Greeting!

Business!

I have this day sold out my entire stock of Groceries, &c., to my son, J. A. Vance, who will carry on the business as usual in the old stand. In retiring from a business extending over a period of twenty-four years in this place, I have to thank the public generally and my many customers specially, for their kindness and courtesy to me on all occasions. I would at the same time solicit for my successor that liberal share of public patronage in the future, which has been extended to me in the past, and to one and all I wish a very happy and prosperous new year.

W. VANCE.

Millbrook, Jan. 1st, 1894.

In wishing the people of Millbrook and surrounding country the compliments of the season, I would inform them that I have this day purchased from my father, his entire stock of Groceries, &c., including his good-will of the business. It is my intention to carry on the business for the present in the old stand. After an experience of eight or nine years in the Grocery and Provision business, including Flour and Feed, I have a very good idea of the wants of the public in these lines. I am determined, by strict attention to business, buying only the best goods at close prices, in the best markets, and having an eye to small profits and quick returns, to merit a fair share of public favours. Confidently looking to old customers and hopefully looking to new ones, for that patronage and confidence reposed in my predecessor, I wish you one and all a very happy and prosperous new year.

J. A. VANCE.

Millbrook, Jan. 1st, 1894.

BALLIEBORO.

The tea in connection with the Baptist church here on New Years evening was a grand success. Although not one of the speakers put in an appearance, an excellent programme was rendered, readings, recitations and singing by the choir, and Mr. Pilkey has a staff of young people in the church that take hold with a spirit that says success every time. And I am sure the people of other denominations turned out excellent, which must be very encouraging. What a blessing to see such a union among God's people.

The Toronto Home for Incurable.

PARKDALE, Ont., Feb. 27th, 1888.—Gentlemen, it gives me pleasure to let you know I have derived great benefit from the use of Nerviline. I have been a great sufferer from Neuralgia in the face, and last two years was quite a martyr to the malady. So soon as I observed the Nerviline advertised I obtained a bottle from our druggists, Messrs. John Gray & Co., Parkdale, and the effect was marvellous; pain ceased and I can enjoy sound sleep at night, and rise refreshed. I cannot speak too highly of it and heartily recommend it. ALEXANDER STEEN.

Quite an emigration has taken place from Millbrook to our little village. We are glad to see them all, for it shows that our fame has gone abroad. Opposition, people say, is the life of trade, and in case this old saying prove true, we will now have one of the liveliest little villages in Ontario. Come along; there is still room for more.

Wedding bells. A ceremony which, judging by the number of spectators, was of more than domestic interest, took place in Christ's church here on Wednesday, Jan. 3rd., being the marriage of Miss May McCormack, daughter of Mr. McCormack of this place, and sister-in-law of Dr. Bradd, to Mr. Hardyng of Chicago. The bridesmaids were Miss Jennie McCormack, sister of the bride, and Miss Bradd, niece. The bride looked charming in cream cashmere and bridal veil. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. McCann, pastor of the church, the party returned to the residence of Dr. Bradd, and left for the west on the evening train carrying with them the best wishes of all.
