year in the local Collegiate Institute. Who Knows? Alice toiled slowly up the stairs, paper and pencil in hand, ready to ask questions of the first person she encountered. Being just six, she was at the inquiring age and endeawored to:

make everybody's life a burden to The first person she encountered was: Bridget, the upstairs girl. "Pwease, Bwidget," she piped, "gif me ve letters of ve alfabit." Slowly and impressively Bridget complied. "An' now, Bwidget," proceeded Alice, "pwease gif me ve letters vat ain't in ve afabit." Bridget thought. Then she thought again. She was puzzled. Finally she said:

"I'll tell ye tomorrow," and went down to ask cook .- London Queen. The Colonies-In English Eyes. The average Englishman, and it is surprising in what numbers he exists, years of age. He had been for years has a vague conception of colonies generally. He has some hazy notions of Virginian plantations and transportation settlements and crown colonies where a peppery military man of the old school takes up the white man's burden by holding autocratic sway over unclad barbarians. The conceptions are more often than not fifty years behind the times.-Sydney Lone
