CHRISTMAS.

So true and trite is the old saying that "Christmas comes but once a year," and so long have many of us, old as well as young, looked forward to this day of good cheer, and happy reunions, it is well that we should loiter a while by the roadside 'er the old year turns the milestone and passes from our vision, to ask ourselves the question "Have we done our duty to our fellowman during the days of the year almost gone, or can we add something to the cup of joy for our neighbor, yet, before the curtain falls upon 1893.

Nor than now could fitter time, For such offices befall, "Peace and good-will"—hymn sublime, Now attunes the hearts of all. We are such a selfish and thankless people that we often draw the cloak of our own comforts so closely around us, as to forget that in sight of our door or upon our own street there may be those to whom this glad day, upon which the angels of heaven are said to have sung their hallelujahs and the shepherds of the east brought their gifts to the humble and the needy, may be anything but one of gladsome approach. While we do not for a moment think that the people of our own village and district have many within their circle destitute of the necessities of existence and bodily comfort, we are at the same time aware that no section or place is without those upon whom the goddess of fortune and favour has not showered her smiles and with them "Little acts of kindness, Little deeds of love," will go to make this season one of additional joy to the giver and a merry Xmas in more than name to the recipient. We heartily approve of and commend the action of some corporations who make a practice of sending a basket of good things to the doorsteps of the deserving poor of their municipality on Christmas eve, which, however, does not minimize the duty of individual liberality. And oh! what tears of joy one round dollar, yes, one small twenty-five cent piece, would bring to the eyes of some child or older neighbor who is unable to make any special outlay for the day's commemoration. Look around you, not with ostentatious vanity, but with a spirit of not letting the left hand know what the right hand doeth, and see if you cannot find "some lonely heart to cherish as the day is passing by." Someone, who, unable to return the compliment of a similar donation, or feast, will carol paeans of rejoicing in your ears and in the hearing of Him who said "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

Now our better nature pleads, Urging us as never yet, To relieve each others needs, To forgive and to forget.

THE REPORTER, in making this seasonable salutation to its readers disclaims any position presuming to give advice and will itself accept the hint as a reminder to our thankless selfishness, and sincerely wishes you all a Merry, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

COMMUNICATIONS.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by our correspondents.

To the Editor of the REPORTER.

DEAR SIR,—I notice you are taking some interest in the welfare of our village, although only here a short time, and the heavy taxed ratepayer should thank you for drawing attention to the state of affairs. If you will allow me space I should like the Reeve and council to explain at the meeting on nomination day (which I hereby demand as a ratepayer, in order that we may know where we stand) a few things that are not very clear to my mind in the statement which I had an opportunity of glancing over. 1st. Does the stated liabilities on the treasurer's sheet include our total indebtedness, are there any items such as expenses of new streets, $50 rebate shop license, etc., which are not accounted for? A customer withholding his true position from a bank with whom he does business, would be behind the bars if a crash came, and we don't want to see our village heads placed in the "I didn't know it was loaded" position after any crisis has come. 2nd. J. Crocker, sundries, $3.50. Now, boys, it is not fair to take a spree and not let us all into it. Better increase the bill and give the whole village a horn—lady voters and all. 3rd. A. Ferguson, $5, expenses to Bowmanville. Was our interests at stake to such an extent as to require to give the Reeve a big V to trot down to the lake shore. 4th. April 7, note, due July 10th, $293.75. Said note paid July 10th, $200, interest 8 1/2 per cent. Again, four notes $200.00, $145.00, $146.75, $345.50, borrowed July 15, Aug. 2nd, Oct. 3rd, Nov. 6, all due Dec. 31, and it costs to lift these notes (see statement liabilities) $357.50. Now let any school boy figure this out and the rate will be found something like the above, 8 1/2 per cent. I thought corporations were not allowed to pay more than 6 per cent, but perhaps the members of the council got down into their own pockets for the difference, or perhaps it cannot be borrowed at the smaller rate on account of the credit of the corporation being bad—many other items upon which I would like some explanation such as—If the council know what they are getting for the outlay in—Street Lighting, J. Handley's work attending to hose, etc., etc., and above all, the necessity, wisdom and advisability of this corporation having to borrow over $1000 in one year to carry on its general business. But, Mr. Editor, I will not trespass on your space any more now, but will ask a similar favor next week if the explanations are not forthcoming and satisfactory on nomination night. Don't shirk your duty old councillors, face the music like men and remember don't play sick and stay away from the public meeting. Yours, RATEPAYER.

A Racking
Cured by Ayer's Cherry Laxative.
Mrs. P. D. HALLOCK, Lockport, N. Y., says: "Over thirty years ago hearing my father describe the curative effects of Pectoral, during a severe attack of Pectoral, which assumed the form of a catarrh, soreness of the throat, and was relieved by various remedies. While some of these medicines alleviated the coughing, none of them afforded me that spasmodic action of the bowels which would seize me the moment I lie down at night. After such nights, I was nearly in despair and had about decided to give up my life. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was able to sleep in my easy chair, and sleep I could in that way cured me that I had been suffering with for many years.
