JAMES DICK THORNTON

On Wednesday, January 20th last respects to all was mortal of the late James Dick Thornton. The funeral obsequies were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Kannawin of Strathroy, a former pastor of the deceased assisted by Revs. Teney and McCulloch of the Anglican and Methodist denominations, respectively. Interment took place at the Emily cemetery. The pallbearers were four nephews of the deceased, Messrs, David Belch, D. Thornton, D. H. Corneil, and David Thornton, and two who had been very lear friends, Messrs, John J. Lamb and John

Among the floral tributes was wreath of violets, from Mrs. Hamilton, of Toronto; carnations from Mrs. McNeillie, of Lindsay; an anchor from the Omemee Presbyterian church, and a floral harp from the choir of the same church.

Some of those from a distance who attended the funeral were: Judge Harding and Mr. J. R. McNeillie, of Lindsay, Mrs, Hamilton and Mr. Mc-Neillie, of Toronto; Mr. Clark, of Port Hope; Miss Kincade, of Peterboro, and Mr. D. Thornton, of Jan-

After the death of his brother, David, the deceased returned to Omemee, where he has since resided. In early life he joined the Presbyterian church and labored unstintingly in church and Sunday school work. About 19 years ago in company with Mr. James McLean of Mount Pleasant, he organized the Presbyterian Sabbath school on an Easter Sunday The late Mr. Thornton was a musiof excellent ability, playing many instruments in the services of the church and of the state. The township of Emily and village of Omemee secured many improvements by his persistent claims for them, the latest of which was the clearing of Pigeon River of floating bogs. In this work the deceased labored unremittingly, and soon after its conclusion, his illness began, brought on, doubtless, by exposure and worry, excessive for his constitution. The first stroke confined him to his bed for a week in September, but he was able to be about again till the second attack in November again forced him to bed, where, still hoping for recovery, and with patience and resignation he lay till the 18th of January, when the third stroke precluded all hopes of restoration and his spirit passed peacefully away to the Providence he had so willingly followed and worshipped. At the time of his death he was member of the Presbyetrian church and choir in which he will be greatly missed as well as in social and tusi ness circles of our town. The remaining members of family are Messrs. John, and William Thornton, Mrs. Kincade, of Peterboro and Miss Martha Thornton, at home.

The loving sympathy of all is ex tended to them in their sorrow, and bereavement, and more especially to the home and administered comfort beyond her strength to her beloved
