CAVAN REEVE ELECTED WARDEN OF U. C. 1957

Mr. Lloyd Hooton, reeve of Cavan was elected warden of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham on Tuesday afternoon of last week at Cobourg. He defeated Deputy Reeve Garnet Rickard of Darlington Township on the first ballot 25 to 23. Mr. Hooton and Mr. Rickard were the only candidates for the office.

The newly elected Warden was escorted to the Warden's Chair in the robes of office by his mover Deputy-Reeve J. H. McKnight of Cavan, and second Mr. Charles Johnston, Reeve of Cobourg.

Cobourg's four votes went to Mr. Hooton as did most of the votes in Northumberland. Port Hope and Bowmanville both backed Mr. Rickard, with support from most of Durham county.

Mr. Hooton is 52 and is entering his seventh year on County Council. His uncle, George Hooton, served as warden in 1931 and is the oldest living former warden.

The new Warden has served as chairman of roads and bridges committee for 2 years, on the special equalization of assessment committee for three years, and one year on the special high school advisory committee. He has just completed four years on the county road commission.

He lives at R.R. 2, Ida, where he raises shorthorns for beef and does mixed farming. Accepting the wardship he said he felt obliged to discharge his duties in the best interests of the United Counties. He asked that the 1957 council consider carefully before exercising their vote.

"In the past perhaps we have not considered enough," he warned. He assured the meeting he would do all in his power to promote good relations between the counties and would work for their betterment. He thanked his supporters and paid tribute to his wife. Garnet Rickard, defeated candidate, congratulated Mr. Hooton and offered his support. He referred to his successes and service in the past and hoped that he would meet with equal success in the future.

YOUNG BOYS MEET AS OLD BOYS IN 1957

A meeting between Mr. Fred C. White 84, Millbrook, and Mr. Dave King 87, Almeda, Sask., neighbours in Almeda in the early 1900's took place in The Reporter Office on Saturday, January 19th. Mr. White and Mr. King knew each other in the Western settlement when young men, and this is their first meeting in over 55 years, but this time they met as old boys, the first time as young boys.

Mr. King who is a successful farmer in the West, was accompanied by his son Frank who confessed that this was his first trip to Ontario, and from what he could see of it in winter thought it would be a beautiful place in summer. We might add that it is.

After a cold snap that sent the mercury down well below zero, a thaw came along and reversed things, snow all disappeared due to a heavy rain. Yesterday it got back to normal and zero temperature again.

Mr. George C. Ellsworth who takes pity on the birds in the winter, erected a feeding box back of his home on King Street, to supply the little birds with food. This "free board" has become so well known and popular by the birds that it now costs him a loaf of bread a day to satisfy their hunger.

Seen on King Street During The Week

A large number of small canyons cut in the ice on the street caused by the melting snow and heavy rain which fell all day and all night.

Christmas is officially over in Millbrook now. The last decorated tree was removed from a local store window Tuesday.

One of our fair ladies kept from her place of business due to the flood water. However, this was overcome by another good Samaritan, of which there seems to be many in Millbrook, driving her in his car across the stream. Would not be afraid to bet this was the shortest ride she ever had, about 15 yards.
