Wilson's Royal Oak Hotel.
Having leased the above well known Hotel, I will be at home to my old friends and new guests every day in the week—Sunday excepted. The Royal Oak has been overhauled, and "summer followed" new grates have been put in, and excellent accommodation afforded at moderate rates. A tip-top table, a well-kept bar, a commodious parlour and ample stable accommodation ought to "fill the bill." Come and see me. Yours truly

The Nativity.
BY JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.
"What means this glory round our feet?"
The Magi muse, "more bright than morn?"
And voices chanted clear and sweet,
"To-day the Prince of Peace is born."
"What means that star," the shepherds said,
"That brightens through the rocky glen?"
And angels answering overhead
Sang "Peace on earth, good will to men."
And they who do their souls no wrong,
But keep alive the faith of morn,
Shall daily hear the angels' song,
"To-day the Prince of Peace is born."

Mount Pleasant.
Special to the Mirror.
The attendance at the tea and lecture in connection with the reopening of the Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church, was all that could be expected, considering the unfavorable night. The ladies done their duty in preparing what would satisfy the palate of any epicure; there was plenty of butter but no sawdust in the materials used for making those delicious cakes and pies that appeared in such abundance on the tables. The ladies of this locality are noted for their special baking qualities, and their generous spirit so that there is always enough and to spare. The strange text of the Lecturer brought a great many from a distance, who were prompted by curiosity to hear "How to Eat Sawdust Without Butter."
The chairman, Rev. J. U. Tanner, in a nice short speech, introduced the Rev. J. G. Potter, who after relating some amusing anecdotes, commenced his lecture, which is suitable for the times we are living in, as many of our young men are anxious to get to the top of the ladder, without climbing from the bottom, the lecture was full of information for the old and young, who listened attentively to the explanation of the text "How to Eat Sawdust Without Butter."
The church choir rendered some delightful anthems, showing their high musical talents.
A vote of thanks was given to the Lecturer and also to the Choir, after which the Rev. J. G. Potter pronounced the benediction.
Rev. J. U. Tanner favored his congregation here with a Christmas Sermon on the 20th inst.; his text will be found in Luke 2, 14; he said, God prepared the world for the reception of the Saviour as "Augustus" the Roman Emperor, ruled over all the then known world, and one language, (the Greek) prevailed. Communication with the different parts of the Empire was open, so that news spread rapidly, which was necessary; as a proof of this, Paul says in the first epistle to the Colossians: "Which is come unto you as it is in all the world," so that we can say, "God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform, &c."
Enquiry was made for J. D., but he could not be found; was he like Saul, the son of Kish—sorry he missed the good spread and the advice given to young men by the Lecturer.

LEEANON.
Special to the Mirror.
On Monday, while Mr. E. Morgan was drawing a load of grain to Mount Pleasant, his horses became unmanageable, just as they were on the culvert, west of Mr. Alex. Lang's, over which they leaped, taking the wagon and its load of grain after them, but fortunate for Mr. Morgan he saw the danger he was in by going with the load, and leaped off on the opposite side, however, the horses made good their escape and ran about fifty rods, when one of them slipped and fell, injuring his back so severely that he had to be taken to his stable for treatment, but notwithstanding every effort was made to relieve the suffering of the poor beast, Mr. Morgan had to kill him on Tuesday morning, so as to put it out of misery. Mr. Morgan would not have been offered it before he got injured. Much sympathy is felt for Ed. in his loss of such a fine horse.
Miss M. Mark, our highly respected teacher, has gone to her home at Little Britain, to spend the holidays. We wish her a peaceful Xmas, and a prosperous New Year.
Miss Houghtan, of Lindsay, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. Alex. Lang's, returned to her home yesterday. Miss H. is quite popular as a reciter.
Rev. D. N. McCamus, of Port Perry, preached a most eloquent sermon to a very large congregation in the Lebanon Church on Sunday afternoon.

The Mirror congratulates Mr. Mrs. Hill upon the success attending their efforts. Mr. Hill is one of our most popular Methodist Ministers and has been most ably assisted, in his congregations, social meetings, and the financial standing of church. His hearers are trained to their reasoning faculties and their themselves. His sermons, prayers, devotion and actions breathe hope, confidence in humanity, in the Empire, and his God.
