The Emily Fall Fair will be held in Omemee, on Oct. 8th and 9th. The prize list will be issued in pamphlet form next week. The officers in connection are sparing no pains in making this the best show that has ever been held here. Better prizes are being offered for competition.

Early on Saturday morning three burglars broke into the house of Mr. John Bullock, who lives near Parkhill, Ont., tied him with ropes, and burned the soles of his feet with matches until he told them where what money he had was to be found. They secured $35 cash, a watch, and a horse and buggy.

Bennett Bros. have received contracts for about a dozen monuments which are to be erected this fall. This speaks well for the above gentlemen, as they have only been established a few months in town. When you wish to have a monument or headstone erected, give them a call and you will receive satisfaction.

Last week being the first for duck shooting, there was a big exodus for the beds. To show the popularity of Weir's Landing, there were twelve canoes anchored at this point early last week, besides others at Carrols, Muskara Islands as well as other places of interest. The fishing and duck shooting continue very good.

A mad dog in Harrison, N. J., chased a little girl into the office of an insurance company, where it came to grief. As the girl ran into the office she turned to close the door and pinned the dog between it and the frame. The dog yelped and struggled, but the girl threw her entire weight against the door and held the dog fast until a clerk hunted up a club and killed it.

Samuel English, formerly of Omemee, has leased the hotel at Mount Pleasant from George Seney, and having made improvements on the premises, intends conducting a first-class house in every respect. His tables will be found to be well laden with reasonable delicacies and at the very low rates per meal or for the day. Mr. English in this department should receive a good patronage.

On Monday afternoon, the members of Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church packed their bale, which is to be sent to Union Lake Diocese of Saskatchewan, containing new clothing, quilts, groceries and twenty second hand articles. Value of bale $56.95, of which the knitting alone amounted to $10.45. In valuation of bale, neither work nor second hand articles are included; freight $6.40, total $63.35. This represents an increase of work and interest in this branch, as their pledges to Zenana, Northwest and Diocese Missions have been paid up to date.

Until a man takes to bicycle riding himself he is a determined opponent of the encroachments of wheelmen upon the comfort of pedestrians, and is ready on due provocation to become the champion of the whole latter class. But once he has broken in a silent steed of his own he begins to smart under the cool insolence and large pretensions of those self-same foot travellers. Most people are in favour of putting a cog on the wheel until they are able to buy or ride one themselves. Then they want the pedestrians kept down.

Send us 25c. for a trial trip to the MIRROR and you will be convinced that it is alive to all local happenings.

Attend to the children's teeth, for on them much depends the proper development of the permanent teeth.

Mr. Foster has bought a bicycle, and is doing New Brunswick by road. But Mr. Laurier could ride the wheel more successfully. He has been balancing himself so completely with respect to certain questions that he is an expert, even without preliminary practice.

It is our sad duty to have to chronicle the death of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings' little girl, which took place on Saturday afternoon last, from a complication of diseases. The funeral took place about 10.30 the same night. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community in this their sad bereavement.

According to the Winnipeg Free Press, the wages of harvest hands about Carberry are $2 a day and board, and the farmers are calling for more men. All the capable, willing workers who went up on the harvest excursions seem to have had no difficulty in finding employment at good pay. The sole authority for the story that crowds of the new arrivals could get nothing to do appears to have been a handful of loafers who went on that expedition of industrious men.

Among other cases that came before His Honor, Judge Ketchum, at Millbrook, on Thursday last was that of Mr. C. W. Richards, Editor of THE OMEMEE MIRROR, vs. Mr. John H. Delamere, Editor of THE MIRROR ECO, in which the plaintiff, C. W. Richards, claimed $54.25. Within two minutes after the case was taken in hand, judgment was given plaintiff for full amount of claim with costs, which amount in all to nearly $70. Mr. R. Ruddy, of Millbrook, appeared for plaintiff, and in this as well as many other cases he had on hand that day showed the ability he has attained in his profession.

We might say in reference to the article that appears in the Mount Pleasant correspondence to the Lindsay Evening Post of Sept. 4th, in regard to the article under the head of "Paper War," that the Editor of THE MIRROR is not concerned in the matter, of which this correspondent makes no free to speak, and has not done those things which he is accused of doing. In reference to omitting some of the heaviest sentences in the letters written by the Mount Pleasant base ball writers, thereby giving their rivals an advantage, we emphatically deny that we did. We feel that Mount Pleasant boys were not treated as they should have been by the Omemee club, but it was through a misunderstanding on the part of our boys that they failed to be present at the picnic, held at Mount Pleasant on Dominion Day. We trust that the correspondent to the Post will consider his statements in future and not make so many misleading ones, as he leaves himself open to a serious charge, should the person alluded to choose to show him up. Remember not signing your name to your writings will not shelter you any.

