A TREE WITH MANY USES.

Among the remarkable trees of the world is the argan, which abounds in southern Morocco, but is seldom seen elsewhere. A "forest" of argans has a curious scattered appearance, because the trees grow singly and far apart. They are very leafy, but seldom exceed 20 feet in height. The branches put out horizontally, and begin a yard above the ground. Sheep, cattle and camels feed on the leaves, and goats will stand on their hind legs to reach them, but horses and mules refuse to touch them. The wood is very hard, and extremely useful to the natives, who make charcoal from it. The fruit, resembling a large olive, is used to feed cattle and to manufacture a valuable oil. It also furnishes the principal sustenance of many of the poorer natives.

The superiority of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is shown by its good effects on the children. Purchase a bottle and give it a trial.

DESIGNING.

"No wonder. Women do not relish being called 'designing creatures.'"

Salt Rheum Cured Quick. — Dr. Agnew's Ointment cures Salt Rheum and all itching or burning skin diseases in a day. One application gives almost instant relief. For Itching, Blind, or Bleeding Piles it stands without a peer. Cures in three to six nights. 35 cents. —151

SHE FOOLED HIM.

Her Mamma — "Florence, I am almost positive that he kissed you behind the door last night."

She — "Yes, but that wasn't the worst of it. It was also behind the ear."

Cholera and all summer complaints are so quick in their action that the cold hand of death is upon the victims before they are aware that danger is near. If attacked do not delay in getting the proper medicine. Try a dose of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and you will get immediate relief. It acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to effect a cure.

AN X ADDED.

Jonesmith — "My wife was such a pensive creature before I married, but she appears to have gotten over it now." Brownright — "I see. You mean she's expensive now."

"My Woman, is it the Kidneys?" — Investigation in half the disorders peculiar to women would prove faulty kidneys the seat of the trouble. If you're troubled with that tired, dragging feeling, have an almost constant heaviness, maybe sharp pains in the head, put South American Kidney Cure to the test. You'll find it the long sought friend, and it never fails.—150

HASTENED TO REPORT.

"Billiger," said Mrs. McSwat, in a determined tone of voice. "I want you to go and look at that furnace."

Mr. McSwat crawled out of bed, thrust his feet into his slippers, and went down two flights of stairs, into the basement. He returned in a surprisingly short space of time.

"It's still there, Lobelia," he said, crawling into bed again.

PIGEON FARM.

Nowhere in the world, in all probability, can so many tame pigeons be seen in the air as on the pigeon farm or ranch which is to be found near Los Angeles, in Southern California. This part of the world is especially favorable for pigeon-rearing. They have few natural enemies, hawks being very scarce, while the perpetual summer is an important factor. The farm covers about eight acres of sandy, gravelly soil, and there is an abundant supply of fresh water. Fifteen thousand birds fairly cover the ground and lofts, so that at times from a distance it appears as though some of the snow from the neighboring mountains had been dropped upon the roofs. The increase of this gigantic flock is enormous, but the demand is better than the supply, and 40,000 pigeons are sent to market each year.

PALE, LISTLESS GIRLS.

Can Only Obtain Health Through New, Rich Pure Blood Made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Growing girls—girls in their teens—must have rich, pure blood. Healthy womanhood depends upon the vital change from girlhood to maturity. Every woman should most carefully watch her daughter's health at this critical period. If a girl at this period has headaches, if she is pale, thin and languid, it shows that her slender blood supply is being overtaxed. She will always be ailing and may slip into a hopeless decline or consumption if her blood is not built up at once with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The rich, red blood which these pills make bring health and strength to every organ, and make dull, listless, languid girls, bright, rosy-cheeked, active and strong. Miss Maggie Donahue, Erinsville, Ont., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was badly run down, and it seemed as though my blood had turned to water. I was very pale, suffered from headaches and palpitation of the heart, and often I would pass sleepless nights. I found nothing to help me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these have fully restored me and I can truthfully say I never enjoyed better health than I am now doing."

When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills replace bad blood with good blood they strike straight at the root of all common ailments like anaemia, decline, indigestion, kidney and liver troubles, skin eruptions, erysipelas, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, rheumatism, and the special ailments of growing girls and women. Be sure you get the genuine pills with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WHAT IT MEANT.

