Snelgroves Bakery and Restaurant.
We had the pleasure on Wednesday of inspecting the up-to-date baking establishment of Mr. Wm. Snelgrove. Since that gentleman has added a new gasoline engine to his plant, it is well worth a visit. The first engine that he had for the work to be done, so a larger and better one has been installed, and it certainly seems to be just what Mr. Snelgrove needs for his increasing trade. It runs his new dough mixer like a charm, and does the work that before required three quarters of an hour in about ten minutes, and saves the baker a lot of hard "punching." The belting is also attached to a large ice cream freezer, and it is wonderful how quickly the "freezing" is accomplished by this new method, and there are no tired wrists. Mr. Snelgrove is certainly to be congratulated upon his enterprise, and his rapidly growing business will amply repay him for the extra expense involved. Mr. Snelgrove is of the opinion that better bread and pastry can be made by the new process.

The service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening was both interesting and profitable. Rev. Mr. Bradley, B.A., of Berlin, preached an excellent sermon from the words as found in Isaiah 6: 1-5. In clear and forcible utterances he brought before the large congregation Isaiah's message to men—Showing clearly that the vision we have of God is reflected in the life we live, in other words, life is a transcript of our conception of God. The vision of God given to man reveals the man to himself. This is clear from the prophet's utterances, when he says, I am a man of unclean lips, and dwell among a people of unclean life. The vision of God if appreciated will make a man willing to serve; and was true of Isaiah, for he said "here am I, send me." Mr. Bradley's message was well received and a warm welcome awaits him, when he appears before this congregation on the 18th inst.

The choir was in fine form under the able leadership of Mr. C. V. Pym, and the anthem rendered by them showed careful and thorough training. There are few choirs that can compare with this outside of large cities.

Next Sabbath the services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wm. Johnston.

DOUBLE WEDDING.
On Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Jos. Burns, Bank St., Millbrook, a quiet, but pretty double wedding took place. Rev. G. R. Clare officiating. Miss Anna Burns, daughter of Mr. Wm. Only a few of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The ceremony being over, a dainty repast was served and the wedding party were driven to the C.P.R. at Cavanville in Mr. Ed Christie's new survey, and they took the evening train for their new homes at Clarence Square, Toronto. The brides, both popular young ladies, received many handsome presents. The Mirror joins in wishing the happy couples long life, prosperity and happiness.