Notwithstanding the fact that it takes a large expenditure of both time and capital to produce a newspaper, there is no calling in life where so much is expected for little or nothing. Some men suppose the payment of a small yearly subscription entitles them to five, ten and twenty times the amount in free advertising; while others, again, take it as a matter of course that they can get as many extra copies of the paper as they may require during the year to send away to their friends, and not pay anything for them. Many merchants also expect and demand a one hundred dollar space, with ten twenty-five or thirty dollars worth of free puff blown in, for forty or fifty dollars, or in some cases even less. Is there a farmer in this country who will give us a bag of potatoes or a load of wood to-day and give us two to-morrow for nothing because we patronized him to-day? Not much; they are not built that way. Is there a merchant in the town who will gratuitously hand us over a five cent spool of thread, a yard of fabric or any other little article every time we ask him, simply because we have spent a few dollars in his store during the year? We guess not, and if there are any such mortals living here would like to run across them. It would be sheer nonsense to expect or ask such a thing, and yet that is the way a newspaper man is expected to run his business.

DIED.

In Omemee, on Saturday, Sept. 7th, inst., Flora M. Mather, wife of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jennings, aged 2 years.

Missionary Sermon.

One of the best missionary sermons ever heard in Omemee was preached on Sunday, Sept. 1st, in Christ Church, by Rev. J. Cooper Robinson, late missionary of Nagasaki, Japan. The speaker was listened to with profound attention, and a liberal offering was given him for his work in the Masters' service. This was supplemented by an additional $5.00 from Sabbath School in afternoon. Mr. R., who expects to return to Japan in a few months, asks to be remembered in the prayers of all those who love, and look for the Lord's appearing.

An Explanation.

We learn with regret that the article published in our last issue relating to the canoe accident at the Presbyterian Sunday School picnic has given offence to many of our most appreciated readers. If the article was interpreted as meant to reflect unfavourably upon anyone it has been misinterpreted; nothing was further from the mind of our correspondent and from our own. We admit that some of the statements in it were such as are not justified by the circumstances of the case, but they were inserted in nothing but the best of good natural humor. At the same time we hereby express our sincere regret that the language and style of the article were such as to admit of the misinterpretation of its spirit, and we hope that all parties concerned, especially Mr. J. D. Thornton, will accept this as an explanation.

Send us 25c. for a trial trip to the MIRROR and you will be convinced that it is alive to all local happenings.

PERSONAL.

The Mirror invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of personal nature, such as the arrival and departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a postal card to THE MIRROR and give particulars and we will do the rest.

Advertising Pays.

He was an undertaker grim, And life held ne'er a joy for him; For in a town a year he'd been, And not a corpse had come to him. And why, he was the only one By whom the death word could be done; For the little town was scarce alive, So as he pondered dear one day, He these wise words did softly say: "The air is pure, the doctors good, And no one could die if he would; And since I see that no one dies, I guess it's time to advertise." Straightaway he wrote a full-page ad in a hand that would drive a printer mad.

And into the Weekly Boom he came, Where an editor, Bill Jones by name, Was wondering how his family could Live on subscriptions paid in wood; When in the undertaker walked And said, (nor smiled he as talked) "I've a full page ad which, if you have room,

"I'd like to insert in the Weekly Boom; And I'll pay in advance," he produced the red.

But to see further, for Jones fell dead. He took the page to the old press room; "This is to go in the Weekly Boom," He said: "And be sure not an error make."

For my reputation is at stake." The printers took it, and one poor fool Killed himself with a colic-rue; When the other one on the copy looked, He gave an groan and his goos looked.

Canada's Great Fair for 1895.

"Greater and better than ever," "Excelling all others," and "It draws like a Magnet," are terms very appropriately applied to Toronto's Great Industrial Fair, the seventeenth of which will be held from the 2nd to the 14th of September next, and the Directors announce their determination to make this year's Fair eclipse all former ones. They have issued a very neatly gotten up prize list, a copy of which can be procured by anyone who so desires, by dropping a post card to Mr. H. J. Hill, the Manager, at Toronto. Already many applications have been received from manufacturers both in Canada and from abroad for space to exhibit their products, and present indications point to a greater and grander Exhibition than any of the previous ones. Cheap excursions will, as usual, be run on all railroads, and this will undoubtedly be the most popular holiday out in the year. Numerous new and interesting attractions will be provided. Almost everyone who claims to be kept posted on the progress of our country goes to the Toronto Fair, which is generally admitted to be the best on this continent.
