It would buy unilluminated sets of half a dozen standard authors. There's more literature. It would pay for any number of magazines by the year. It would buy your shoes. It would buy a dining-room table; a rug. It would buy two or three commutation tickets to New York. It will buy your wife a new hat—a good one. It will buy your husband a new overcoat. Those are practical things. It will take you to the theater more than once a month, singly, or seven and a half times in harness. It will buy twenty boxes of candy. It will pay a week's board for you in the summer. There's pleasure. There is no limit to the things that $15 will do, provided the footings do not exceed it."

Following letter, addressed to the Secretary of the National Sanitarium Association, Toronto, from the Rectory, Norwood, Ont., and signed by Rev. J. McKee McLennan, a well-known Anglican minister of the province, needs no comment of ours. It reads: "I desire to secure the admission into the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst of a young woman, a member of my parish. The case is a very sad one, and if help can at once be given, a girl's life can be saved. Three years ago the mother died of consumption. Since that time it has been my painful duty to bury two of the sons with the same disease. Now Annie, aged about seventeen, and a boy of fourteen, are all that remain of the family. The poor girl has been in Muskoka, boarding at a private house, waiting to be admitted. She returned home last week, and within twenty-four hours of her return her father dropped dead in his buggy while driving into Norwood. The case is surely one that must appeal to the sympathies of everyone, and yet, I fear, one of the many that are often, only coming under your notice." [Note.—Readers—and may their number be many—who desire to assist in this worthy work may send their gifts to Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., Vice-President, National Sanitarium Association, Toronto, or Mr. W. J. Gage, Chairman of the Executive Committee, Toronto.]

Will You Help It? THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN

For it Cares for Every Sick Child in Ontario whose Parents Cannot Afford to Pay For Treatment.

The Hospital for Sick Children, College street, Toronto, appeals to the fathers and mothers of Ontario for funds to maintain the thousand sick children that it nurses within its walls every year. The Hospital is not a local institution—but Provincial. The sick child from any place in Ontario who can't afford to pay has the same privileges as the child living in Toronto and is treated free. The Hospital had last year in its beds and hospital wards 267 of these were from 195 places outside of Toronto. The cost is 96 cents per patient per day, and there were 299 sick little ones a day in the Hospital.

"GOOD DAY, DOCTOR." Since its foundation the Hospital has treated 10,371 children—about 7,500 of these were unable to pay and were treated free. Every dollar may be the translator of your kind thoughts into the Hospital kind deeds. Everybody's dollar may be a Friend in Need to Somebody's child. Let the money of the strong be mercy to the weak. The Hospital pays out dividends of health and happiness to suffering childhood on every dollar that is paid by the friends of little children. If you know of any sick child in your neighborhood who is sick or crippled or has club feet send the parent's name to the Hospital.

"SHE'S KNITTING." See the example of what can be done for club-foot children. There were 14 like cases last year and hundreds in 28 years.
