

WOODS' DISINFECTANT.
The Great English Remedy.
Six Pouches Guaranteed to promptly and permanently cure all forms of Nervous Weakness, Emission, Sprue, Gonorrhoea, Impedance and all other ailments of the Urinary System, which soon lead to Insanity, Idiocy, Consumption and other fatal diseases. It is the only reliable and honest medicine known. Ask druggists for Woods' Disinfectant. It is the only medicine in the world which will cure you. Price, one package, $1.00. One year's supply, $5.00. Pouches free to any address. Sold by all Druggists.

Dr. Fred. W. Ivory,
DENTIST.
Office hours 9 am. to 5 p.m.
Office: Residence, King St., Omemee, Ont.

T. Waldon, V. S.,
O.M.E.M.E.E., ONTARIO.
Graduate of the Ont. Veterinary College, registered Member of the Ontario Veterinary Association.
Office: Next door to Adam's Grocery.

J. H. Sootheran,
BANKER & BROKER, 91 Kent, LINDSAY.
Money to Loan on Mortgages at lowest rates.
Approved Indorsed Notes discounted for any term not exceeding 12 months.

Robert Ruddy,
MILLBROOK, ONTARIO.
Millbrook office, over next Post Office.
Omemee office, over Bradburn's Grocery.
O.M.E.M.E.E. EVERY MONDAY.
Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc.
Money to Loan.

T. E. Jennings,
Licensed Auctioneer for the County of Victoria.
Sales attended to in all parts of the County at reasonable rates. From long experience in this line of business, the undersigned is well qualified to give satisfaction, and farmers would do well to give him a call. Apply at the office in the Cardwell House, Omemee, Ont.

The Rathbun Company
PETERBOROUGH.
Branch office—Cor. Murray and Bethune Sts. Lumber, Shingles, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Windows and Doors, Siding, Kitchens, Stoves, Ranges, Bathing, etc.
Sawmills: Coal in Egg, Stove and Nut Sizes. Saw Hill for Siding, Sash, Windows and Siding. Also Coal and Lignite for Foundries.

The Cardwell House,
O.M.E.M.E.E., ONTARIO.
The undersigned, having purchased the above popular hotel, and made great improvements in the interior, respectfully asks a liberal patronage of the travelling public. The house is fitted with electric bells and the best sample rooms of any hotel in the district, which are good accommodations to commensurate. No trouble or expense will be spared to make this house the most comfortable and pleasant in the Midland District. The dining room receives the strictest attention, and the tables are supplied with the best of everything in season. The bar is stocked with the choicest fine wine, beer, wine and cigars. Good stabling and careful hostlers.

WANTED
Good, reliable men can find permanent employment for Maple Grove Nurseries of Waterloo, N. Y. Good SALARY and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. Outfit free. Previous experience not required. Established over 20 years. All goods first-class. Write at once for terms. Address: J. W. MACKAY, Gen. Manager, St. Thomas, Ont.

Five Minutes of your time is wanted by Hughan & Co., at 52 Kent St., Lindsay, to show you the best selection of Novelties for Xmas. Presents ever shown in Lindsay.

Crowds will visit our store every day during the next three weeks. You will be wise to come early and make your selections before the great rush of the last week. For Special Bargains examine our Gold Watches, Celluloid Albums, Jewel Cases, etc. Our display of Toys and dolls is simply fairy land for the little ones. Bring them along and let them see. Note a few of our prices:

Albums 10c., regular 25c.; China Cups and Saucers, regular 25c.; Clocks 90c., regular $1.25; Dolls 1c., 2c., 3c., 5c., 10c., 25c., 49c.; Pocket Books from 3c. up; Mouth Organs, in every key, from 5c. up; Violins from $1.75; Banjos, Mandolins, etc. Hughan & Co. Headquarters for Xmas and Wedding Presents.

For Neat And Artistic Job Work Give The Mirror Office A call. Work Guaranteed, Prices As low As the Lowest.

