The Doctors of Mount Clemens Institute Prove the Value of These Pills in the Case of Mr. S. Harris, Government Inspector of Elevators at Hamilton, Ont.

From the Star, Dundas, Ont. We are much pleased to see Mr. S. Harris, the well-known Government inspector of elevators of Hamilton, in in health and appearance since the last time we met him. As is known to many of the Star readers, Mr. Harris has recovered from a long and severe illness, and is now quite able to attend this usual duties. From this long illmess many predicted Mr. Harris would once more able to go around very nearily as spry as he did before he was attacked, is little less than marvellous to

In reply to our reporter, Mr. Harris related the early stages of the attack and subsequent sufferings which he experienced, and while he did not court publicity, decided that in the public interest he would relate the circumstances of this wonderful cure. About fourteen months ago Mr. Harris woke up one morning with a stiff neck; try as he would, and after applying all the reme- January 27, 1903; a few words, never- in paper money, is becoming, comparadies externally that he could hear or theless, as to its existence as such may tively speaking, less and less. Wedding ceremonies are often attended by amusing incidents. The following is told of a small village church. The father of the bride, a simple vilbuoyancy and strength that make life lager, came to give her away, dressed seem a joy that is to go on forever, and in long black frock coat and with a tall hat. When the clergyman put the little account of the years, but then question, "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" the poor father was lost for the moment, but recovering himself, he touched his forelock and said, "I do, mate."
