It is announced that Senator J. K. Kerr will become speaker of the Senate. No better equipped man could be chosen for the chamber of somnolence.

It is too bad, isn't it? Britain is feebly governed. Magistrate Dennison of Toronto, says so, and what he says usually goes with the Queen City bums.

When the Deputy-Minister spells his name Colquhoun, and pronounces it Cohoon, it is not surprising that he should want to stuff a few extra letters in such words as favor, labor, etc. But the ordinary sane man wonders why he should be permitted to do so.

SHORT COURSES

Back to the land is the slogan of our times. Thinking men all over the world are urging the young men of the rural districts to remain on land. The legislative bodies of all the foremost countries in the world are racking their brains for ways and means whereby the conditions of the farmer may be improved.

Thousands of dollars are spent annually in spreading agricultural literature and giving academic training along agricultural lines and yet there are hundreds of farmers who never come under the influence of these mighty forces, the agricultural press and the agricultural college. Coming to our own province, where our agricultural classes comprise over sixty per cent of our entire population, we find that less than one per cent of the eligible farmers' sons attend the agricultural colleges. From what source do the other ninety-nine per cent derive the knowledge requisite to successful agriculture? The fact is only too apparent that many are satisfied to remain unenlightened or else drift away to the towns and cities, and there swell the already overcrowded ranks of the artisan class. To stifle what might have been the broad useful life between the four walls of a dingy workshop, or even add magnitude to the social problem by drifting into the ranks of the unemployed.

This picture may appear overdrawn but it is nevertheless true and it behooves every farmer who has spent his life on the land to see that his son is brought under such influences as will tend to give him not only a higher appreciation of the agricultural profession, but make his profession more remunerative. Such a chance every farmer in Victoria county has from the 26th to the 30th January, when a five days course in seed and stock judging is in progress in Lindsay.

This course is practical, under the direction of the best stock and grain judges in America. Men who are authorities on their subjects all over our continent, and whose very personalities is an inspiration to those who come in contact with them. Come for the whole course. Preparations are made for your instruction in the daytime by practical demonstrations, and in the evening by instructive addresses. THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL WILL CONSIDER IT

A few days ago The Post urged that a change be made in the postal regulations, whereby money may be withdrawn by depositors from the post office savings bank without the tedious waiting for a return from Ottawa, which now obtains. The recommendation has since been heartily endorsed by many of our citizens who have taken the trouble to commend our position on the subject.

This morning we are pleased to say, we were informed by the postmaster-general that he had perused our editorial and would give the matter careful consideration. It is to be hoped therefore, that the change may be brought about at an early date.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF ELECTRIC HEAT AND LIGHTING

The step taken at Monday night's meeting of the town council, looking to the acquisition of the lighting and power plant by the town is one which will meet with the approval of the vast majority of the ratepayers of Lindsay. It is a step that is fully in line with the public ownership tendency of the times and it is a step which cannot fail to be beneficial to the people as a whole.

It will be necessary, of course, that the project be dealt with in no haphazard way, and it is highly creditable to Ald. Kyle that he has brought the subject up for consideration in plenty of time to give room for ample consideration of the pros and cons of the question. It is no small matter, and there is much to be thought of and considerable information to be obtained and the council has acted wisely in adopting the suggestion which has been made to it.

It must be remembered, however, as Ald. Kyle remarked at the council meeting, that the members of the existing company are not to be regarded in any disparaging light. They have passed through some trying times in bringing to success the project they have had in hand, and have had difficulties and discouragements to contend with and are deserving of much credit and high praise for the manner in which they have surmounted these difficulties and brought to success a most needed public utility.

We seem to be blessed again with a good level headed council, and the members may be trusted to see that justice is done to all parties concerned.

THE NATURAL GAS PROPOSITION

The gas proposition submitted to the meeting of citizens on Wednesday evening is so eminently fair that it is difficult to see how the meeting could have done otherwise than endorse it, and still less is it discernible how the council can turn it down.

There is no bonus asked for, neither do the promoters ask for exemption from taxation. They simply ask that in the event of success in their search for gas they shall be permitted to run their pipes through the streets to enable them to supply our people with a means of heating their homes at a very much cheaper rate than it can now be done, and to supply manufacturers with fuel that will cause more and more of them to come among us.

It is undeniable that the way to make Lindsay a prosperous city is to present inducements to manufacturers to locate amongst us, and it is pleasing to know that our citizens are fully cognizant of this fact, and that they are ready to welcome any means which may have a tendency to bring it about.

We look with the fullest confidence to favorable action on the part of the council, and the people, not only of Lindsay, but of the country at large, will watch with keen interest the outcome of the drilling.

ALL WILD TALK

When the people found that 'the talk of wrong doing and grafting was "froth and wild talk," as described by the Premier, and that whatever wrongs had been committed were done by officials whom this Government retained in office, they decided to support in future a Government against which nothing had successfully been urged.

When the occasion arrives to test public opinion again in by-elections the truth of this will be amply demonstrated. The Conservative party cannot expect to receive support from the country following so closely upon their dismal failure of last October. Not able to frame an intelligent platform, incapable of presenting literature that convinced the people, and utterly at sea with regard to the scandalous things said in the House the Conservative party invited defeat.

No comparison which is not distinctly unfavorable to themselves can be made by the Conservatives when they appear before the people. Nothing can be offered which looks attractive, and to send men to Parliament, whose business it would be to hamper and embarrass the administration does not appeal to intelligent electors. If many of the constituents had an opportunity of expressing their views again, there would be a large addition to the following of the Prime Minister in the House.

The Conservatives hoped to gain power by deceit and the making of promises, which could not be kept, therefore failure was a foregone conclusion. The leaders of the party underestimated the intelligence of the electorate and now they are suffering the consequences.

Died of Typhoid

He was in his 56th year, and was a brother of Mr. J. C. McFadden, of Riverdale, Toronto. He leaves behind a wife and two children.

Wedding Bells

WILLOCK — DANIEL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Thomas Daniel, on January 5th, when her daughter, Ella E., was married to Arthur Bruce Willock, of Fenelon. As the wedding march was being played the bride entered the parlor leaving on the arm of her brother, the parlor being beautifully decorated with bells and streamers of white ribbon. The groomsmen was Mr. Lourie Willock, of Saskatchewan, cousin of the groom, while Miss Etta Black, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and was dressed in beautiful blue silk. Little Miss Jean and Jeanie Archer, nieces of the bride, acted as flower girls.

The bride was dressed in white silk with overlace. Her going away suit was mauve colored lady cloth, with hat and blouse to match.

About eighty guests were present, all being relatives of the bride and groom. Mr. J. B. Lillie, of New, Ontario, who assisted Rev. G. W. Cragg in performing the ceremony, is a nephew of the bride. Many from a distance were present, among whom were Miss J. A. Jagent, of Lucknow, Mrs. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Daniel, of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Jenn Nugent, of Peterboro, Mr. T. G. London, of Queen's University, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ellis, of Winnipeg.

The evening was spent in music and singing, which was much enjoyed by all present.

The young couple will reside in Fenelon.
