How To Receive Healing From God

God wants to heal you. This is a precious truth but you cannot force yourself to believe it. You must know it is true before you can believe. There is no substitute for the truth—nor for the knowledge of truth.

You must want God to heal you. You must have a burning desire. Burning desire knows no shame, no barrier, no refusal. Intense desire burns the bridge behind and penetrates into the very heart of the Son of God.

To receive your healing you must approach God for healing through faith. Faith is not something you always have to seek or pray for. Faith is something God already has given you, for "God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith" (Romans 12:3). Put your faith to work. This will increase it and make it stronger.

You have been provided the capacity and ability to use your faith in any way you chose, for you are a free moral agent. You are able to fix your attention upon God, focus-

GAME OF THE DAY

Radio broadcasts of major-league baseball games will be carried for the first time on the CBC Trans-Canada network each Saturday afternoon this summer on "Game of the Day."

Former pitching star Bob Feller, left, will be part of a broadcasting team that will report from National and American league parks. Fred Sgambati right, will report on Canadian sports happenings during between-innings intermissions.

ing your faith solely and directly upon him. "Rejoice and be exceedingly glad," for healing is yours through faith.

Mr. W. D. tells how he was healed of a mental disorder: "For twelve years I had suffered from nervous tension, fears, depression and emotional instability. I went from one doctor to another, only to be told by each one that he could not help me. I had to get hold of myself and overcome my difficulty. I spent some weeks in a hospital but did not respond to treatment prescribed there.

"When I returned home, my mind, body and soul were distraught. I realized there was much work to be done on my part if God were to help me. I must clear my mind of all negative and help God to replace them with positive, healing ones. I asked God to be my healer, to show me the way out of the dark into the light.

"Little by little my healing progressed. Each day I became surer, stronger, calmer and had more confidence. Fears dropped away. I came out of my self-imposed hiding and began to venture out into the world just as a child would. Each day I tried to accomplish a little more than the previous day. God, my healer, erased the past. He has led me into a beautiful new world of faith and love and security.

"Each day I shall continue to walk and talk with God in order to overcome old negative thoughts and habits. God wants me to do my part by keeping daily vigilance over my thoughts and deeds.

"I am healed, perfectly healed, but I must never lose sight of the fact that God expects me to keep faith. Keeping my mind clear of negative thoughts helps me to receive his guidance and wisdom throughout each moment of the day.

Many hundreds of letters come to my office every day telling of remarkable recoveries such as the one above. Each adds its own evidence to our often repeated theme: God is a good God. He can and will heal you.

RED SHIELD CAMPAIGN—LOCAL CANVASS MAY 12-17.

"Our prisons ought to be reforming institutions, which should turn men out better than when they entered. As a matter of fact, they are quite the reverse," declared the far-sighted Founder of The Salvation Army in 1890. "There are few people more to be pitied," he continued, "than the fellow who has served his first term of imprisonment and finds himself outside the jail doors without a character and often without a friend in the world."

The reclamation of human lives has always been one of the cardinal principles of this "Army of Mercy" and William Booth didn't stop with these comments and conditions. Ex-prisoners were met on release; workshops were opened to provide jobs; counselling and comforting prisoners behind bars was commenced; and every possible aid provided to bring about rehabilitation of former prisoners and their families.

No organization has justly won more respect and admiration of both prisoners, their families and correction officials than The Salvation Army. What William Booth started 65 years ago—the officers of this world-encircling Army are continuing today.

In Canada last year Correctional Services officers of The Salvation Army made 16,094 visits to police courts and prisoners. During the same period 77,844 prisoners and ex-prisoners were interviewed.

Magistrates and police are at all times anxious to obtain the Army's interest in certain cases, particularly with the first offender. The Army firmly believes it is infinitely better to assist the first offender before sentence rather than try to rehabilitate him after time has been served. On 10,074 occasions Salvation Army officers pleaded for the first offender. Confidence, built on past accomplishments, brought its own reward, and 5,078 were released to their care.

Acts of kindness, oftentimes in the form of clothing, a bed and a meal on release; the contacting of relatives, or, it may be the writing of a letter; sometimes just a visit to the former place of employment for a tactful word with the manager—these and other such acts numbered 40,571.

For those who face the magistrate for the first time, or, find themselves a confined transgressor, there is extended the hand of friendship. They are not forgotten, and the 'door of hope' to a better future is held open. To all who come within the reach of this 'serving ministry' the Salvation Army Captain will ever remain the 'prisoner's friend'.