The Omemee Mirror
OMEMEE, ONTARIO,
IS PUBLISHED
Every Thursday Morning
AT THE OFFICE, KING STREET EAST, IN THE NORRIS BLOCK

A weekly newspaper, published in the interest of the Village of Omemee and surrounding district. All kinds of job printing done at the lowest prices with neatness and despatch.

Subscription, $1.00 a Year.

RATES OF ADVERTISING:
1 YEAR 6 MOS. 3 MOS.
Double Column $75.00 $50.00 $25.00
Single Column 50.00 35.00 20.00
Professional and Business Cards 25.00
Want Advertisements 5c. per line first insertion, 3c. each subsequent insertion. Special rates for longer periods.
Local Notices 5c. per line first insertion, 3c. each subsequent insertion.
Transient advertisements 10c. per line first insertion, 5c. per line each subsequent insertion.

CHAS. W. RICHARDS,
Publisher and Proprietor.

Farm For Sale.
That excellent farm situated six miles from the town of Lindsay, on the south side of Lot No. 2, in the 15th Concession of Emily, comprising 100 acres, 85 of which is under good cultivation, the remainder being in pasture. On the premises is a splendid farm house, good farms and stables and all other outbuildings in splendid condition. The owner will sell at a bargain. For further particulars apply to
JOS. McCONNELL,
O.M.E.M.E.E., P. O.

THE OMEMEE MIRROR.
OMEMEE, THURSDAY, SEPT. 12, 1895.
NO PAPER NEXT WEEK.

THE PREMIER ON HIS TRAVELS.
In a holiday jaunt such as Premier Bowell has been taking the last ten or eleven days there is unquestionably much for a man's observation to feast upon. Unrolled before him is a grand panoramic view of the goodly scenery and the fresh life of the prairie. Improved homesteads and well-stocked ranches dot the plain. The rich colour and wide expanse of the ripened fields, the heavy sheaves, the labouring harvesters, make up a picture that is pleasing both by its beauty and by its wealth. The pure air and the clear sky are enlivening. There is abundance for the man's senses to take in that is wholesome and elevating. And there is abundant food for thought. The Easterner is struck by the distinguishing features of Western farming. He notes that the wheat fields are many times larger than those in Ontario; he misses the big barns of his own province; the headlong haste of the drawing in and the thrashing have a curious interest for him. The way they do things on the prairie will often startle the tenderfoot from the east. But the thing that will likely make the strongest impression upon the traveller's mind is the great transformation that has taken place in that country within a few years. The very Indians are changed. Instead of bands of scalping parties the traveller now meets villages and settlements of industrious Indians, and finds their children attending schools and becoming skilled in the arts of civilization. Instead of a vast waste rounded only by the Indian, the buffalo hunter, and the trader, there is now a flourishing wheat belt. That prairie country no longer has the reputation of being the tired politician's take a holiday in. At this time of the year he will find there all the change that he can possibly need in the stimulating scenery and the invigorating atmosphere. The field, however, is a big one to be covered in a holiday. At 72 a man is not supposed to revel in the continental largeness of such a playground. A small corner of it, a little patch, would seem enough to take in off the railway line. Sir Mackenzie Bowell, however, wants more scope for his movements. He has been travelling pretty steadily since the 25th ult., on prairie trails and on far Western streams. On wagons and in river boats he fared all the way from Edmonton to Battleford. From Battleford to the present, on Prince Albert, where he is now, and whence he leaves to-day for Regina by rail. The ground necessary to be covered for the threading of these three points on the North Saskatchewan is almost 400 miles long. Charming and exhilarating as that far away region is, so long a trip by such rudimentary means of transportation is an exploit which few men so far up in years as the Premier would find themselves equal to. Holidaying at that gait takes a strong constitution in a man over three score and ten. It is possibly, after all, no holiday for the Premier. For the country it is likely to prove valuable work. A more intimate knowledge of the conditions of life in Alberta and Saskatchewan cannot come amiss to any man who is at the head of our Government, and must prove beneficial to the territories.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
In the America's cup contests the American boat seems harder to beat than a china egg.

