A Good Family Have Left Town and Gone to Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Snelgrove and children left town last week to take up their residence in Peterborough. He was desirous of remaining in Millbrook, but could not get a residence, and he decided to move to Peterboro, where he has purchased a good house. Mr. and Mrs. Snelgrove will be greatly missed in the active work of the Methodist Church and S. S. Mr. Snelgrove was a very active member of the Ladies Aid. The C. O. F. will lose a good officer by the departure of Mr. Snelgrove. Their three children, Gladys, Gordon and King, were very popular with their associates, and all regret to learn of them leaving here. We hope that some of our town men will build some residences, and that Mr. and Mrs. Snelgrove and family will return to town to reside at no distant date. We cannot afford to lose such estimable citizens. While regretting their departure we join with a host of their friends in town and vicinity in wishing them continued prosperity and happiness. Millbrook's loss is certainly Peterboro's gain.

A GREAT SCHOOL.

Young Ladies get free tickets to Y.W.C.A., young men to Y.M.C.A. or T.A.A. An interesting advertisement may be seen upon the floral decorations and said he believed that such service was well pleasing unto the Lord. But that God would not only have us decorate the outer sanctuary with flowers but would have us give greater attention to the inner sanctuary of the soul. He thought God would have us root out the Judas tree of Unbelief, the Nettles of Slander, the deadly night shade of evil thoughts, and the barberry of sourness of disposition; and in their place plant the hly of purity, the crocus of cheerfulness, the Pansy of Modesty, the Phlox of Unanimity, the Canterbury Bell of Gratitude, the Moss rose of Confession, and the ground Laurel of Perseverance.

At 2.30 p.m. the Sunday School rallied. The service was full of inspiration. The Superintendent, R. W. Clarke, had charge of the programme which was carried out to the tick of the clock. It consisted of choruses, duets, and quartettes by the choir, ity of becoming better acquainted with each other. We feel that Miss Byam and Miss Hampton are to be commended for their admirable hospitality. It is to be hoped that other young people of the village and surrounding country will avail themselves of this splendid opportunity of becoming members of one of these Organized Bible Classes. A hearty welcome awaits all who wish to join.

The funeral on Sunday to the Presbyterian Cemetery was attended by quite a number of sorrowing friends and relatives. Rev. W. P. Rogers, in the absence of Rev. Wm. Johnston, conducted the services at the grave.

Only the memory of the lovely boy is left, yet how sweet, how uplifting its influence. For, after all, death is but the slipping off of the outer body. "When death strikes down the innocent and young, for every fragile form from which he lets the panting spirit free, a hundred virtues rise, in shapes of mercy, clarity, and love, to walk the world and bless it. Of every tear that sorrowing mortals shed on such green graves, some good is born, some gentler nature comes."

One less at home—The charmed circle broken—a dear baby face Missed day by day from an accustomed place; But cleansed and saved and perfected by grace. One more in heaven.

In the parlors of the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, Sept. 29, the members of the Organized Bible Classes of that church, numbering about sixty, were entertained by their teachers Miss Byam and Miss Hampton. The rooms were artistically decorated with flowers and autumn leaves, and a very dainty tea was served at the conclusion. During the evening the young people were agreeably entertained and were given an opportunity of becoming better acquainted with each other. We feel that Miss Byam and Miss Hampton are to be commended for their admirable hospitality. It is to be hoped that other young people of the village and surrounding country will avail themselves of this splendid opportunity of becoming members of one of these Organized Bible Classes. A hearty welcome awaits all who wish to join.
