Her veil of nylon illusion had a scalloped edge dotted with sequins and caught in a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones, and her cascade bouquet was of pink delight roses and white sweet peas.

Maid of honor was Miss Sharon Cannon, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Lee Castle, cousin of the bride, and Miss Gloria Rutherford, both of Peterborough.

They were in gowns of strawberry rose peau de soie with petalled headbands with circular veils to match. They wore white shoes and gloves and carried cascades of white shasta daisies.

Allan Ettinger was his brother's groomsmen, and the ushers were the groom's cousin Gordon Frank, also from Windsor, N.S., and Ross Bolton of Peterborough.

Other guests were from Detroit, Windsor, Oshawa, Cobourg, Colborne, Belleville, Havelock, Norwood, Peterborough and Millbrook.

The reception was at the home of the bride's parents, and Mrs. Cannon received in a dress of midnight blue and pink printed silk, and the groom's mother in a navy and white suit, each wearing white accessories and a corsage of white mums and sweet peas.

For her going away outfit the bride had a white suit and mauve accessories, and wore an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ettinger are to make their home at 193 Dalhousie St., Peterborough.

hollyhocks. We know them when we see them. A pool hall can be an asset to a village. Between it and the liquor store, and poker games and crap games, and sowing wild oats, surely our young men can keep out of mischief. Good Luck, Stan!

In to visit us a week or so ago was Spencer Cheshire, who once lived in the township. He is now secretary of Land Fellowship, which pleads the case for organic farming and gardening. It advocates a biological approach to growing things instead of the chemical emphasis. (We do not presume to understand all this; this is what Spencer said.) "If we feed back to the land all the organic wastes of plant, animal and man, we would soon save a high fertility, and fertilizers

Durham Swine Club met July 4 on the farm of Mr. Murray Byers, Burketon.

Project Books were discussed with Assistant Agricultural Representative Mr. Jim Graham and Club Leader Mr. Glen Larmer.

Two classes of swine were judged and reasons given. Mr. Graham spoke on care and feeding of pigs, and Mr. Larmer on Advanced Registry. Don Rickard thanked Mr. Byers for the meeting on his farm, and for the use of his pigs for judging.

would not be needed. Plants would attain maximum health and resistance to disease. Stock would get the nutrition they need. Humans would have full nutrition." Spencer had planned to be on his property this Summer, East Quarter Line and 7th Concession, but he has gone on a tour of the West for Land Fellowship. We do hope his tour is happy and successful. A nice fella.

A gold mine of anecdotes of the Yukon will be re-told as veteran prospector William McBride, left, talks to broadcaster David Cruikshank in the new radio program TALES and TRAILS of THE YUKON heard every Wednesday on the CBC Trans-Canada radio network. These recollections of the Yukon gold rush are based on the letters, diaries and stories of old-times and adventurers.

This is the 1962 Chevrolet Suburban Carryall. The new Chevrolet truck line features lower hood lines for improved road visibility, restyled grille, standard equipment directional signals on most models, single headlamps for lower maintenance costs on all but a few models and longer-life mufflers. Independent front suspension with torsion bar springing, successfully used for the past two years, has been refined in 1962.

In to see us on Tuesday was Tom Scott of Niagara Falls, Ontario. Barney of Cafe Barney brought him. Tom is staying at Man Hill for a little of our peace and quiet while he struggles with a play for the legitimate theatre.

Tom has written publicity for Niagara's booming tourist industry. He was some time with The Tussock Wax Museum in Niagara.

Tom's poetry has been in radio and in The Canadian Forum. Most of his stuff goes to U.S. publications. He may one day pick up a magazine and find a story by Tom our very village. The setting for a mystery, a love-tale or a horror

Some weeks ago we received from Ireland a copy of The Anglo-Celt, a 12-page newspaper serving County Cavan, Monaghan, Leitrim, Westmeath, Fermanagh, Louth and Longford. (Please see next column)
