

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have obtained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study. If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities of the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope you can understand, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful for it that I want to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality." Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 581 South 10th Street, Toronto, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

The Care of Chickens Explained by An Expert

Interesting Lecture by a Toronto Poultry Raiser of Note—"The Hen That Lays is the Hen That Pays"—Improved Method of Preparing Fowl.

Evening Post of Jan. 21

Reverend George Jordan occupied the chair at the poultry meeting Wednesday evening, and introduced the speaker, Mr. L. H. Baldwin, of Deer Park, Toronto, in a few neat sentences.

The latter, in opening, complimented the officers and members of the Poultry Association on the fine show held under their auspices, and the superior quality of the fowl. No commodity was so generally favored as the poultry product; a fresh egg was a popular addition to most breakfast tables, and boarding house keepers could probably do more with chicken than with any other form of meat. He would say, however, with reference to the utility side of poultry, that it was essential we should produce the best and bring it to selling condition as speedily as possible. The glut in the market usually came in the fall of the year, and was caused by farmers and dealers collecting every available bird and shipping to the nearest large centre—in our case Toronto. Still, the price of the best fowl was not seriously affected by this temporary surplus.

How can we produce the best? The first essential is health—if in good condition the hen cannot keep from laying, and "the laying hen is the paying hen." The health is dependent upon the surroundings—we know that from our own experience. The individual who is confined in a close atmosphere cannot withstand as much as the person who lives out in the open air. This exactly applies to poultry. It is a mistake to artificially warm our henhouses, as many poultry raisers now do. An American expert once said to him, "Put the heat into your hens." Those accustomed to the care of horses know that the animal kept in a cool stable grows a coat vastly thicker than the one kept in warm quarters. So it is with fowl—in the fall the hen gets a fairly cool quarters grows a warmer coat of down than the one kept in an artificially warmed house, and is healthier. It is wise to keep the fowl cool, for the windows in the henhouse should be opened wide in the middle of the day in winter whenever the sun is bright. When birds have been raised from chicks under airy conditions, to introduce them into a warm house in the fall often induced fall moults, and the poor hen can't lay a new coat as well as man does an overcoat.

In raising birds, whether by incubation or under hens, if you are looking for eggs you must bring the bird into laying condition at the right season. It is held to be a mistake to have pullets begin laying in August, as they often will when hatched in March. It was better, he thought, to have them begin laying in October and continue to do so all winter—a dozen eggs in January were worth more than two dozen later in the spring. He would recommend that the chickens, when hatched, should be placed farther away from the house than is usually the case, and so away from ground that is contaminated. No doubt all understood about the rotation of crops—well, it or more completely cured her and she has since enjoyed the best of health. I feel sure that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure any case of this kind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure all troubles due to poor and watery blood, such as rheumatism, sciatica, indigestion, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, and the ailments that make the lives of so many women miserable. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Growing Girls Need Pink Pills

This Tonic is Necessary for Their Proper Development and to Insure Health and Strength.

There are throughout Canada thousands and thousands of young girls who are in a condition approaching a decline. The complexion is pale or sallow. Appetite fickle. A short walk, or going upstairs, leaves them breathless and with a violently palpating heart. Headaches and dizzying often adds to their misery. In Doctors call this anaemia—which, in common English, means poor blood. There is just one sure and certain cure for this trouble—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new, rich, red blood, strengthen every nerve and bring a glow of health to pale faces. Do not waste time and money experimenting with other medicines. Do not delay treatment until you are in a hopeless decline. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once and see how speedily they will restore your health and strength. Here is the proof: Mrs. Joseph E. Lepage, St. Jerome, Que., says: "My daughter Emilia began to lose her health at the age of thirteen years. She suffered from headaches and dizziness. Her appetite was poor. She was pale and apparently bloodless. She had no strength and could neither study nor do any work. Doctors' medicine failed to cure her and I thought she was going into a decline. She was in this condition for several months when a neighbor advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to give them a trial. It was not long until an improvement was noticed and the continued use of the pills for a month

Not a Miracle But Medical Science

Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen:—

"Some time ago I began to lose flesh and failed to recover until I had to quit work. My physicians and all my friends said I had contracted consumption. I failed from 165 pounds down to 119. I was advised to go to the Rockies or to the coast. I went to both places under heavy expense. I continued to fail, and was advised by the doctors to come home as nothing more could be done for me. Hope seemed to have left me.