Mr. Laurier at Chicoutimi:—"Thank God, there is not an Orangeman among us, the Liberals." The day when the people could be to me the direction of the affairs of the country, I shall have but to appeal to the Christian sentiment of my party to render justice to those to whom justice is due."

TAINT A DOG.
"Miss, you can't bring dogs into the car," said a Third Avenue conductor to a young woman, who tenderly held a wriggling little object wrapped up in a shawl.
"Taint a dog," snapped the young woman, and the discomfited conductor retreated to the rear platform amid a general titter. He studied the case for a few minutes, and then, returning to the young woman, said: "Miss, you can't bring cats in neither."
"Taint a cat," said the young woman; "it's a rabbit," and the long ears emerged in confirmation of her assertion. At this the conductor looked puzzled for a moment, and then said: "Well, that's accordin' to the rules of the company; dogs is dogs and cats is cats; but rabbits is insects; so you can stay."

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

It is a notable fact that suggestion plays a prominent part in the commission of crime, and that a crime of a certain kind, suicide for example, is generally followed by one or more others similar in their nature. Such being the case, the decision recently made by the National Medical Congress of Switzerland to vote an address to the press of their country, appealing to it to refrain from maintaining strict silence on the subject of suicide, seems a commendable one. The congress expresses its conviction that the particularly high average of suicides in proportion to the population of Switzerland is due in great measure to the fact that each announcement in the newspapers of any sensational suicide is immediately followed by a large crop of acts of felix de se, perpetrated in a manner similar to the one described in print; but unless the newspapers of the little Republic are restrained by law it is hardly likely that they will leave out news of such a character.

WE DO NOT HOLD OURSELVES RESPONSIBLE FOR THE OPINIONS EXPRESSED BY OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

COMMUNICATION.
EDITOR MIRROR:
DEAR SIR—As a few people have allowed themselves to become excited over the article written by me for your last week's issue, and inserted under the heading submitted by a picnic correspondent. I will state briefly for the information of those interested, that the facts connected with the writing of the article. After the "accident," as we sat at tea on the grounds, the suggestion was made that some one ought to write up the incident. Several names were mentioned as one with plenty of leisure. After turning the thing over in my mind, I decided to try to present the ludicrous side of the affair to the readers of the Mirror. There did not appear to me to be any other side to it. When I handed the article to Mr. Richardson, he said he did not care to take the responsibility of it. I told him he could put my name to it, or any heading he chose. As to the descriptions I was indebted largely to Mr. Thornton himself for them. As to the article having any insidious purpose, or any idea ever entered my mind, I did not for one moment imagine that Mr. Thornton was intoxicated. I did not intend my words to convey that idea, and it never occurred to me that such an idea ever entered my mind. I take that back and say that I do not know what Mr. T. carries there. If any one wants any further explanation I am to be seen at my house or about town any day.

Yours truly,
A. ORR.
August 30th, 1895.

EDITOR MIRROR.
SIR—There was an incomplete sentence in my last letter, which would if printed as I intended to write, have covered that pit into which Young Canada thought I had fallen. I would have said that in the discussion of public matters, anonymity is generally preferable, as otherwise attention may be drawn away from the question at issue by considerations personal to the writer. But in the discussion of matters purely personal I believe that, almost without exception, the real name of the writer should be attached to the communication. There are of course some exceptions to every rule, and I vow to your opinion that this is one of them, though the reason is not evident to an outside reader such as.

Yours faithfully,
AN OLD JOURNALIST.
[The above was crowded out last week.]

