The Citizens Band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lamb, at their residence, King st., Friday evening. After playing a few choice selections they were invited into the house where a sumptuous repast was served. After supper, games and music were indulged in till the wee sma' hours were drawing nigh, when the guests thanked the host and hostess for their kind hospitality and returned to their homes.

It is computed that the farms and gardens of Canada, if all had the privilege of reading regularly the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, would be worth several millions more than their market value today. The Family Herald and Weekly Star evidently knows how to secure the work of the best brains. It is a great paper from whatever standpoint we choose to look at it, and it has the support of the entire Dominion. We deem it to be in the interest of the readers of the Mirror that all should club with such a paper as the Family Herald and Weekly Star and for a limited time offer our paper with it for one year at $1.00. It is safe to say that the Family Herald stands out conspicuously as one of the greatest values for the money open to mankind today.

The following letter from Miss Tims will be read with pleasure by her many friends: (From Miss Tims, Hay River, to J. DOUGLASS, PRESIDENT, JUNE, '97.) You will want to hear of our work; of this I may say we have plenty. At present we are house-cleaning, and I am running in and out, first in the school-room superintending the children's lessons, then getting dinner, and so on, with Indians or their wives coming constantly, and of course must be seen; we have to be very careful to treat them all alike, as they get very jealous. They are watching anxiously for the home-coming of Yati (the minister) of whom they are very fond; there will be great rejoicing when he comes. To-day I have had five little services, attended by between forty and fifty Indians. I read and told them of the parable of the Sower, and they were most attentive; then I went to a poor old widow, she has been ill a long time, and, with her son, is very glad to have me come to read and pray. We have now come from the school house, where we have been singing hymns-the Indians are so fond of hymns-we had fourteen all singing. Our dear Bishop wrote to say he could not come until the second trip of the steamer, and then Mr. Marsh will be home. I think I told you of one of the Indians getting out logs for us to finish our new kitchen, and also to make some new furniture. Two boys, saved them for us, and we have now two thousand one hundred and fifty feet of lumber, and are very proud indeed of it; out of this we have made a cupboard for milk, and a large box to hold supplies, it is six feet long, so we can make up a bed upon it if necessary. Every spare moment lately has been spent in the garden, which means so much to us; we added an acre this spring, and are planting potatoes and cabbage. We have mustard, cress, radish, carrots, etc., all are up except parsnips and turnips. I have made a hot bed and have plenty of things coming on. We had to get the Indians to help with the garden, all the oxen in the place, but one, died last winter, and it is slow work plowing with only one ox. The Indians are very anxious to work, some days we would have ten or more asking for work; our rule is to give work to all who ask and a meal with it, so you see we sometimes had very lively times. They always want me to work with them, and were much amused when I showed them how to plant potatoes, and to dig.

June 23, I have been too busy to finish this, but must tell you we are so glad of pictures; some one sent us the large rolls they use for infant classes at home, and they have been such a help; the Indians never tire of looking at pictures, and are so pleased to get one for their very own. We can teach them Scripture truths so much better when they look at the picture. The mosquitoes are terribly bad this year, worse than flies at home. I must ask you to return humble and earnest thanks to our Heavenly Father for all His goodness to me since I came here. I never had better health, and slowly but surely I feel that God's Word is winning its way into the hearts of the people. Last Sunday the old Chief's wife said she was thankful to me, but that her heart was very bad; then some of our boys went to sleep during the service, and "Sunrise" gave them a severe lecture, telling them they came to hear of God not to sleep, that it was a sin to sleep in God's house. Give my love to all W. A. friends, ask them to continue most frequent in prayer that God may bless our work and many souls be brought into His Church.

BORN In the Township of Ops, on Sunday morning, Oct. 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson, a daughter.

DIED On Sunday evening, Oct. 17th, Helen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson.

Sergeant-Major Martin's Flag. (Written on the forty-third anniversary of Alma, on seeing the flag hoisted at Sergt. Major Martin's residence Rus, sel st.) 'Tis the banner of a veteran Flaunting proudly o'er his door, Telling in its own sweet language, Of the victories of yore.

On the breezes float the echoes-Alma and Sebastopol, Inkermann and Balacava-They upheld Britannia's rule. I've no love for war or carnage, Nor the war-flood stern and grim, Yet when'er I find a hero I must duly honor him. Here's a health to veteran Martin: Long may his flag unfurl, Brightening up our martial memories 'Mid oblivion's giddy whirl. -E. E. Sharpe, in Victoria Warder.

Toronto Has a Hog Market. Toronto, Oct. 18-Friday was a record breaker at the Toronto hog market. From Thursday at twelve o'clock until Saturday at four o'clock over 5,000 hogs came upon the boards, and every one was taken by Mr. Wm. Harris. That is the largest run of hogs in the record of the yards, and proves that Toronto is fast becoming the Chicago of Canada. In spite of the heavy run prices were maintained but prospects are for lower prices. Saturday 5 1-4c ruled for best selections, but next week the top will be 5 1-8c. Thick fat hogs will bring $4.75 per cwt., light hogs $5 and sows $3.50. Mr. Harris says that although the day was a heavy one, yet he and his sons might have handled more.

The Daily Cartoon from the pen of Mr. Sam Hunter in the Toronto World is the most widely recognized single feature in any newspaper in Canada. Mr. Hunter has a marvelous faculty of focussing in one of his cartoons the rays of public opinion on each great question as it arises. These cartoons are alone worth the price of the paper, and are treasured all over Canada. Mr. Hunter has personified the Canadian Farmer in true lines. His drawings are always pointed, always humorous, and never offensive. Mr. Hunter draws exclusively for the World. The Mirror and the World one year for $3.00, the price of the World alone.
