THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1894.

TIME ROLLS ON.

Now that the din and uncertainty of election turmoil has subsided, to give place to the all important arena of action, we may be allowed to venture a few words of encouragement and counsel to the municipal body who stand at the helm to turn our wheel of progress for 1894. As regards the personnel of the council elect we make bold to say that it is indicative of a course of onward march to that desideration of progress and prosperity, which the thrift and enterprise of the citizens would seem to warrant. We have no hesitancy in affirming that the intention and determination of each candidate when he allowed his name to go upon the ballot was to do his very best for the village. Now comes the time when the electors look to the fulfillment of those intentions and the scrupulous enforcement of those determinations. With most men and certainly with the members of the new council, their intentions are good, but when the demand upon their influence is made by aspirants for the village crumbs that fall from the tables of office, or for street repair, or in short any emoluments or favors within the gift of the corporation, then comes the rub that tests the genuineness of the coin and the backbone of man. While it is quite true, that in many questions which come before a municipal body, opinions may differ and one person's ideas may be as worthy of acceptance as another's, and a spirit of give and take must be countenanced still in all matters of principle, rather as the poet says, be alone in the right than with ten thousand in the wrong. To go with the crowd and float with the stream makes nice sailing, but it not infrequently terminates in disaster and although it may be hard to cut out and irradicate the cankerous growths, the after fruit will more than repay the disagreeable labor. It is good policy to make no promises that affect the finances of the corporation outside of the council sittings, where all matters should be determined in the light of the fullest knowledge of the case and the combined wisdom of the board. You will be approached perhaps (it will be unusual if you are not) not by the person always who wants a favor but by his second cousin's cousin, or neighbors uncle's father, for your influence in a certain direction, or your consent to a particular scheme. While it is well to listen to every application, always defer action or promise until the proper time and place. THE REPORTER will give its aid and support to the council in its attempts to advance the town's interest, and while it claims the privilege of reasonable criticism, will now as always remember that measures and not men are its legitimate sphere of attack.

FRANKLIN.

It is with sympathy to the bereaved father and family that we chronicle the death of Sidney Fallis, P. C. of the Toronto force. Deceased was the son of Mr. William Fallis, a well known farmer, formerly resident in the township of Cavan, but now in Manitoba. The deceased was a fine young man of only twenty-three summers but that dreaded disease consumption, took hold of him about six months ago to which he had to succumb. His death, which his friends looked for weeks before took place on the 20th of December. His brother Wesley, was his constant attendant to his last moment. His remains were placed in a beautiful casket and brought to his uncle's, Mr. Richard Fallis, 6th con. of Cavan, from which the funeral took place on Saturday the 23rd, to Gardiner's cemetery, followed by a very large number of sorrowing friends and old neighbors, where all that was mortal was laid in their last resting place there to await the great call which bids the sleepers rise. Truly in the midst of life we are in death. His brother policeman gave him a tribute of honor by placing a beautiful wreath on his coffin with the motto "Our Comrade," also six of them accompanied his remains to the grave, of which I will give their names viz.: Allison, No. 94; Fallis, No. 39; Patton, No. 41; Philbos, No. 135; Dodds, No. 133; Fallis, No. 146, together with Mr. Humbery the undertaker, and Mr. Elliott, a former resident of Millbrook. As the time was limited with the P. C. men, having to get the train at Cavanville, a hasty farewell was taken of them by their many friends and they were accompanied to the station by our worthy councilman Mr. Charles McNeil and others. After reaching the station a short time was to spare which was spent in social conversation. The citizens of Toronto may well be proud of their police men if they are all anything like the men which accompanied the remains of Sidney Fallis to his last resting place.

"Frost Bites" are ugly things; a nose or ear swollen two twice its usual is no more beautiful than it is comfortable. After trying many "cures" we come back and award the palm to PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, "the old reliable," which affords relief quicker than any other thing we know of. Big Bottle, popular price 25c.

OBITUARY.

On Wednesday Dec. the 13th, all that was mortal of Mary Ann, wife of Mr. John W. Thexton of Cavan, was buried in St. John's graveyard. The large number of people who attended the funeral convinced the high respect in which the deceased lady was held in the community in which she lived. The funeral services both at the house and at the church were conducted by the Ven. Archdeacon Allen, who during her long illness had been constant in his attendance at Mrs. Thexton's sick bed. The Rev. gentleman in his address at the house, spoke in very feeling terms of her suffering and death, and his remarks were received with the most reverent and earnest attention. She had, he said, passed through a long and agonizing illness, which she had borne with the greatest patience, supported by an unflinching faith in her Saviour, of whom she had been from her earliest years an humble follower. During her long sickness every thing was done for her that medical skill and careful nursing could accomplish. The Doctors Brereton were most attentive, and her husband and her sister, Mrs. Beatty of Omeme and other friends attended to her every wish. But all in vain, and she at length sunk under the power of her disease, but her end was peace.

CAVAN COUNCIL.

The Last Sitting of the Old Council—They Bid Good-bye to Their Reeve.

The council met at 2 p. m. on Monday, 8th Jan'y, 1894, in response to call of the reeve. Members all present. The reeve presiding. The minutes of the last three meetings were read, approved and signed.

On motion, Messrs Robert Hootan and Henry Lang were heard by the council. They asked for assistance for Richard McBrian and his wife, an old indigent couple whom the council had been giving assistance to for some years, as they were in very destitute circumstances at the present time. Mrs. McBrian was confined to her bed by sickness and her husband was not able to wait on her. The neighbors had been almost keeping them for some years, and they thought the council should employ some one to look after them. The couple were very old, and they did not think that the council would be burdened with them very long. They advised the council to secure the services of some woman or girl to wait upon them.

Moved by Mr. Thornadyke seconded by Coun. McNeil that Coun. Coe and Mr. Robert Hootan be a committee to make full enquiries into the condition of Mr. Richard McBrian and wife, with power to take such action as they thought proper for their relief and comfort. Also that the reeve be authorized to sign an order on the treasurer in favour of Mr. R. Hootan for the sum of $18.75 for five cords of sawed and split hardwood furnished to the above named indigent couple. Carried.

On motion, Coun. Donaldson was appointed a committee to settle the outstanding accounts between Cavan and South Monaghan.

Moved by Coun. Donaldson, seconded by Coun. McNeil that Mr. Geo. Armstrong be paid the sum of $3.00 for drawing the remains of the late Mrs. A. Lams indigent, to the place of interment. Carried.

Moved by Coun. McNeil, seconded by Coun. Donaldson, that the usual sum of $5.00 be granted Mr. Jas. Handley, caretaker of the town hall, for the neat and tidy manner in which he has kept the said hall during the past year. Carried.

On motion the reeve was authorized to sign orders of several small accounts. Moved by Mr. Thornadyke, seconded by Coun. Donaldson that whereas Mr. S. E. Ferguson who has been a member of this council during the past fourteen years and during which time he has served the people in every capacity from councillor to reeve, is retiring from the position he has so long and honorably filled, that we cannot allow
