PLOWING MATCH PLANS

The Executive of the Durham and Northumberland Plowmen's Assoc. met at the home of Pres. Don Budd, # 1, Port Hope, on Monday evening, September 14th, to make final plans for the Match to be featured this fall. Present were committee members Will Allin, Stanley Allin, Howard Allin, District Director Howard Henry and Secretary Ralph C. Banbury. The prize list was gone over in considerable detail that all interested should have a place to plow in the competition. Arrangement is made for the match to be held at the farm of Herman Schmid at Newcastle. The location is one concession north of the Newell Lumber property on No. 2 highway. Plans are to start the match by drawing for land at 9 a.m. and finishing at 3.30 that the judges may have plenty of time to discuss the work with those interested. Anyone not able to bring his own tractor or horses is to contact Will Allin at Newcastle No. 2. A fee of $2.00 will be charged that the donor may have something for gasoline and bringing the power to the plowing field. Competition for the Toronto-Dominion Bank Cup for 2 plowboys in any high school in the United Counties is of special interest. Teachers and principals are urged to encourage boys who know something of tractor plowing to compete in this event. Last year the Match when held near Brighton had only two plowing with horses. An extra class has been added in 1959 to encourage those who have not plowed with horses but use them at home to try this class at the match. The Esso Oil Company offers a champion prize of $10.00 to the tractor and horse plowmen. Eaton's give a trophy for the best plowed land by a junior competitor. Many other specials are being received by the committee from those in business in the area who wish to encourage the plowing Match. Plowing remains the basic farm activity in our area. Our rotations with heavy green material to plow under or with coarse corn stubble necessitates that these be buried by the plow in order to rot rapidly and be ready as plant food for the next crop. Farm people are urged to mark Wednesday, October 7th for a special day at the Plowing Match. There is no admission fee for visitors and all interested in agriculture are welcomed. A booth and noon day lunch will be available prepared by the local ladies.
