HEAD LAKE.

(Special to The Post.)

The old year, 1909, has gone, bringing to many joy and pleasure and to others sorrow and disappointment. The new year has come, and in its very beginning even in this quiet, secluded spot, death and sorrow comes and claims one of our number. It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of little Jimmie Commerford, the four year old son of Mr. James Commerford. Up to the middle of December, the lad was running about playing as usual, when suddenly he contracted some sickness which ended last Wednesday morning in his death. It brings to our minds the words of the poet when he says: "God hath his mysteries of grace, ways that we cannot tell," and it seems hard to tell why one so full of hope and joy should be called away and severed forever from the joys and pleasures which he afforded his parents, and especially his father. God claims our very best and while we felt our severe loss we realize it is His gain, and that it is all for the best. When death comes and takes away one so young it causes our minds to reflect on things higher and eternal. The home that a few days ago was full of joy and happiness, is now rent with grief and much sympathy is felt by all for the bereaved family. Funeral from Victoria Road Thursday morning was largely attended by friends and relatives.

Its Final Reading

At last evening's council meeting the final reading was given to the bylaw authorizing the council to borrow the sum of $55,000 for the erection of two new public school buildings, and the making of improvements to two others.

Poor Snow Plough Service

Mr. Cook, a resident on Adelaide street, south from Kent-st., registered a kick at last night's council meeting against the poor work being done by the snow plough. The street was not cleaned in some places at all. The plough simply passed over the snow, and as a result the street was impassable and pedestrians were obliged to use the road. The chairman of the Board of Works will attend to this matter at once.

Purchase of Stone And New Walks

Two Important Matters Dealt With by the Council

Deputy-Reeve McLean at the Council meeting last night brought up the question of building of walks this year. He said he expected there would be petitions in for walks this year. He said the teamsters were ready to draw stone, and if there was any definite idea where stone could be placed, he thought it would be placed, he thought it would be wise to consider it.

It was pointed out that there was a walk needed on the west side of Cambridge-st., and one on Peter-st. Deputy-Reeve Kyle said he felt they were a little late in advertising the matter in the press. The walk near the pea-factory which had been asked for some time ago had not been built yet. The town would have to go slow with walks, and the petitions, he argued, should come in a year ahead. The difference in the cost of stone now and later on showed he considered. We should not pay $4.00 a cord for the material.

Ald. Jackson said there was a walk on the west side of St. Lawrence-st. between Mill and Ridout-st., which was in a bad condition. This walk was petitioned for and published several years ago.

Ald. Babcock—Mr. John Kerr has some ten cords of wood, which he offers to draw for $3.00 or $3.50 per cord.

Mayor Begg—We should give our town teamsters the preference.

Ald. Babcock—The town teams have not always access to the stone.

Ald. Jackson said Mr. Kerr was a property owner.

Ald. Calvert wanted the walk attended to on Peter-st. The work should have been done long ago.

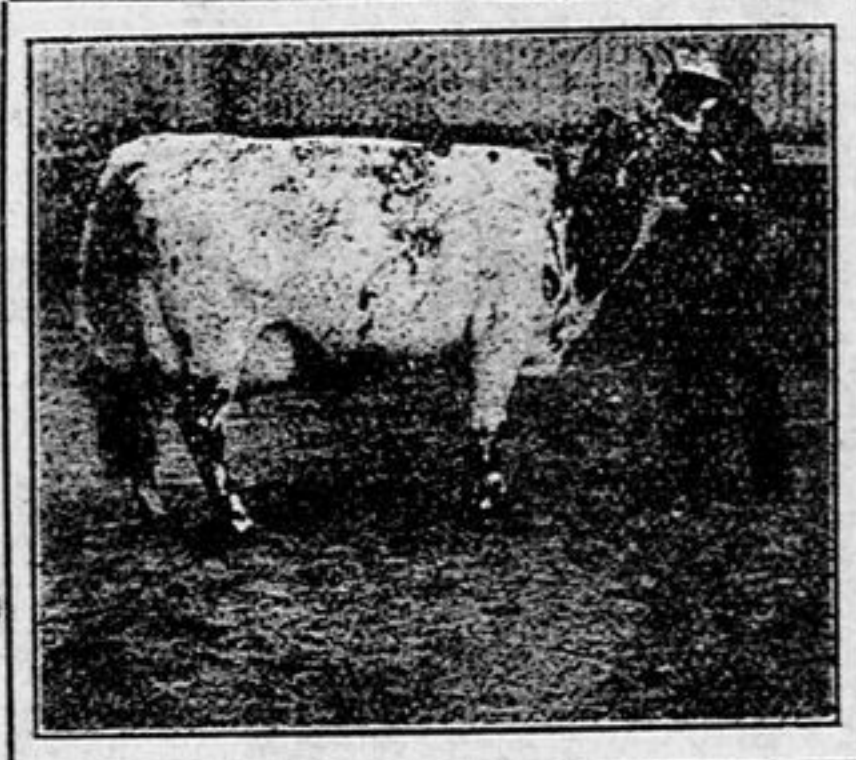

The chairman of the Board of Work will look into these different matters—the purchase of stone and the building of permanent walks.