A teacher was hearing a class in spelling and defining words. The word "orphan" had been correctly spelt, but none of the class seemed to know its meaning. After asking one or two of them, she said, encouragingly:—

"Now, try again. I am an orphan. Now, can't some of you guess what it means?"

The blank look on their faces remained, until one of the scholars raised his hand, and said, in the most guileless manner possible:—

"It's someone that wants to get married and canna get a husband!"

STURDY BABIES.

In every home where Baby's Own Tablets are used you will find rosy, sturdy, good-natured babies because these Tablets cleanse the stomach and bowels, aid digestion, and thus bring perfect health. Ask any mother who has used the Tablets and she will tell you there is no other medicine so good. Mrs. James Hall, Beach Hill, N. S., says: "My baby was troubled with indigestion, was cross and peevish and rapidly losing flesh. I got Baby's Own Tablets and less than a box cured him and he has ever since enjoyed good health and is growing splendidly." Mothers should remember that this medicine is absolutely safe and can be given to the weakest, tenderest baby, or to the sturdy well-grown boy or girl with equally good effect. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COURTSHIP IN ALASKA.

The Mothers Arrange the Preliminaries for the Frst Meeting.

In the village of Tigara, in Northwestern Alaska, one sees a young man beating out a piece of metal and fashioning a finger ring, it is usually intended for some young woman; but it remains for the meeting of the two mothers to arrange matters.

The two families may be living close together, yet the mother of the young man will call on her neighbor and tell her how she has intended to be more neighborly, but she has been so busy.

The neighbor will declare how delighted she is to meet her.

Then mother No. 1 begins to tell what a great hunter her son is, and how he is. Mother No. 2 remarks that her daughter is such a lovely cook. Having taken lessons, she knows how to cook everything.

Mother No. 1 declares that they are never hungry in their igloo, as son is always successful and brings lots of seals home.

Mother No. 2 remarks that her daughter is such a good sewer and knows how to chew a beautiful boot sole.

It is finally decided that the young man shall enter the girl's family on a sort of trial. If the girl turns up her nose and makes faces he may as well leave, as the match will never amount to anything; but should she greet him with an occasional smile and allow him to sit by her side in the evening, it will all be clear sailing, and they will unite as husband and wife.

A man should be well heeled before trying to stand on his dignity.

RULES FOR GOOD HUBBY

THEY WERE FRAMED BY A FRENCHMAN'S WIFE.

Six Amusing Commandments Laid Down For Alphonse Which He Did Not Observe.

The marriage commandments of the French wife, who has just obtained a divorce in Paris, were six only, not ten. But they were too many for Alphonse, her husband, to observe, and his disobedience brought the affairs of the household into court.

The couple had been married twenty years, the wife working in a tobacco factory. A wife-beater is the only description to hand of her husband.

Some time since the wife left home because of her husband's cruelty, and would not return until he had solemnly set his name to the six commandments drawn up by her on paper. Here are the six:

1. I shall keep the money of the household, and I do not want to account for it every day, as I used to be silly enough to do. It is for the husband to account to the wife.

2. I do not wish you to meddle with my management. I shall buy what I like without your coming to tell me that it is too dear, for I am not in the habit of throwing money out of the window.

WANTS A HALF DAY.

3. Under no pretext will I receive in the house your friends, comrades or colleagues, any more than we shall go to them, because I do not want people to talk about me, and if I were annoyed by people's talk in society I should be sure to behave foolishly. As for going out you shall take me to the theatre with our own money, when we can afford it, without being beholden to anybody; or we could go into the country as we used to do, but there must be no disputes on the way over a three-penny omnibus fare.

4. I want a half day at home for mending or other matters without your grumbling about lost time. If I stay away from the workshop when I am feeling ill you are not to treat me as if I were a lazy woman, for you know that is untrue.

NO DISPUTES.

5. There must be no disputing about my going to see your family. I am fond of your mother and respect her. But I do not like things which I am forced to do. Therefore, if you want me to go and see her, and I do not, you will go alone without any dispute.

