Opp, Spratt & Killen's

SNAPPY, STYLISH SUITS

Do you like snappy, original styles? Then you'll like the style-beauty of our clothes. Quality and beauty of fabrics and careful tailoring are both important features in our success, but the point that makes our SUITS and OVERCOATS at $18 to $35 stand out distinct and separate from the average tailored garment is their superiority of style. Handsome, fashionable, pure wool fabrics, are what we put into our Special Suit or Overcoat to measure.

Would Like To See An Armories Erected

OLD REGULAR SAYS REGIMENT NO BETTER ONE YEAR THAN THE YEAR PREVIOUS.

(To the Editor of The Free Press.) Dear Sir,—I have been reading with interest the different articles you have had in your paper regarding the building of an armories in the town of Lindsay. As an old soldier who has faced the blaze of the enemies' guns on many occasions, my heart beats rapidly as I hear the stirring strains of British grenadiers, and see the boys in scarlet trooping by on their way to camp each year. They return again in twelve days badly burned, the uniforms a little worse for wear, but they show no signs of becoming good military men. Now, I have watched these boys year after year and I must confess that they who march away to one camp are no better than those who attended the one before. The system in my opinion, is very poor, and I think the Counties of Victoria and Haliburton should be able to boast of one regiment whose efficiency in drill would compare favorably with any one in the province.

Now, it will be some time before the building of an armories can be arranged, and I would suggest that in the meantime some hall, the roller rink or any other large building rented. Drill the boys until next summer, and if they are not the best trained regiment that ever left Lindsay, then I say, don't build an armories.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space in your valuable paper, I remain, AN OLD REGULAR. Lindsay, Oct. 30th.

Kirkfield Lady Sued for Trespass

MRS. WM. MACKENZIE CALLED INTO COURT TO DEFEND ACTION FOR DAMAGES.

Thursday's Globe: Mrs. Margaret Mackenzie, wife of the President of the Toronto Street Railway Company, was defendant in an unfinished action in the non-jury assizes, before Mr. Justice Britton. She was sued for trespass and damages by Mrs. Eliza Taylor.

Each of the parties own property on the shore of Balsam Lake, near Lindsay. Mrs. Taylor's property consists of a quarter of an acre of land, which lies between Mrs. Mackenzie's property and that of Mrs. Mackenzie's brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. Mitchell.

Mrs. Mackenzie was anxious to connect the properties, and prospects were made for the purchase of Mrs. Taylor's quarter acre for $500, but that lady was not willing to sell. Without waiting to see if her offer was accepted Mrs. Mackenzie is said to have set a couple of men to work felling trees on Mrs. Taylor's property in order to build a road across it. For this act Mrs. Taylor wants the court to assess damages.

Peter Cameron, one of the two men engaged to fell the trees, said he valued Mrs. Taylor's quarter acre at $1,000.

WEDDING BELLS

STEWART—MATTHEWS.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated Wednesday Oct. 28 in Cambridge-st. Baptist church, when Rev. G. W. Welch, pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Stewart, of Sewickly, Penn., united in marriage Miss Isabella Matthews, daughter of Mr. Geo. Matthews, town, and Rev. Mr. Stewart, of Coudersport, Penn., son of the assisting clergyman.

The bride looked radiant in a princess white satin gown trimmed with Irish lace. She also wore a pretty white felt hat trimmed with white satin ribbon and a large white plume, a pretty pearl necklace, and carried a large bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Alice Matthews, sister of the bride, wore a gown of pale pink silk, and a picture hat of white felt trimmed with pink ribbon and white net. The flower girls—two little nieces of the bride, the Misses Grace and Dorothy Matthews, of Ottawa—were daintily dressed in pink satin and carried pink carnations.

To the strains of the wedding march played on the organ, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Mr. Geo. Matthews, who gave her away. On the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party entered a cab, and in waiting and drove to the bride's home, where luncheon was partaken of, after which the happy pair left for the C.P.R. 4.45 train to commence their honeymoon trip.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. A. Stewart, Ithaca, N.Y.; Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, Rochester, N.Y.; Rev. Alex. Stewart, Sewickly, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Matthews, Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Matthews, Brantford. Rev. Mr. Stewart and bride will take up residence in Coudersport.

New Assistant For Local Office

MR. D. A. MACKENZIE, B.S.A., ASSISTING MR. REED IN AGRICULTURAL WORK.

Mr. D. A. Mackenzie, B.S.A., whose home town is Paisley, Ontario, and who has been for some years past at the O.A.C. Guelph, arrived here this week to assist Mr. F. H. Reed in the local office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Mr. MacKenzie was a member of the O.A.C. judging team which in December last at Chicago, for the third time in succession defeated teams from all the largest American Agricultural Colleges. Mr. Mackenzie is an acquisition to the local staff. Not only has he had a good practical training on his home farm, but this knowledge has been rounded off by a four year course at the Ontario Agricultural College, where the practical theories imparted assist to a large extent in turning out thorough farmers.

Mr. MacKenzie has also taken a special course in drainage surveying work, and has, since his graduation in June last been on the staff of the Physical Department of the O. A. C. This special line of knowledge will be of direct value in his work in Lindsay. The work of the Lindsay branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture at present is largely taken up with questions of drainage in which so many of the farmers hereabouts are vitally interested.