"I tried Psychology and since starting its use I have gained from 119 to 141 pounds. I have used $100.00 worth of the medicine. I am a well man and I cannot say too much in praise of Psychology. The strongest recommendation I would be weak in view of the fact that I believe it has saved my life. It is without doubt the best remedy for run-down conditions and weak lungs.

"I sincerely hope and trust that you will continue your good work of saving run down people and consumptive from the grave. Wishing you and Psychology continued success, I remain, one of Psychology's best friends."

ALEX. McRAE, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Almost every mail brings us letters like the above. Psychology will repeat this record in every case. It is the greatest medicine known. At all drug stores, 50c and $1.00, or Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto.

MOUNT PLEASANT

(From Our Own Correspondent)

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of an old-time resident of our village, the late Allen McLean. About a year ago he and his family removed to Toronto, where his death occurred on the 14th inst. Pneumonia attacked a constitution none too strong, and the patient endured its ravages only two or three days. Interment took place in Toronto. Besides a widow, the deceased leaves a son and two daughters to mourn his sudden death. They have the sympathy of many friends in this village.

Mr. Frank Elliott and his wife, of Drazion, N.D., who have been holidaying among relatives and friends, left on their return trip Monday, 20th inst. Mrs. J. F. Gill, of Pembina, N.D., is rapidly convalescing at the home of her father, Mr. James McLean.

The 13th convention line is in good shape for driving on. The drain has improved it, and so have the two new culverts that were put in.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Gray, of Linden Valley, are on a visit to their friends here. The young benedicts look quite happy.

Provincial Secretary Hanna Will Address Them Regarding Liquor Act.

Toronto, January 27.—The Ontario Government has under consideration the advisability of calling a general conference of the Liquor License Inspectors with a view to obtaining still more efficient service, uniformity of action and clear interpretation of the clauses of the Act. The conference will probably be held in Toronto during the sittings of the Legislature. The inspectors will be addressed by the Provincial Secretary, Hon. W. J. HOW SHE KEEPS BEAUTIFUL

The Mystery Solved.

Like the flowers that bloom in the spring the young girl just budding into womanhood is an inspiring sight and she is usually beautiful if she is perfectly healthy. She stays beautiful just so long as her health and constitution remain good. Let her be nervous, have backache, sleepless nights, and how soon does it take for wrinkles, crow's feet and dark circles to appear in the face? Her cheeks were rosy until she began to suffer from woman's weakness and the constantly recurring pains and drains brought her quickly from the beautiful age to the premature middle age. It was not meant for women to suffer so—It is due to our unnatural but civilized methods of living, and to the fact that so many neglect those small little things soon lead up to larger ones. Nothing so drags a woman down as those constantly recurring periods when she suffers more and more from a chronic condition that can be easily cured. No woman should take an alcoholic compound for that will disturb digestion, and the food is quickly compacted and becomes more and more from a chronic condition that can be easily cured. Liberal Rally At Beaverton

W. J. Kester, of Scott, is Again the Candidate—Large Gathering.

Beaverton Express: When the President's gavel called the convention to order Friday last, the Liberal party of North Ontario, which had been called in convention in Alexandria hall, Beaverton, was pretty well represented. From every part of the riding delegates had come, and it was claimed that the meeting was the largest in many years. The presence of Hon. A. G. McKay, M.P.P., the party's leader in the Legislative Assembly, and the close proximity of the general provincial elections, were mainly the causes of the interest. The usual number of honorary nominations were made, but it was generally understood Mr. W. J. Kester, of Scott, a former candidate in the riding would again be put in nomination. All therefore retired, leaving Mr. Kester the nominee by acclamation. The usual stirring addresses calculated to raise the enthusiasm of the party were made by Hon. A. G. McKay, M.P.P., and Geo. D. Grant, M.P. It was noticeable however, that applause was not spontaneous or general as in days of yore, and there appeared a very significant chilliness in the atmosphere, especially when it was found that a certain influential section of the convention was insistent on the candidate, whoever he might be, making himself plain as to his position on local option. This none of the nominees cared to do. It was delightful to watch the efforts to evade an expression of opinion on this question, all evidently being still afraid of an influence which they could not see had almost entirely passed. It was not until a late hour that Mr. Kester could be prevailed upon to accept the nomination of the party, owing largely to certain private objections, but he will undoubtedly make a very strong candidate.