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE PEOPLE'S IDOL, DAN MCCARTHY.
This Favorite Irish Comedian to Appear at the Toronto Opera House during the Two Weeks of the Exhibition.
Mellow, genial, beaming and clever Dan McCarthy, with his supporting company of some twenty or more people, singing, dancing and making merry in the jolly Irish comedy dramas "The Rambler from Clare" and "The Pride of Mayo," will be the attraction at the ever-popular Toronto Opera House during the two weeks of the Toronto Fair—Sept. 2nd to 14th. Irish comedy drama seems to be about the proper thing to put on during the Exhibition. Dan McCarthy is a great favorite in Toronto and will prove an especial favorite with the visitors to the Fair. Since the death of Dion Boucicault, the mental collapse of W. J. Scanlan and the reported retirement of Joseph Murphy, we have no exponent of legitimate Irish character except Dan McCarthy. He, on the stage, is a cheery, humorous Irish boy, with a ready wit, a good song and a pretty colleen. There are some who do not care for Irish dramas, but the great mass of people like nothing better and will have a good opportunity of indulging their taste, for Mr. McCarthy will give no less than nineteen performances during the period of the Fair, including the usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees each week. Ladies and children need not hesitate to attend, for the most fastidious can find nothing to object to in any play written or staged by Dan McCarthy. He writes all his own plays and songs, and anyone who knows anything of theatrical matters has heard of his "The Cruisken Lawn," "Dear Irish Boy," "True Irish Hearts," "McCarthy's Cat," "The Greenhorn," "The Rambler from Clare," and "The Pride of Mayo." These are the plays that have made him rich and famous. We personally know many better actors whom we would pass by any day to see Dan McCarthy, the brother of a boy, ready for a fight or a song, or a flirtation, or whatever luck may send his way. It was wise of Manager Small to secure Mr. McCarthy for the two weeks of the Fair, and the compliment paid the actor is great, for we do not remember any previous occasion when an actor held the boards of that house for two weeks.

As is customary at the Toronto Opera House, there will not be any increase in the regular popular prices of the theatre during the Fair.

On Friday a very pleasant picnic, in connection with Magee's school, was held in Magee's grove, Orange Corners. A large number was present and seemed well pleased with the sports and football tournament. Orange Corners and Mt. Pleasant were the first to kick the leather. The game was well played by both sides and resulted in Mt. Pleasant gaining two goals and Orange Corners one. The next struggle took place between The Thistles, champions of Smithtown, and Mt. Pleasant. Excellent playing was now shown but Mt. Pleasant—owing to their being "played out"—let their opponents win by one goal. The O. C. football team will soon come to the front.

The games were presided over by Mr. Hooper who gave excellent prizes. The following is the result:—
Egg Race, 1st. S. Shaw.
Boys' race, under 12, 1st R. Padget, 2nd J. Foster.
Boys' race, under 16, 1st W. Howden, sr., 2nd M. Sherin.
3 legged race, 1st R. Padget and J. Courtain, 2nd M. Sherin and E. Jackson.
Boat race, 1st W. Howden, M. Elliott, 3rd E. Jackson.
Girls' race, 1st E. Doube, 2nd H. Henri.
Half mile race, 1st A. Mutton, 2nd J. Boyd, 3rd W. Warner.
[The above was crowded out last week.]

Card of Thanks.
OMEMEE, SEPT. 10TH, 1895.
To F. C. TAYLOR,
Agent Imperial Ins. Co.,
Lindsay, Ont.
DEAR SIR—I wish to thank your company for their prompt and generous payment of my loss. My dwelling was destroyed by fire on Monday, Sept. 2nd inst. The claim was settled on Thursday and on Saturday following a cheque for $312. was in my hands for me.
THOS. S. HENDERSON,
Omemee, P. O.

TAINT A DOG.
"Miss, you can't bring dogs into the car," said a Third Avenue conductor to a young woman, who tenderly held a wriggling little object wrapped up in a shawl.
"Taint a dog," snapped the young woman, and the discomfited conductor retreated to the rear platform amid a general titter. He studied the case for a few minutes, and then, returning to the young woman, said: "Miss, you can't bring cats in neither."
"Taint a cat," said the young woman; "it's a rabbit," and the long ears emerged in confirmation of her assertion. At this the conductor looked puzzled for a moment, and then said: "Well, that's accordin' to the rules of the company; dogs is dogs and cats is cats; but rabbits is insects; so you can stay."

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

THE LAWS REGARDING NEWSPAPERS.
1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3