Chairman for the local campaign is Mr. Gordon Trick, and the treasurer Mr. Earl Liesemer, with whom donations may be left with, either at The Toronto-Dominion Bank, or at Trick's B-A Station, west-end, Millbrook.

YOUR CORNER FROM TIME TO TIME

A Toronto reader sent, and requested us to print the following little ditty:

The Saloon A "BAR"
The saloon is sometimes called a bar, that's true:
A bar to Heaven, a door to Hell,
Whoever named it, named it well.
A bar to manliness and wealth,
A door to want and broken health,
A bar to honour, pride, and fame,
A door to grief and sin and shame,
A bar to hope, a bar to prayer,
A door to darkness and despair,
A bar to honoured, useful life,
A door to brawling, senseless strife,
A bar to all that's true and brave,
A door to every drunkard's grave,
A bar to joys that home imparts,
A door to tears and aching hearts,
A bar to Heaven, a door to Hell,
Whoever named it, named it well.
—Written by a life convict in Joliet Prison.

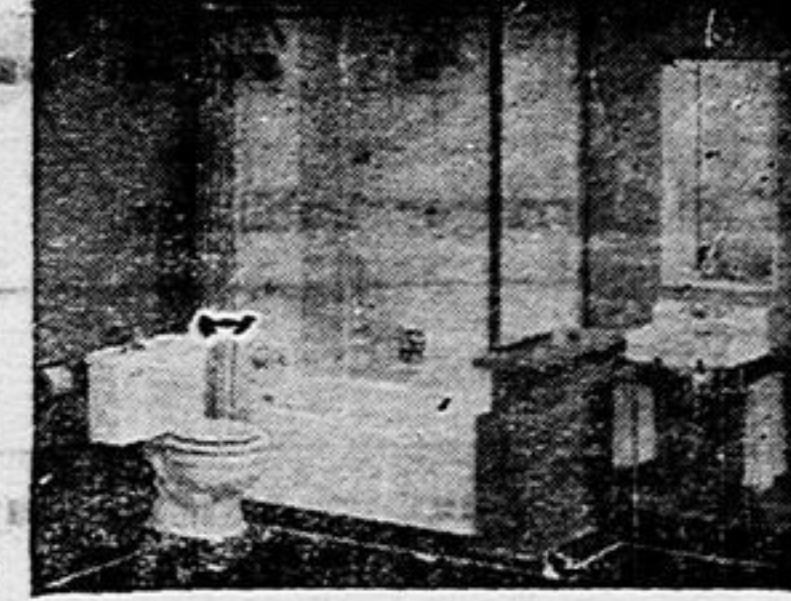

CAVAN SCOUTS

Boys of the 1st. Cavan Cubs and Scouts attended a Church Parade Service at St. John's Anglican Church, Ida, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. H. C. Quinn preached on the text, "Let no man despise thy youth." The Queen's Message for Commonwealth Youth was read by Rev. Francis Chisholm. There was a good congregation of the parents and friends. Members of the Group Committee and Mothers' Auxiliary were also present.

This Is Where We Come In!

A CIA policyholder driving to work pulled out to pass and collided head-on with another car carrying the driver and 4 passengers. One man died and 5 were hospitalized. CIA paid almost $50,000 in claims. This followed a single slip—our policyholder had never been involved in an accident.

A single skid can wreck your car and send you and your passengers to hospital—or the passengers in the other car. So you can never tell when you will have an accident—but if you do, that's where CIA comes in.

CIA's liability and medical payment coverages offered you worry-free protection whenever or wherever you drive.

See your CIA representative for helpful information on these coverages.

Seen On King Street During The Week

A car driven at such a speed through the red light on Sunday as to make onlookers think one of Satan's demons had escaped from Hell and that the "old boy" himself was after the escaped evil one.

A big game hunter taking "pot luck" shots at the trouble some starlings with an air rifle. His marksmanship was either extra good or extra poor, as one bird flew up, this may have been caused by the pellet, then again by the sight of a choice bug or fly on the wing. Any way the birds cleared out. He did hit the bird it means that his aim is not ordinary but extraordinary.

Bit Of Everything

One thing can be said of people who live in the past. They do it cheaper.

A forger is a guy who gives a cheque a bad name.

The straight and narrow path would be much wider if more people travelled it.

I always admire the wisdom of those who come to me for advice.