6. As we have often disputed about my daughter, I will have no more to do with her. You shall be responsible. While I do the cooking you shall make her do her duty, and shall teach her to read and write. You will punish or reward her and perhaps we shall then have peace. If not, I shall put her in a convent.

Simple as they are, the burden of the six commandments was too heavy for Alphonse. He tore up the whole table of the law, and returned to his habit of wife-beating.

Therefore he is divorced.

LIFE IN A "HOVEL."

Typical Case of Poverty Revealed at Inquest.

A sad tale of poverty was disclosed at an inquest on the nine-year-old son of a dock laborer living at No. 5 Causeway Court, Stepney, London.

Mary Ann Pittman, the mother, said the deceased had always been healthy, but on Wednesday night complained of headache, and went to bed at 7.30 p.m. Witness, at his request, put him in her bed, and found him dead the next morning. He had not disturbed her in any way during the night. She had had 13 children, but only three were now alive.

The Coroner—If all were to die at that rate, England would soon become a very small place. Dr. Sionham said that death was due to acute double pneumonia, and that the deceased must have been seriously ill for some days.

The mother was recalled and said that the "house" in which they lived consisted of two rooms only. The night the deceased died the father slept on the floor.

The Coroner—What rent do you pay for this "little box"?

Witness—Five shillings a week, but I owe three weeks.

The Coroner—I think the system of living and the accommodation gives an inkling of the heavy mortality in the family.

The Coroner's Officer—The parents are very poor; the husband has been out of work.

A Juror—Hard up all round, and living in a hovel.

Another Juror—It is a further illustration of how the poor live.

A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence was returned.

GETTING AROUND IT.

"Why, Frankie," said the mother of a three-year-old. "You have eaten both of those molasses popcorn squares, and I told you to eat only one."

"But I stuck them together," said the youthful schemer, "and that made one."

Get SCOTT'S Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

AN EX-MAYOR GIVES UNSTINTED PRAISE

"DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE THE VERY BEST MEDICINE I EVER USED FOR KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Mr. Robert Sheppard, Ex-Mayor of Gananoque, Ont., Testifies to the Merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Gananoque, Ont., April 30.—(Special.)—"I suffered off and on for over four years from kidney trouble," writes Mr. Sheppard, of this place, "and though I tried many remedies and was under a doctor a long while I got no better. I had Bright's Disease slightly, Lumbago, pains in my loins and at times all over my body. My skin was dry, hard and burning, I could not sleep, the least exertion made me perspire fearfully and my blood was so bad I broke out in boils all over the neck and back. I was in this state when I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills and in an incredibly short space of time the boils disappeared, I recovered my health and now I am quite cured."

MAKING BREAD WITH SEA-WATER.

At one time sea-water was used in some seaside places when making bread. Even now villages along the coastline of France utilize it. Fresh rain or spring water is only used for the leaven, pure sea-water being exclusively employed for the making and mixing of the dough. By this method no mineral or table salt requires to be added, the natural salt water giving the bread the necessary degree of salinity. But though sea-water does admirably for bread-making, when applied to other culinary purposes the result is a disagreeable failure. The wheaten bread produced by it, however, is excellent and of great hygienic value. The chloride of magnesium, which imparts the acrid taste to sea-water, is decomposed in the heating, and therefore does not convey its original disagreeable taste to the bread, while the common salt, of course, permanently retains all its characteristic saline properties. The mineral substances left in the baked bread are considered to be of the nature of very mild regulating medicines.

A REVELATION IN TEA.

The Tea trade of the world has undergone a remakable change in the past few years. Twenty years ago practically all the Tea of the world was supplied by China and Japan. About this time there appeared an insect in Ceylon which attacked the coffee tree and in a very short time the entire coffee plantation was destroyed.

Some enterprising Scotch planters commenced the planting of tea and the first shipment made to the London market brought the most extraordinary prices, they developing a quality in the cup far superior to anything ever known in tea previously. These Ceylon teas rapidly made a foothold in England until to-day the exports to that country amount to one hundred and twenty-five millions pounds annually.

