Need the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

From girlhood to middle life the health and happiness of every woman depends on her blood. If her blood is poor and watery she becomes weak, languid, rale and nervous. If her blood supply is irregular she suffers from headaches and tackaches and other unspeakable distress which only women know. At every stage of a woman's life Dr. Wil-Eams' Pink Pills are her best friend, because they actually make the rich, red blood which gives health and strength and tone to every organ of the body. They help a woman just when nature makes the greatest demand upon her law. His clothing caught in the machinblood supply. Mrs. H. ROMANCES OF AUSTRALIAN MINES. Discovery of the Rich Coolgardie - Unsuccessful Prospectors' Find. In the history of gold digging and gold finding many a romantic and tragic story is to be found. Few of these stories, however, possess more interest than that of how the famous Coolgardie mines, in Western Australia, were discovered in 1892-mines which have since yielded millions of pounds worth of gold. Luck played a great part in the discovery, but it was the reward of perseverance, says London Tit-Bits.

In April, 1892, two Victorian miners named Bayley and Ford struck out for the northeast of Australia, but after traversing 250 miles they lost their horses and had to turn back. Equipped with fresh horses, they started again on what proved to be a long, tedious and futile journey, for once more they were forced to turn back-this time for want of water. The third attempt won them fame and fortune.

First they found that which to them was more precious than gold-namely, water. They found a natural well, known to the scattered tribes of that far away country as "Coolgardie." Pitching their camp beside the well they turned their horses out to feed and started prospecting the country around. Ford picked up a half ounce nugget and before night they had gathered in over twenty ounces of gold. Two or three weeks more surface prospecting was rewarded with over two hundred ounces. By this time food suppiles had given out, so keeping their own counsel concerning their discoveries, they returned to civilization, laid in a fresh stock of provisions and hastened back to their El Dorado. Within a few days of their return they happened upon the reef that made Coolgardie. Beginning with a "slug" weighing 50 ounces, they picked out from a "I have been afflicted with nasal cap of that reef in a few hours upward catarrh to such a degree that it affected of 500 ounces of gold. Almost as sensational as Coolgardie were the Londonderry and Wealth of Nations "finds." The Londonderry was discovered by a party of unsuccessful progold bearing specimens. After a brief search the outcrop of a reef was exposed from which in the course of a few days they took out from 4,000 to 5,000 ounces of gold. From the cap of the Wealth of Nations reef gold to the value of £20,-000 was secured in a few days.

TACT NOT HYPOCRISY. Many people are so ignorant of all the properties of life that they have no other idea of tact than as a species of hypocrisy, and never fail on opportuity to characterize it as such. But to the mind capable of the least discrimination the two are as wide apart as the poles. For hypocrisy is the dumb show of lying, but tact is rather a method employed to avoid lying. Hypocrisy says: "There is no pit here," and skips gaily across; but tact, saying nothing at all about the pit, cries: "Ah, how pleasant it is 'n the other direction! Let us go that way." Hypocrisy never hesitates at a lie; tact never allows occasion for one.
