HARTLEY

(Special to The Post.)

A very successful basket social and entertainment under the auspices of L.O.L. No. 1153 was held here in the section hall on Thursday night, Jan. 23. Despite the precarious condition of the weather, the attendance was large, many being present from outside points. Bros. Wm. Thornbury, P.C.M., and Wm. Warren, C.M., of the Orange Association of Victoria County, assisted materially towards the success of the program, the former acting very efficiently in the capacity of chairman, the latter giving an address relative to a few of the high ideals set forth in the Orange constitution. Two members of the fraternity gave addresses. Bro. Armstrong of Orillia, described briefly, though clearly, the conditions of insurance in the society, while Bro. Wm. Manning, P.D.M., of Hartley, in an eloquent address depicted the trend of growing tendencies in Canada and elsewhere, at the same time quoting figures to show the fast growth of the Orange society in the past two or three years. The musical part of the program was contributed by the Misses Thornbury of Lindsay, W. Hewie of Lindsay, Messrs S. McKinnon and Carmichael of Cambridge, Mr. C. Moynes, of Islay, and others. The selections were all high class and were indeed very pleasing to an attentive and appreciative audience. Mr. Hewie is a comedian of professional ability, and he justly merited the praises he received. His rendering of "The wedding of Sandy McNabb," was particularly popular with his hearers. Bro. Hewie also auctioned the baskets successfully, and they sold at fairly high prices. At the commencement of the program Bro. R. Spence, W.M., stated his belief that a Hartley audience was ever an orderly one, and at the close he stated that he had no occasion to renounce his expressed convictions in that regard.

Last Friday night was the occasion of a very pleasant social evening held at the home of Mr. Wm. Elford when the members of the Epworth League and the "Miners" adult bible class of the Methodist church assembled to share in the enjoyment of a happy time together. The occasion was one of a dual nature, for the congregation as a whole thought this would be an opportune time to show their loyalty and high regard for Miss Elford, who had been the ever faithful and efficient organist of the choir for several years. Consequently the assemblage was a large one. At the commencement of the program of the evening, our pastor, Rev. W. R. Archer conducted a short service, his remarks being laid upon the word "others." It was a stirring appeal for entire self resignation and the devotion of our talents to help those with whom we come in contact. At the conclusion of this part of the program Mr. Archer called upon Mr. A. H. Campbell, who read the following address to Miss Kate Elford, while Mrs. W. Maxwell presented her with a purse of twenty dollars:

Dear Miss Elford,—We, your friends of the Hartley Methodist church have gathered here tonight to do you honor. We desire to express our appreciation of your services as organist at Hartley, also the good will of one and all to you.

You have at much inconvenience put the choir work before your own pleasure, and we realize that with you every phase of your Master's work stands first.

Not as adequate payment, but as a token of our esteem, we beg that you will accept this purse in the spirit in which it is presented and given.

We rejoice also in that you are not leaving us, and trust you may long be spared to dwell in the love and esteem of Hartley people.

Signed on behalf of the congregation, W. R. Archer, J. C. McFadyen. Though this came as a complete surprise to Miss Elford, she replied in a few fittingly chosen words, and thanked the congregation and choir for their good will.

During the remainder of the evening "detective" was played, and charades were acted. Misses Ella and Minnie Campbell were chosen as captains, and throughout the contests there was constantly a keen race for the ascendancy. It was admitted, however, by all present that one of the words chosen for the charades was very "intricate" and well acted. At the conclusion of the games a dainty luncheon was served, and after tendering a hearty vote of thank to the hosts and hostess the gathering dispersed.
