The Editor, Millbrook Reporter.

After the exhibition of the tion Army work is appreciated village Fire-alarm sounding on Friday evening—as I have since learned without a fire being evident-the alarm being sounded by a few jubilants from the Social gathering at the Armouries on the night in question-I would like to ask the Reeve of the village and his Councillors, if there isn't a bylaw which forbids the sounding of the alarm at times other

> In the majority of municipalities-this practice is illegal and carries with it a $50.00 fine for the first offence.

Repetitions of this practice could conceivably result in untold Damage in Dollar Values as the alarm might on some occasion be sounded for the real thing and no one pay any attention. It's like crying "Wolf" when there isn't anybut the "real thing" might some day or night be around-and no action could mean serious less or damage.

If Millbrook is to forge ahead -let's begin with little items like this and make this place SUNDAY, MAY 11th. a real live community, not as it appears now "Sleepy Hol-
