That's the whole thing in a nutshell. Every garment around the half price mark.

We told you last week how this happened.

The Canadian Manufacturer (who shares the loss) says we must sell these goods at once. And sell we will.

There's no lagging, no sailing close to shore. We'll sell every garment this side of Christmas, no doubt of it.

These are the kinds of sales you usually see in February, but this comes when it is most appreciated, and when almost all the winter is ahead of you.

The selling has been very great, but there are plenty yet to choose satisfactorily from.

Just note the reductions shown below and think how many Christmas gifts you can buy with the savings. Yes, and why not buy these now for gifts.

SALUTATORY.

In making our bow to the people of Millbrook and the surrounding country we wish simply to say that we have started this paper here because we believe there is ample room for another paper and job office in the town. We are certain we can make the business here did not think so, it would be foolish of us to have started here; it seems to us there is a good opening, and we take advantage of it. But we are sure that, no matter how good the opening, no business can be made to pay unless conducted on strict business principles. It is in such a manner that we intend to conduct this office. This newspaper shall be kept up-to-date in every respect. We intend to make it pre-eminently a local journal. All matters and questions affecting the town of Millbrook and the surrounding country shall have our first consideration.

BAND CONCERT.

The concert given under the auspices of the Millbrook Citizens' Band, on Friday evening last, was very much enjoyed by those who attended.

Any entertainment given under the band auspices should be well patronized,—as the citizens generally owe at least a little to the band, which has discoursed sweet music weekly, throughout the summer months,—but when they go to the great expense of bringing a talented Company of Entertainers, such as the Adra Lutton Concert Co., they should have a bumper house. The people who did not attend missed a rare treat. The program was one of the best and most evenly balanced we have had the pleasure of listening to.

The program was opened by an instrumental selection from Grosvenor, by Irene Hitchcox Bartlett, followed by a Baritone Solo, "I'm wearing my heart away for you," by A. Blackwell Smith. Mr. Smith has a voice full of power, and his pronunciation is very distinct. For each of his numbers he received well merited applause, and was recalled each time for an encore selection. Then followed a Soprano Solo, "Bobolink," from Bischoff, by Irene Hitchcox. This, together with her selection, "When Thou Art Near," and "Ah, fors'ie lui," from Verdi, (La Traviata), sung in Italian, were beautifully rendered. Miss Lutton has a voice of remarkable sweetness and magnetism, and cannot fail to please any audience. She is indeed a leader among sopranos.

The concert was given by Irene Hitchcox, who rendered, "The Song of the Lark," "The Song of the Lark," and "The Song of the Lark," and she was responded each time, which was a very interesting feature.

The National Anthem was sung by one of the best ensembles given in the hall. The concert was given by Irene Hitchcox, who rendered, "The Song of the Lark," "The Song of the Lark," and "The Song of the Lark," and she was responded each time, which was a very interesting feature.

Mr. Fred Cann, of Emily, was in town, this week, on business.

Yesterday, being the 18th anniversary of the opening of St. Paul's church the services both morning and evening were well attended. Rev. Mr. Daniel's of Port Hope, preached a very interesting sermon in the morning and in the evening the Venerable Archdeacon Allen, M. A. of Millbrook, delivered a very instructive and helpful sermon, his subject being "Christ and Him Crucified." Special music was furnished by the choir. While the offering was being taken, Mrs. (Dr.) Walters sang a solo in the morning, "Thy Will be Done," and in the evening, "The Lord is Mindful of His Own." The special collections which were in aid of the church debt will amount to $900, of which amount the Sunday School contributed $50.—Lindsay Post of Nov. 30th, 1903.

The Methodist Epworth League held a literary and social meeting in the lecture room of the church, last Monday night, which was ably presided over by Mr. Walter Hetherington, who introduced quite a novel and interesting programme, which was well carried out and reflected great credit upon the committee, whose tact and literary taste was admirably seen in the planning of such an intellectual treat, in which, it was the privilege of the large number present to take part, and helped to refresh their memories respecting different Authors from whose writings several short selections were read. By an ingenious plan the company was divided into quartettes seated at small tables, provided with sheets of paper, on which were 25 questions to be answered with the name of an Author. Through an unforseen division some of the gentlemen were left in a lonely quartette, whose loss was others gain. Notwithstanding this, all present apparently enjoyed themselves well. Miss Maud Nugent rendered a solo, Miss May Duncan playing the accompaniment, in their usual pleasing manner, and towards the close, refreshments were served, and no doubt through this social, some pleasant acquaintances were formed and we trust that the League will have many more such social gatherings which help to increase and strengthen the friendly intercourse which should bind us together in christian unity.

