

BUTTER PAPER

Nothing but the Genuine Vegetable Parchment Butter Paper should be wrapped around any butter. The first cost of the inferior grades of butter paper and there are many of them, may be a few cents less per thousand sheets, but it never pays to run the risk. Mold spots will develop on good butter if wrapped in cheap butter paper, and occasionally a good butter maker's reputation has been nearly blasted by having had foisted on him cheap butter paper.

Plain Unprinted Butter Paper

500 Sheets, 50c. 200 Sheets 25c. 100 Sheets 15c.

You can realize from one to two cents more per pound for your butter if in printed wrappers. The prices are as follows:

Printed Butter Wrappers
Per 1000, $1.75. Per 500, $1.25

Liberal Party Now Without Candidate

DR. GILES SENT IN HIS RESIGNATION—WHO WILL BE THE NEXT MAN?

The early mail Tuesday morning brought sad intelligence to Dr. Blanchard, the president of the Liberal party, the which will be learned with disappointment by the Liberals of Haliburton and Victoria county—the resignation of Dr. Giles, of Haliburton, as candidate in the coming election. It was thought that the doctor would be sure to stand, and it is up to the Grits to get another man right away. No doubt this will be Dr. Blanchard himself, who is very popular amongst the Liberals throughout the riding.

The sentiments voiced by several of the speakers at the convention in favor of not running a candidate will no doubt be heard again, and perhaps the present member may be re-elected by acclamation.

The Socialists to Have a Candidate

UNIONISTS EXPECTED TO VOTE THEIR WAY—WILL HAVE A RED-HOT CAMPAIGN.

The Socialists are now preparing for a red hot campaign and are going to put a strong candidate in the field. A convention will be held shortly in the Academy of Music, and the candidate chosen. The names of Messrs. W. A. Goodwin, R. M. Beal and Jas. Appleby have been mentioned, but it is not known as yet who it will be. The popular run of feeling throughout the party is that a farmer should represent the constituency.

Mr. Goodwin was interviewed this morning by The Free Press, and stated that if he was chosen he would stand. He expected that during the next election the country would see the unionists sailing under the Socialists' banner. Keir Hardy had worked wonders in cementing together these two bodies.

York Loan Books Still Held Back

FINAL NOTICE ISSUED BEFORE PAYMENT OF DIVIDEND.

The last call to shareholders of the York County Loan and Savings Co., to turn in their books to the liquidators, the National Trust Company, has been issued, and those failing to respond within 30 days will not participate in the dividend.

Up to the present the liquidators have only received about 100,000 pass books; but, according to the company's ledgers, there are 140,000 accounts, but the amount of work involved in classifying them and ascertaining the amount of arrears in each case is enormous. While good progress has been made it is expected that nine months more will be needed before the liquidators are in a position to pay the first dividend. Assets to the amount of over $700,000 have been disposed of, and this will enable the payment of a first dividend of 25 cents. The whole amount realized from the sale of real estate has not yet been converted into cash, but the mortgages held on the property are so unquestionable that they will be readily taken up by loan corporations and insurance companies, in many cases probably at a premium, whenever the time arrives for paying the dividend.

From present indications the shareholders in good standing will receive altogether not less than 40 cents on the dollar. It will, however, take about three years more to clear up everything.

WHAT "OLD HAYSEED" THINKS.

(To Editor of The Free Press.)
Sir,—I was reading in the papers a few days ago about the way the Conservatives carried Colchester, Nova Scotia, about one year ago. They seem to have done the job with money and whiskey—more whiskey, however, than money. Those blue noses must be a dry set. I have not forgotten about the trip of the Minnie M., and the way the trick was played in London. The Grits were in the mud at that time. Now, who is the worst? The hayseeds do not do much political stumping; neither Sir Wilfrid Laurier, nor R. L. Borden will invite any of them to accompany them on a political tour, and make speeches. They take along these glib-tongued politicians, but the old hayseeds do a lot of thinking. They are in the big majority, and when the election day comes around they can mark their ballots and they count for something. Then I have had my suspicions that there is always a little money going about election times, but there is no whiskey. I know lots of them could not wait for a smile.

Well, one morning I was talking to my neighbor, whose farm joins mine, and he said,

"John, how much are you going to ask for your vote this time?"

"Ask for my vote," I said, "I would like to see the man who would try to buy me, I would set the dog on him double-quick; I never got a dollar for my vote in my life."

"Nether have I," said he.

But I have my doubts about that. Sometimes he has talked one way and voted another, and sometimes he has never known which way he would vote until the night before the election, and he always had a little change in his pocket afterwards.

"Look here, John, there are a few ways of looking at this thing. These politicians are looking out for number one—they are in the game for what they can make out of it, and it only comes the way of a hayseed once or twice in four years to make a few dollars."

Now, that is just what a number of the farmers think, and it would not be any trouble to get rid of a cartload of money. There are lots of Tories and Grits would have their mouths open, and it isn't much use for the pot to call the kettle black. When I hear either side talking about corruption I do not take much stock in this boodle at all, and would like to be the one to stamp it out altogether. There is not much in politics for me—I never asked for anything, never expected anything. The politicians always want to shake my hand, but I can see through their game. They ask a whole lot of questions—if we are all well at home, how are the crops, etc., and always winds up by saying, "Well, John, I suppose you will give me a lift this time." But "Old Hayseed" intends to vote the way he pleases—he reads and has a mind of his own.

Now, Mr Editor, I am going to stop. I will write again—I have heard a good many things about me since I began these letters. One old hayseed says I am no fool, another that I have got there with both feet, another that I ought to have a gold medal, and some of the town chaps say that I don't know what I am talking about. Well, I'll show them whether I do or not. Anyway, these are the thoughts of "OLD HAYSEED."
