

KELLS, FOWLER & CO.

To the Front with New Fall Goods.

Mantles, Millinery, Dress Goods, Carpets, Ready-Made Clothing, Boots and Shoes.

Having spent considerable time and energy in visiting the leading markets this season we are in a better position than ever to offer our patrons bargains in everything. Our present prices are below anything ever before heard of in this section, as we are bound to compete with the larger towns surrounding us. All we ask is that you give us a call and if we cannot satisfy you as to goods and prices we will not ask you to buy.

In our Dress Goods Department this season we have bought a large selection of nice goods, and in Dress lengths only, which is a great advantage in a small community like ours. If you need anything in mantles just call and see our stock, and we are quite satisfied that for style and price we are in it. See our new colored and black Kid Gloves, lace and button. In Ladies Vests we would simply ask you to see our stock from 10c. to $1.25. In Carpets our stock never was as well assorted—from the cheapest Hemp to Brussels. We have a special line of Tapestry Carpet at 50c. per yard, cash, which is a beauty, just ask to see it. No trouble to show goods. Curtain Poles in all lengths and finish, full length and size, 25c. complete with pins.

In Boots and Shoes we offer the best value to be found. In Men's Long Boots we can give you something that will surprise you at $1.50; Men's Fine Lace Boots at $1.50; Men's Rubbers 50c.; Ladies genuine kid buttoned boot at $2.00, also Ladies polished Calf Boot at $1.50. Children's Boots 50c. These prices are hard to approach by our competitors, as we have many advantages in the market. Don't fail to see our stock in this line.

The Millbrook Reporter.
W. S. GIVEN EDITOR.
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1893.
VALEDICTORY.

Having found the duties of another position which I have lately assumed too pressing to admit of my giving attention to THE REPORTER, I have this week disposed of the business, good-will and my book accounts (except where there are contra accounts). THE REPORTER will hereafter be edited by Mr. W. S. Given. During the time THE REPORTER has been under my control, the business has been greatly increased—a first-class printing plant, good work and a good newspaper having warranted and induced the confidence of the public. That the same result will meet the labors of my successors I have no doubt, as I understand it is their intention to still further improve upon the standard of the past.

To all who have favored me with their patronage I return my sincere thanks, and though not connected with THE REPORTER, I hope to continue my relations with them as a citizen and neighbor, it being my intention to remain a resident of what I deem to be the prettiest town of its size in Ontario.

Persons having accounts against me will oblige me very much by sending them by mail this week so that my books may be balanced and settlement made.

(Signed)
R. R. ELLIOTT

SALUTATORY.

In making our bow to the citizens of Millbrook and adjoining community we feel somewhat like the ducky in the melon patch. "Des surroundings seems kinder strange but deys mighty friendly and invitin' like." Yet we have no fear that our first impression of measure will be other than lasting. In assuming the editorial chair of THE REPORTER, we are quite aware that "the path to bliss abounds with many a snare," so far as this position is concerned; yet we enter upon it with no feeling of distrust whatever, as far as our reception by our readers is concerned, knowing that our welcome will be like an Irish cup of tea—strong, free, full to the brim and running over, and we will always aim to merit the fullest continuance of your confidence. In regard to the position that will be assumed by THE REPORTER in future we have this to say to the outset. Our own personal views will be hereafter as always, what we may think proper as regards political or municipal politics. These are our private property. We shall vote and work for the cause that seems to us the best. While our own political views are more in harmony with the Liberal Conservative party we shall conduct the editorial department on neutral grounds and will not hesitate to condemn or praise either party when it seems our duty so to do.

We conceive the primary and all important office of a local newspaper to be, to recount such weekly occurrences within the community as will be of interest to our home and foreign readers, an encyclopedia of all events and transactions that will interest and edify. Our chief aim will be to advance the interests of Millbrook in every possible way consistent with what we understand to be right, and in the matter of educational or municipal advancement we will not hesitate to express our views with candor and without fear or favor. Our columns will always be open—and we invite discussion—on all matters pertaining thereto, so long as they are divested of all personal, animus or useless gossip.

To the correspondents who have hitherto contributed to the columns of THE REPORTER we ask a continuance of their weekly bulletins and so soon as we are permanently located we intend making a circuit of our constituency to have a personal acquaintance with you all, but in the meantime although having not seen you face to face we hope you will visit us with your items of news and if your material is short send to the office for your requirements.

The situation of Millbrook we like very much and we do not think our predecessor is lacking for an eye to the beautiful when he concludes to remain. Here seem to be concentrated all that nature can supply and much of the handiwork of man added to make life enjoyable and contentment reign. Great possibilities appear to linger only for the livelier awakening of our people to make this what its central location in the riding would warrant it to be—the most important town in East Durham. To aid in attaining such eminence, to urge on its people, to make a big push, a united push, and shoulder to shoulder press onward to that desirable end will be the highest endeavor of THE REPORTER.

In taking up our abode in your midst as citizens, we will be always ready to co-operate in everything that makes for the social, intellectual and material advancement of the town, and although strangers in a strange land we meet you in all frankness and as you peruse these lines of introduction "let us shake," that hereafter "we may speak as we pass by."

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerver and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief? If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism, and all internal or external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorably of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents—by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.
