J. B. WELDON,

Oakwood, Jan. 10, 1912. ...

(Special to The Post.) Entering upon another year, we look back on the year just passed and it is pleasing to see that it was a year of progress in Manilla. New buildings have been erected, the population has increased so that the school board have found it necessary to add another teacher. Our cement walks have been extended. Nobody is rich, but all have plenty. What more does one need? Of course it is not all sunshine, as in every other place under the sun, we have a few, very few, "knockers." There is the fellow who thinks it shows knowledge belittle his village by slightingly comparing it with some city, the fellow who tries to make himself important by saying the people in his home town, are no good, they all call me old John Doe, when I'm in any other place they call me Mr. John Doe. Then there is the fellow who derides everybody else and their business, thinking thereby to boost his own. He is the worst of all.

To those we say start the new year right. This is a community where we should all help one another, Cut out the kicking. Get busy, help the other fellow citizens, and your vilage. You'll find it better. You'll be with the crowd. If you can't do this, why not take up a homestead in the

During the Christmas week teachers of the Methodist Sunday school gave the scholars a good treat in the form of a Christmas tree. A good programme was furnished by the scholars, which was much enjoyed by all present and reflected great credit upon those who had the affair in charge.

Much regret is expressed by citizens generally that Rev. Mr. Arthurs has resigned from the pastorate of the Baptist church. The church has made much progress and the building greatly improved during pastorate. Mr. Arthurs is a whose heart was in the work, and will make a success wherever he goes. The church has much need of more men, workers like Mr. Arthurs.