COUNTRY VS. CITY.

Ontario country editor thus says: "The sun browned, hand-footed, hard-fisted country makes a much better fight in life than the pampered and creased-trousered cities, whose clothes have been dusted with a whisk broom and a shingle. Let the city of a job try a year on handles, saws, cow ties, ready-mixed paints, stove polish, shoe dressing, churns, washing machines, clothes wringers, cream separators, sewing machines, etc. at lowest possible prices.—W. D. Stinson, Omemece.

Farmers' Institute Meetings.

Sessions of the East Durham Farmer's Institute were held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday, and were of a very profitable and interesting nature. The President, Mr. T. A. Kelly, ably filled the chair, and gave a brief, but interesting address. Mr. Rayner was then called upon to address the meeting. His subjects were "Concrete and Its Uses," and "The Plant and the Soil." Referring to concrete, the speaker claimed that it was largely supplanting the use of wood for floors in stables, it also having an extended use in the building of basement walls, cisterns, tile drains, and for everything where masonry work is required. With concrete a farmer could be his own mason largely. The method of putting in floors in horse or cow stables as well as pig pens was outlined. The points emphasized were getting a level, firm bottom, good clean gravel, careful mixing of loam and cement and gravel—both dry and wet,—and the ramming of it well home in the floor itself. The ordinary rocks cements, both the Queenston and Thorl brands were very satisfactory for making stable floors, etc. Among the farmers present it was found that only one, Mr. A. Fallis, Secy of the East Durham Farmers' Institute,—had made any use of the cement in this way. The speaker strongly urged any farmer changing floors to consider concrete to be the cheapest, most durable and satisfactory floors that are put in.

In opening the subject of "The Plant and the Soil," the speaker outlined the sources of plant food required in building up the plants, which in their turn give us the important food constituents necessary for stock. Three elements entering into plant growth were emphasized as being specially important to the farmer, viz: nitrogen, valued on a commercial basis at 14c. per lb.; phosphoric acid, 5c. lb., and potash 4c. lb. Farm yard manure contains all these ingredients, when both the liquids and solid parts were properly saved and applied to the land. It was remarked in this connection that farm yard manure applied fresh from the stables, spread on the land and kept as near the surface as possible, gave best results. The clover plant was the cheapest supply of nitrogen the farmer could use, and in any system of rotation of crops adopted by the farmer, clover should come in at least every 3rd, 4th or 5th year. No wood ashes should be sold off any farm, as they furnish a limited supply of potash.

Mr. Rayner is an able speaker, and has the happy faculty of commanding attention.

The afternoon session for women was held in the Orange Hall. Miss Agnes Smith, of Hamilton, addressed the large number of ladies present, her subjects being "Food and its Relation to the Body" and "Labor Problems of the Household." These subjects were very ably handled, and the ladies of the vicinity took a lively interest in the discussions.

Evening Session.

Mr. Rayner's subject for the evening meeting was "Our Country and its Agricultural Possibilities," all present receiving much valuable information.

Miss Smith's subject was on "The Sanitary Home." She gave many useful hints regarding sanitary laws, &c. Miss Smith is an excellent speaker and all were delighted with her address.

The musical part of the program was very enjoyable. The Millbrook Orchestra gave several selections which were very much appreciated. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnston rendered a duet in their usual pleasing manner. The people of the community are always delighted to hear Mr. and Mrs. Johnston sing. Mrs. (Rev.) W. C. Allen and Miss Allen played two instrumental duets, which greatly pleased the large audience. All the musical selections received well merited applause. A hearty vote of thanks was given all who took part in the program. The singing of "God Save the King," brought to a close a most profitable evening's entertainment.

The services in the Methodist church on Sunday evening last, were of a special nature. Rev. Mr. Kenny preached an able sermon, more especially directed to young people. It was attentively listened to by the large congregation. The musical part of the services was very fine. Miss Adra Lutton and Mr. A. Blackwell Smith rendered sacred solos in a very pleasing manner. The Choir also sang a beautiful Anthem.

The customers of the late firm of C. S. Blackwell & Co., are getting quite at home with the firm's successor, Mr. J. E. Adams, formerly of Omemece. Mr. Adams is a young business man who combines a vigorous personality and wide experience. As a traveller for the H. P. Eckhardt Co., Toronto, for years, he got a thorough mastery of the line of business in which he is now engaged. The buying public is recommended to Mr. Adams.—Watchman-Warder of Lindsay.