The "SALADA" Tea Co., commenced their introduction in Canada and the United States packing teas in air-tight, sealed lead packets, and both their black and green teas have made wonderful progress; American tea drinkers finding this tea superior to anything they ever tasted in either the black or the green teas of China and Japan. The utter absence of coloring matter in their green teas says much for their healthfulness and their delicious flavor speaks for itself.

A WOLF WAS HE.

"I heard that you called me a beast, Miss Tobasco."

"Well, I guess I did."

"What kind of a beast, may I ask?"

"A wolf, I fancy. You're so hard to keep from the door, Mr. Borehman."

It Retains the Old and Makes New Friends. —Time was when Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil had but a small field of distribution, but now its territory is widespread. Those who first recognized its curative qualities still value it as a specific, and while it retains its old friends it is ever making new. It is certain that whoever once uses it will not be without it.

AID FOR EMIGRANTS.

Leith, Scotland, is the First Municipality to Adopt the Plan.

Municipal aid is now being furnished to emigrants from Leith, Scotland, and the result is being watched with great interest. The unemployed workmen act of 1905 authorizes the appointment of distress committees by the local authorities of cities and towns and provides that "the central body may, if they think fit, in any case of an unemployed person referred to them by the distress committee, assist that person by aiding the emigration or removal to another area of that person and any of his dependents, or by providing or contributing toward the provision of temporary work." Any expenses incurred which shall not be met by voluntary contributions are to be paid out of the rates or taxes.

Leith is the first municipality in Scotland, if not in the United Kingdom, to adopt an emigration scheme. There are about four hundred unemployed workmen in that city, and it is proposed by the distress committee to send to Canada as many as are physically fit for farm work and are willing to emigrate. A limited number of married men, with their wives and children, will be included in the list.

To insure the physical fitness of emigrants for residence in the Dominion the applicants are medically examined. Each adult emigrant receives two new complete outfits of clothing, a steerage ticket and $5 or $6 pocket money. It is calculated that the cost to the taxpayers will slightly exceed $40 for each adult person sent abroad, not including the outfits of clothing, which, it is believed, will be largely provided by contributions of apparel and money. The first party of emigrants have been guaranteed work for twelve months on dairy farms in Ontario. Four are married men, over thirty and under forty years of age. With one or two exceptions the single men are between the ages of twenty and thirty.

The development of the Leith emigration scheme is watched with much interest and not without misgiving by the people of Edinburgh and other communities in Scotland. The extent to which it can be carried seems measurable only by the very elastic term "unemployed."

It's easier to teach a baby to talk than it is to teach a woman not to.

Marriage is never a failure, but often the contracting parties are.

FEEDING OF FISH.

Fishes have no eyelashes, and necessarily sleep with their eyes open; they swallow their food whole, having no dental machinery. Frogs, toads and serpents never take food except that which they are certain is alive. Serpents are so tenacious of life that they will live for six months or longer without food.

Miserable Folks could trace both state of mind and body to some one or other form of stomach disorder. Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablet is a "vest pocket" remedy that nature provides and that medical science has proved a wonder in preventing and curing stomach ailments. If you've a symptom of distress in your stomach test the Pineapple cure. 35 cents.—152

Kitty — "So you have been to Paris? You must have had a nice time there; you understand the language so perfectly, you know." Bessie — "Well, the fact is, though you'd hardly believe it, they speak such queer French there that it's quite impossible to converse with them with any degree of intelligence.'

Corns cause intolerable pain. Holloway's Corn Cure removes the trouble. Try it, and see what amount of pain is saved.

Teacher — "What is the conscience?" Little James — "It's something that makes you sorry when you gits found out."

MARK THIS DISTINCTION: A purely local disease of the skin, like barber's itch, is cured by Weaver's Cerate alone. But where the blood is loaded with impurity, such as Salt Rheum, Weaver's Syrup also should be used.

Fair Girl — "My father made his fortune when he was a young man. Would you like to know how he did it?" Gallant Youth — "Not particularly; but I would like to know if he has still got it."

A Clear Healthy Skin — Eruptions of the skin and the blotches which blemish beauty are the result of impure blood caused by unhealthy action of the liver and kidneys. In correcting this unhealthy action and restoring the organs to their normal condition, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will at the same time cleanse the blood, and the blotches and eruptions will disappear without leaving any trace.

