

MILLIONAIRES AT PLAY

GOLF CURED THE RICHEST MAN OF DYSPESIA. Polo Ponies are Mr. George Gould's Passion—Mr. Gates Plays Cards.

$1,000,000 is the price which the richest man in the world is said to have offered to any doctor who would cure him of the dyspepsia to which he has been a martyr for nearly fifteen years past.

A little more than a year ago he fell a victim to the fascination of golf. At first he would not spare more than an hour a day from business to give to the game.

Death of Lord Lytton 125 Years Ago. Lord Lytton, in the winter of the year 1778, had retired from the metropolis, with a party of his dissipated companions, to profane the Christmas at his country house, Pitt Place, near Epsom.

Until he took up golf, Mr. Rockefeller's only game was golf. This he still plays occasionally, usually with his son, John D. Rockefeller (junior). This young man has inherited the fortune which is so great that it cannot be estimated within fifteen million dollars.

Almost the only millionaire who has ever reached first-class rank in any game is Dwight F. Davis, who represented the United States in international tennis in the year 1900.

Mr. Carnegie has become a very keen manager since he gave up the active management of the Homestead Steel Works, and may often be seen on various of the Scottish links watching professionals play.

On his private estate, which is known as Georgian Court, Mr. Gould has no fewer than three polo fields, each level and some as fine as tennis courts.

On the morning of the polo ponies in the world belongs to George Gould, eldest son and heir of the late railroad king Jay Gould.

Mr. Foxhall Keene, well known for that capacity and in racing circles on both sides of the Atlantic.

When Mr. John Drake's Royal Flush came in first in the Goodwood Cup, Mr. Gates' winnings on this one race amounted to $500,000.

Yachting is usually supposed to absorb all the superfluous energies of Sir Thomas Lipton. But Sir Thomas is a good all-round man, and excels in other lines as well as sailing.

One of the first effects of a hot wave, particularly in towns and cities, is a pronounced increase in the number of deaths of infants.

Natural Beauty of the Place Where They Live. It was doubtless from China that the disease spread to the Hawaiian Islands, and the natural conditions made it particularly fertile ground for the spread of the horrible affliction.

Another instance of a lover receiving his dismissal through pushing his ideas to unreasonable limits happened so recently as January last.

GEORGE H. KENT'S CASE RECALLED.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HIM. Recent Deaths of Prominent Men From the Most Dreaded of All Maladies Recalls the Fact That Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Cured Him.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 17.—(Special.)—The recent numerous deaths of prominent men from Bright's Disease recalls the case of George H. Kent, of 408 Gilmour St., this city.

Mr. Kent, who is still living here, strong and hearty, was dying of Bright's Disease. He had lost the use of his limbs, and his whole body was swollen to a torrid size. Three doctors were positive that he must die.

While watching at his bedside, his wife happened to read an advertisement which mentioned Dodd's Kidney Pills. She sent for a last resort. They were almost the first dose Mr. Kent saw. He felt benefited by them. After taking four boxes he was able to sit up. Seventeen boxes cured him completely.

Mr. Kent's cure caused great excitement at the time. People who had heard of it came from far and near to see him, and all went away convinced that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure Bright's Disease.

This conviction is strengthened by a number of other cases reported throughout the country where this great remedy has been used, and Bright's Disease vanquished.

GIRLS AVOID THIS MAN

Beware of the Lover Who is a Faddist. Personal Peculiarities Which Break Engagements and Estrange Lovers.

People with fads are generally well-meaning folk, but they sometimes lack the gift of being able to reconcile their friends to their opinions.

The views of faddists are often reasonable enough, but they are carried to the extreme that the absurdity lies in the fad itself.

Faddists are a good deal like other people to start with; but in time their peculiarities, previously developed and unchecked, become developed into confirmed crankiness.

In ordinary life the faddist is usually a great bore, and in the lists of the most annoying of men.

Girls in search of a husband would do well to beware of the man who is slightly cracked on any particular point.

STORY OF BISMARK.

A Berlin photographer relates a characteristic anecdote of Bismarck. Early in the seventies the German Emperor asked him to prepare an album containing the photographs of the men who had done the most for the service in behalf of the empire.

Including Bismarck and Von Moltke. After he had taken several pictures of Bismarck, he said: "The Emperor wants me to take a life-size half-length photograph of you in that case," replied Bismarck.

The astonished photographer presented him with a photograph of Bismarck in his dress uniform, which had so many orders and crosses on it that they jingled like sleigh bells.

The hills that arise from excessive use of tobacco are to be combated in a new manner, which will have the advantage of not curtailing the quantity indulged in.

A separate process, entailing the use of a special preparation, restores the flavor of the tobacco, and henceforth no one need be careful of his daily allowance of cigarettes.

There never was, and never will be, a universal remedy, for all the ills to which man is heir—be they the ills of many centuries being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill, in the long run, would aggravate the other.

By a medical and judicious use of the most powerful and judiciously selected ingredients, a remedy is prepared which relieves the drooping spirits of those who are afflicted with a chronic state of morbid despondency, lack of interest in life, a general depression, and a nervous system which is overworked and exhausted.

MINARD'S LINIMENT IS USED BY PHYSICIANS

British blast furnaces averaged an output of 22,340 tons last year, against 19,080 tons each ten years ago.

The upkeep of British roads costs the country over $48,000,000 a year. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.

Use Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) to wash woollens and flannels; you'll like it.

Chemically pure iron does not exist commercially. The purest irons are those from Yorkshire and Swedish ores.

The thermometer scale was really invented by Sir Isaac Newton. Fahrenheit, finding that a more intense cold could be created by mixing ice and snow, took that as his zero, and for convenience divided Sir Isaac's scale by four.

Removes all hard, soft or swollen lumps and swellings from the neck, face, arms, legs, etc. It is the most wonderful Swedish Cure ever known.

Mexico is rapidly becoming the greatest of mining countries. 164 new mines were registered in one month recently. Of these 19 were gold, 48 gold and silver, while only 48 produced no precious metal.
