Messrs. E. A. Kerr, H. Duncan, Thos. Natrass and Alex. Irwin, of Millbrook, wheeled to Omemee Sunday and spent the day. They are always welcome visitors to town. There seems to be quite an attraction here for the young men of other towns. Our good looking young women may be answerable.

Death Comes in Many Ways.

An Ex-Alderman Drowns Himself in Ten Inches of Water. GIRL DROWNS HERSELF.

THREE PEOPLE KILLED BY LIGHTNING IN QUEBEC. A Young Girl Burned to Death in Her Father's Office.

Peterboro, Ont., Aug. 30.—On Tuesday, about 8.30 a. m., a lady's bicycle was left near the superintendent's office at the Little Lake cemetery town. The rider was not seen by anyone about the cemetery. The police were notified, and the fact printed, but no one claimed the wheel, and Saturday night on dusk the canoeists coming up the river caught sight of something floating in the water above the canoe slide. The object swung under the slide and was carried down by the current. They then saw it was the body of a woman. They paddled into the current and secured the body, which was taken to shore. The police were notified, and the body brought to town. On Tuesday a young woman named Fraser, daughter of Mr. John Fraser, left home on her wheel to go for a ride. She did not return, and her family, having friends in the country, supposed she had gone to visit them. Yesterday they came to town and on enquiry said they had not seen the girl. Her family alarmed, instituted a search. Her brother hearing of the wheel at the cemetery looked it up and identified it as her wheel. When the body was laid out it was at once identified as that of the missing girl. Her condition points to the case as one of suicide. Friends were sent for and identified the body, which was afterwards prepared for burial. The coroner Dr. Bell, was summoned and he decided after a thorough inspection of the body that there was no evidence to point to violence, and that the circumstances all verified the inference of suicide. An inquest was not held and the body was interred during the afternoon.

Walkerton, Aug. 30.—A sad accident occurred here by which a fine young girl, seventeen years of age, eldest daughter of Rev. Wm. Tindell, lost her life. She was sewing in her father's office when the lid of the desk fell down on the lamp, breaking it and spilling the contents over her clothing. In an instant she was enveloped in flames, and so badly burned that she died in a few days.

Aubrey, Que., Aug. 30.—During a storm the outbuildings belonging to Dr. Beaudin, near St. Chrysotome, were struck by lightning, killing Mr. D. Beaudin and his two sons, also a pair of horses. The buildings were set on fire by lightning and were burned to the ground. They were well stocked with grain and farming implements, which were also consumed. Three other persons, who were in the buildings at the time of the occurrence, narrowly escaped death. They are all badly scorched. The loss on the property destroyed will be considerable.

Brantford, Aug. 30.—A shocking suicide occurred in this city yesterday. Ex-Ald. Charles Farrell walked deliberately into the Grand River and lay down to die. At noon his body was found in ten inches of water of water. Shortly after noon one of the hands—Mr. Murray, employed at the buildings of the Southern Fair Board, went down to fish. He had just eaten his dinner on the river bank and was about to throw in his line when he saw a body lying in the water some ten feet from the shore and in such shallow water that while his head and face was submerged the back was high and dry. Mr. Murray pulled the body out and gave the alarm, when it was found to be ex-Ald. Charles Farrell. Deceased had come down to the water's edge right at the very end of the dyke. He took his hat, coat and vest and folded them up on the river bank with a large stone upon them to keep them from blowing away. He then walked towards the edge, because his crutch was found there, and then lay down in the shallow water, and, holding on to the stones in the river bed, drowned himself. In one of the pockets of the unfortunate man was found a letter addressed to his family and containing a few words of farewell. Mr. Farrell was a great sufferer from rheumatism and doubtless his great pain and long suffering disheartened him until it subsequently overbalanced his mind. Deceased, who resided at the corner of Oak and Winnett streets, leaves a wife and one daughter. He served several years as alderman and as a member of the Public School Board, and was respected by all who knew him.—Toronto News.

T. W. Trotter, Esq., Webwood, Ont., prominent in the ranks of the most energetic business of Northern Ontario who have acquired an honest competence by shrewdness and strict attention to business stands the subject of our sketch. Mr. Trotter was born in the village of Omemee, Co. Victoria, in the year 1860, where he spent the first ten years of his life. In 1870 the family removed to Grey County but only remained one year, going to Manitowish Island in 1871 where they engaged in farming. At the age of nineteen Mr. Trotter decided to give up farm life and commenced studying for a teacher and succeeded in passing his examination one year later. He taught successfully on the Island for three years, after which he bought and shipped ties for some time. He then embarked into the mercantile business at Shegungah, which he carried on profitably for five years, and while here he entered the municipal field and held the position of reeve of the Township of Howland for three years. In 1889 he disposed of his business and took a trip through the Western States, returning by way of Vancouver, where he located land. The appearance of Manitoba's magnificent grain fields on the return trip were so alluring, that Mr. Trotter had decided to remove to that province but at urgent solicitations of friends he decided to remain in the east. The year 1893 saw him owner of the T. W. Kirk property and store in Webwood. The same year the Township of Hallam was formed and the present reeve materially assisted in the organization of the new municipality of which he was the first reeve, and we may say the only one, as he has been elected by acclamation in '94, '95, '96 and the present year. He sold out his business in Webwood some time ago and at present is resting on his laurels, enjoying the fruits of his persistent labor and excellent business methods. The popular reeve was married in 1893 to Miss Annie Reekie of Collingwood, and the esteemed couple have an interesting family of two children.—Sudbury Mining News.

On Sunday we called into the house of mourning to see the last remains of the late Mr. Coombe, around which it was pleasing to see the loving tribute of friends in the large collection of beautiful flowers, thus showing the respect and esteem in which the deceased is held by her many friends and sorrowing husband, sons, and other relatives who have lost an affectionate wife, loving mother and kind friend who will be missed by all: Gone but not forgotten, and his never dying influence of a true Christian life still lives in the memories of those with whom she was associated and no doubt has been and will be a choice and faithful attendant during the years of her well-spent life, unless prevented by illness. We tender sympathy to the bereaved friends, knowing that they have the great and only true consolation that their loved one has passed away from all pain, sorrow and tribulation to be forever with the Lord, happy and free from all the troubles which mortality is subject to.—Millbrook correspondence to the Port Hope Guide of Aug. 30th.
