EDITORIAL OF SORTS

The Canadian Bible Society, Auxiliary of The British and Foreign Bible Society, has announced that the 16 districts from coast to coast in Canada have made it possible to allot the sum of $465,000.00 for the world wide distribution of the Scriptures. This is an increase of $15,000.00 over 1959.

This extra sum will help to meet part of the increased cost of the "Million Gospels for Africa" (in about 60 languages) campaign. The success of this effort made by the Bible Society, through the churches of Africa, revealed a great need for the Scriptures. The last report states that well over 3,000,000 Gospels will be needed in over 90 languages. The printing of these Gospels has been done both in England and in Africa. A number of these Gospels are the first Scriptures printed in some of the tribal languages.

Millbrook High School Drama Night included the talents of almost all 95 students. Eric Curtis and Glen Richards were the polished actors of the sophisticated "Ole In The Road". The "Day After Tomorrow" had drama difficult for even more experienced players. The cast: Shirley Elgar, Barbara Aiken, Shirley VanDam, Ted Nattress, Barbara Reid. Glen Richards directed "One Happy Family" The cast: Sharon Ball, Wayne Hogg, Ed Bobee, Roger Gillis, Bonnie Blencowe, Karen Peterson, Sheilagh Wallace, Ashton McMaster. Commendable it is that the pupils presented the plays with very little help. Backstage for mekeup and props were Sharon Cannon, Noreen Davidson, Judy Reid, Donna Todd and Joan Wood. The Country Fair lent stage furniture. Mrs. Kilborn led the choirs. Bernard Ingham played flowing accompaniment when the girls sang. The boys sang remarkably well. Sixty sang in mixed chorus, 35 in the girls' chorus, 25 in the boys'. Both evenings were indeed a credit to the school. At the close of Friday evening, Miss W. Hobbs, who directed two of the plays, and Mrs. W. Kilborn, Director of Music, received gifts from Ted Nattress and Ashton McMaster on behalf of all participants.
