One Hundred and Seven.

Probably the oldest man in the Dominion is living at present in the township of Haldimand, County of Northumberland, in the person of Mr. George A. Hanna. He was born in the County of Antrim, Ireland, March 8th, 1790, and consequently was 107 years of age on his last birthday. He came to Canada with his father, mother, two brothers and two sisters in the year 1820, and settled near Brockville. He was married the same year to Miss Henrietta Graham. Five children were the result of their union, three boys and two girls. A few years after he and his family removed to Harrowsmith north of Kingston, where he followed the occupation of farming and also lumbering. About forty years ago he left Mount Hope, all turned out for dear old Omemee, where I spent the greater part of my earlier days, where I became initiated into the Orange Order when a mere boy, and like the good old christian, I am not tired of them yet. To the credit of dear old Omemee and the glorious Order to which I belong, I did not see a single man the worse of intoxicating drink. The gathering was grand. My attention was drawn to Reaboro L. O. L. No. 820, for the grand appearance, also the band. The Reaboro scribe will pardon me for trespassing on his ground.

Strange to say the pedagogue was on the "Alert" and hot on the alert when he killed the skunk with the brick-bat.

Messrs. Blackwell and Nugent wheeled through on Sunday. Bert and Walter must have strong attractions in this neighborhood, they come so often. You're always welcome anyway, boys.

He has been present at all the Orange gatherings up to a few years ago. As might be expected, he has not a large circle of acquaintances, for he has very seldom left his own place, and when he did it would be to attend some gathering of the brethren of the order he so dearly loved. Mr. John Miller, J. P., Reeve of the township, looks after the old gentleman's welfare. Mr. Hanna has never suffered much pain; but rarely is out of sorts, either in body or mind.

A preacher was disturbed by the talking and giggling of some of the junior members of his congregation, says the Evening Wisconsin. Being a man of tact, he paused and said:—

"Some years ago there happened to sit right in front of the pulpit a young man who was perpetually laughing and talking, and making silly faces. I stopped short, and took him severely to task. At the close of the service, a gentleman stepped up to me and said:—

"Sir, you made a great mistake; that young man is an idiot."

"Since that time I have not ventured to reprimand any persons who behave themselves indecorously in church, lest I should repeat the same mistake, and inflict censure upon an idiot."

There was exemplary silence during the rest of the service.

Must Pay for His Paper.

The publishers of the Avoca Herald recently, says the Palmerston Reporter, sued a delinquent subscriber and recovered judgment for seven years' subscription with costs, amounting to $24. The paper had been ordered stopped and had been returned from the post office as refused, but the subscriber had not paid up arrearages and his name was continued on and the paper mailed to his address. The decision of the court was that a subscriber remained a subscriber until all arrearages were paid.

Ask God for What You Want.

BUT DO NOT PRAY YOURSELF INTO A STATE OF RELIGIOUS CONCERN.

"I do not advise you to attempt to say long prayers," writes Ruth Ashmore in the Ladies' Home Journal. "Ask God for what you want, believing that you will get it, and do not pray yourself, as is possible, into a state of religious concern. Think sometimes before you go to bed of this verse: 'Stand in awe, and sin not; commune with your own heart in thy chamber, and be still. I will lay me down in peace, and take my rest; for it is Thou, Lord, only, that makest me dwell in safety.' He does not want you to come to Him with loud wailing, but with a repentant spirit and in quietness. Be generous and ask that He give His patronage and comfort to all those who are in sorrow. Ask for the poor a competent support, a contented spirit and a hope for the treasures in the hereafter. For all that travel by sea or land freedom from perils of all kinds, and that they may reach the haven where they would be. For those who grieve for some who are asleep may there be given a knowledge of the goodness of God and a willingness to take up the burden of life and to carry it joyfully until the end is reached. For all those who are disconsolate ask for light from heaven, timely deliverance and God's grace and comfort."

Mount Horeb.

Special to the Mirror.

THE GLORIOUS 12TH.—Your scribe was raised in Omemee, a village you all know well. Well, the 12th is always a glorious day to me, and I think to all in Mt. Horeb, judging from the appearance of the village. At an early hour all were on their way to celebrate the day on which our freedom was won to the credit of Mount Horeb, all turned out for dear old Omemee, where I spent the greater part of my earlier days, where I became initiated into the Orange Order when a mere boy, and like the good old christian, I am not tired of them yet. To the credit of dear old Omemee and the glorious Order to which I belong, I did not see a single man the worse of intoxicating drink. The gathering was grand. My attention was drawn to Reaboro L. O. Silenced Followed.

Change of Business.

The undersigned wishes to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has purchased the business and good will of

MR WM DORNAN,

Blacksmith, and will carry on business at the old stand, King St. West, Omemee, as usual. Mr. Morton has secured the services of Mr. Dornan, who decided not to go to the North West, and under the new management, and with two such able men the business must boom. Soliciting a share of your patronage, yours respectfully,

Richard Morton.

and—

If you should want an easy shave,

Just cut, and it will not hurt;

A razor's edge to suit your mind;

Please to dress your hair with taste,

To suit the contour of your face;

By room is neat my towel heated,

Seasor sharp razors keen,

And when you want to bathe,

After a bath, I'll find you first;

And all that set and fifteen cent;

I'll shave you at forty cent;

Shaving I do at any time,

And when you want to bathe;

But do not make a dime in trust;

For that would make a barrier "bust,"

Call on me and I will guarantee satisfaction.