"I have discovered a great labor-saving device." "I always said you were a genius. What is it?" "I am going to marry Miss Bullion, the heiress."

Man and Wife in Distress. — Rev. Dr. Bochror, of Buffalo, says: "My wife and I were both troubled with distressing Catarrh, but we have enjoyed freedom from this aggravating malady since the day we first used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. Its action was instantaneous, giving the most grateful relief within ten minutes after first application.." 50 cents.—153

WHAT DO PEOPLE NEED who are run down, anaemic, pale, listless? "Ferrovim," the best tonic. It builds, makes strong, it gives new life. There are many tonics but only one "Ferrovim."

Traveller — "Why do you allow that waiter to remain constantly so close to that young married couple? It evidently annoys them." Restaurateur — "Oh, because they keep ordering things so as to get him out of hearing."

Be There a Will Wisdom Points the Way. — The sick man pines for relief, but he dislikes sending for the doctor, which means bottles of drugs never consumed. He has not the resolution to load his stomach with compounds which smell villainously and taste worse. But if he have the will to deal himself with his ailment, wisdom will direct his attention to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which, as a specific for indigestion and disorders of the digestive organs, have no equal.

Magistrate — "You were begging on the public streets, and you had over $10 in your pocket." Prisoner — "Yes, sir; I may not be as industrious as some, y'r honor, but I'm no spendthrift."

THE WORST KIND

After Piles have existed for a long time and passed through different stages, the suffering is intense—pain, aching, throbbing, tumors form, filled to bursting with black blood.

Symptoms indicating other troubles may appear to a thoroughly Pile-sick person.

It will cure the most stubborn case in existence and a bonded guarantee to that effect goes with each package.

Hem-Roid is to be had for $1.00 at the drug store, or from The Wilson-Fyle Company, Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. 3

Bridegroom (on honeymoon) — "I haven't the slightest objection to your giving all your time to the dog, my own, but I wish you had made it quite clear, when you suggested bringing it, whether it was you and I who were going on our honeymoon and were bringing the dog, or whether it was you and the dog who were bringing me."

CHAPTER XXIV.

Time passed, and still there was little change; but the great change soon to come.

One day, near the end of summ Leroy, contrary to his custom of li passed out of the private grounds, a taking the highway, walked forward the direction his horse had so often ried him.

He walked on till night began to then suddenly stopped short and fected for a moment, and slowly bec to retrace his steps.

Presently, comprehending how he was from home, he began to m his pace, and, as he hastened onw as fast as his feeble strength wo permit, his mind flew back to that a stode upon which he now felt that had looked for the last time.

"I shall never see them any more never any more," he moaned. "O Edith! Oh, my son! Alas, poor J nes!"

Then the scene he had witnessed that memorable evening rose up bef him, and he moaned half aloud:

"Dear Father in Heaven, be good a merciful to my mother, my grandm ther, to myself—and above all, de God, to my unfortunate father."

The last few words were uttered wi a sob.

"Oh, God! if there, indeed, be a God he suddenly ejaculated, "do—do inde be merciful and release me forever fro this horrible burden of life."

He had just reached the edge of t woods that marked the boundary Beatrice's property.

As that prayer passed his lips a sh dowy form sprang from the side of th road with uplifted hand, in which a peared a gleaming blade.

Leroy turned quickly and confronte his assailant. The next instant the bla descended and was buried in his bo em.

He threw up his hands, as if grop for some support, uttered a feeble mo and sunk to the ground.

"Ha! ha!" exclaimed the assassin, he dropped on one knee beside his vi tim. "At last I am avenged!" and the bent over him: "Do you know me, L roy Melville?"

Leroy opened his eyes wearily.

"George Forbes!" he said, with su prise.

"Yes, George Forbes, whom you struc with your whip, you coward. But wh else?" and he suddenly removed th wig and moustache.

" have seen you before, but—I—ca not—remember — when —or where, slowly murmured the wounded man.

"I will help you," said the other grimly. "I am he whose hopes yo blighted, whose prospects you blaste and ruined long ago. Look at m again."

"George Lawton!"
