Little Worries In the Home
It is These that Brings Wrinkles and Make Women Look Prematurely Old

Almost every woman at the head of a home meets daily with many little worries in her household affairs. They may be too small to notice an hour afterwards, but it is these same constant little worries that make so many women look prematurely old. Their effect may be noticed in sick or nervous headaches, fickle appetite, pain in the back or side, sallow complexion, and the coming of wrinkles, which every woman dreads. To those thus afflicted, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy and certain cure, a restoration of color to the cheeks, brightness to the eye, a healthy appetite and a sense of freedom from weariness.

Among the thousands of Canadian women who have found new health and new strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. W. C. Daerr, London, Ont., who says: "About two years ago I found myself so badly run down that it was almost impossible to perform my household duties. I fell off in flesh was weak and very pale, had no appetite, feet constantly cold, and to further make my life miserable I was afflicted with those other ailments from which so many women suffer. I tried many kinds of medicine, but got no benefit, and began to feel that I was slipping into chronic invalidism. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and although I felt somewhat hopeless, decided to do so. To my delight after taking the Pills a few weeks, I felt much better, and a further use of them brought me back to my old time health. I have since recommended the Pills to many others, and those who have used them have always been benefited."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE DUTIES OF BOYS AND GIRLS

(By Mrs. Wm. Tamblin, Cambray)
In dealing with our girls and boys let us not forget the days when we were young ourselves.

How many of us can look back and see so many mistakes and grievances which we would undo if we could, and which might have been avoided if we had asked advice, or made a confidant of our parents. It is a most important thing that we have the confidence of our children. Whether we gain that confidence or not depends a great deal on our tact and sympathy.

Talking to them reasonably and appealing to their sense of honor and right will be more apt to win their confidence than talking at them, especially when they reach the troublesome age. Of course there are certain times when authority and firmness are necessary. The happiness of our homes depends largely on our boys and girls, they should learn to wait upon themselves as early as possible, besides waiting on their parents in many ways. Nothing makes a girl more useless and unfit for the duties of life than to have her mother wait on her and do things for her when she is old enough to do for herself.

Girls should be allowed to take the lead in household affairs, and so take some of the burdens of management off their mothers' shoulders. It is nice, too, for mother and daughter to work together. Or if there is more than one girl in the home let each one have charge of the work in different parts of the house, then change about at regular intervals. In this way they learn to do all kinds of work. The same rule may be applied to boys in outdoor work.

An important thing to be cultivated in the home is the spirit of unselfishness and contentment. What a vast difference it makes in the home if the boys and girls are considerate of each other, sharing each other's pleasures and sharing the work as well, what a contrast to the one who takes all and gives nothing, and goes off to new interests and pleasures with no thought or care for those left behind. A selfish person is never a pleasant companion in any home, and their going is generally marked by a sense of relief. Don't allow your parents to make too many sacrifices for you. Their desire to start their family better than they themselves started causes them to sacrifice more than they should. As you grow up show your apprecia-

LEAD MINE IN GALWAY TOWNSHIP
Review: A smelter is to be installed at the Galway lead mine, where the Union Creek Mining Co., the owners of the property, have about 500 tons of pure lead ready for the smelter.

The smelter will turn out about fifteen tons of pure lead per day, which sells for some $65 per ton and is entitled to a government bounty of $1 per ton additional.

The lead will be teamed to Kinmount, a distance of about four miles, where it will be shipped by rail. The old Galway mine was formerly owned by the late John Burnham, who did some developing work, but not sufficient to uncover the rich deposits of lead and silver. A recent sample, weighing about two pounds, contained eighty per cent. pure lead.

Astigmatism

There are many people who have a wrong idea of astigmatism—it is not a disease, but an irregularity in the curve of the eye, and can be corrected by specially ground lenses. Its usual symptoms are headaches often accompanied by squinting of the eyes. We are perfectly equipped for examining the eyes for glasses, and for prescribing and grinding the right lenses. Our work is reliable. Lowest prices. Best results.