Mr. MacKenzie will, during the coming winter, assist in conducting the Three Months' course in agriculture in the Collegiate, and the special five days' judging course from January 25th to 30th.

Popular Druggist Leaving Lindsay

MR. L. A. MURPHY MOVING THIS WEEK TO CAMROSE, ALBERTA.

Mr. L. A. Murphy, one of the popular business men of town, has decided to leave Lindsay, and is at present packing up the stock and fixtures of his drug store with the purpose of shipping them to Camrose, Alberta, or some near-by point in the West, where he intends to open up business. This move of Mr. Murphy's is made necessary by the fact that he is forced to vacate the stand which he has occupied for the past three years, and where he has done a growing business in the line of drugs, stationery and optical goods. Mr. Murphy was unable to find another suitable stand in town and hence the decision to go West, where he believes there is lots of room.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, during their stay in Lindsay, have made many friends and are highly esteemed in social and church circles. The premises on Kent street vacated by Mr. Murphy, along with the premises recently occupied by Mr. W. H. Roenigk, are being fitted up for fine new quarters for the Victoria Loan and Savings Co.

Election Tax Too Much For Socialist

OTHER EXPENSES ALSO KEPT CANDIDATE OUT OF THE FIELD.

(To the Editor of The Free Press.) Dear Sir,—Doubtless some of your readers wondered why the Socialists did not place a candidate before the electors in the recent campaign for a representative in the Dominion House at Ottawa. "Tightness of money, or the general dislike to the required Dominion deposit of $200.00, in addition to the many other incidental expenses, was considered too much of a tax on the workingmen of this riding, in the face of the problem of possible unemployment during the coming winter. However, as your readers well know, the ultimate and certain success of the socialistic movement depends largely on popular education in self-government. We can well afford to "bide our time, thankful that every colony of our motherland has the guaranteed right of reform, appeal or freemen's revolution, and the selection of their law makers, as well as the manufacture of graters and law-breakers.

The pressing problem of unemployed labor, now before the imperial parliament, will exercise a more positive educational effect upon the people of Canada than would the election of a score of Socialist candidates to the House of Commons.—Yours respectfully, A. SOCIALIST. Lindsay, Nov. 3, 1908.

MR. BRIDGE BUSY.

Mr. J. Howard Bridge, who is installing the ozone purification plant, will be a busy man next month. He has arranged to be in Baltimore on the 10th, Washington two days later, and must also visit New York and Philadelphia afterwards. His ozone plant is certainly becoming well known, and it is a great advertisement for Lindsay.

"LIVING PICTURE ARTIST" SAYS DAY OF CORSET IS NEARLY DONE

MONSIEUR JEAN MARCEL QUIT THE EASEL TO DEVOTE HIS ART TO MAKING FLESH AND BLOOD PICTURES—AND MONEY —DISCUSSES WOMEN AND INVENTIONS OF SATAN.

"I give women just about ten years more to be wearing corsets—fifteen years at the outside—then they will abandon those monstrous inventions of Satan and allow their figures to develop the beauty with which the Almighty endowed them." said Jean Marcel, whose beautiful living pictures and bas-reliefs were the star attraction at the Temple theatre last week.

Monsieur is French of the French; moreover he is an artist. The combination makes for some of the pictures we see in books and drawings. His gestures, his mustache the big green jade on his tapering little finger, the loose black bow tie under his rounded sensitive chin—all are French and all are indicative of the artist. Not a syllable of English escapes Monsieur's lips except, when driven to desperation by the blank look that meets his voluble flow, he flutters timidly, deliciously, on the outskirts of some harsh Anglo-Saxon word that is like a lash to his artistic soul.

Not long ago Jean worked up in his atelier in Paris, painting beautiful pictures, but the wanderlust crept into his being and he longed to see all the world. Besides, he wanted to make a lot of money and make it quickly and one night in an hour of inspiration he thought of reproducing the works of the great masters with flesh and blood beings.

"You see this experience has given me opportunity to see a great deal of the world," Monsieur continued. "I think this thing of comparing the beauty of women of different nations is not quite right, because, you see, there are so many different types and it depends upon what you love most whether it is the French woman, the Italian, or the American. Of course, you might not say there is no such thing as an American type because there all others are mingled. But here's no use denying that here women are lovely. I tell you why men love statues. They like to look at she has verve, spirit, it is because the blood flows fast in her veins and she has gaiety, animation, vivacity. All that is what men love. They don't love statues. They like to look at them in museums—ah, oui, but they don't want to love them. Perfection of form, beauty of feature, exquisite coloring—they are not alluring—but the thing we love most in women is life, animation and heart. Ah, oui, then we love. Without it, non."

LINDSAY BOY PROMOTED.

Many Lindsay friends and well-wishers will learn with pleasure of the promotion of another Lindsay boy to a high position. Mr. T. W. Greer, formerly inspector of the Metropolitan Fire Insurance Company, has been appointed inspector for Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces for the Pacific Coast Fire Insurance Co., which was incorporated in 1890 and has built up a large and profitable business in the West.

Not All Acquainted. "I suppose your afternoon pedro club is now in full blast?" "Well, hardly. We've had only two meetings and we don't know the new members well enough to talk about them when they're absent."
