TRUNKS AND CRIPS AT BARCAIN PRICES AT NEILL'S.

Farmers and Reciprocity

(From the Canadian Century, Feb.) If the reciprocity compact merely opened the door of the Canadian food market to American farmers it would be very injurious to thousands of Canadian farmers. It costs no more to transport American farm products to Canadian towns and cities than it does to transport Canadian farm products to cities of the United States, and the American farmers have the advantage of an earlier season. Moreover, there are at least ten times as many farmers in the United States as there are in Canada, and so the American farmers will get entrance to the markets of Canada for some Canadian farmer who gets entrance to the markets of the United States. That the American farmers will take advantage of the open door there can be no doubt. Even with a tariff wall against them they have succeeded in selling immense quantities of farm products in Canada, more than Canadian farmers have been able to sell in the United States. With reciprocity in farm products the ten American farmers will crowd the one Canadian farmer pretty close in his own market.

But this is not all the Canadian farmer has to face under reciprocity. Owing to the favoured nation treaties, any tariff advantages granted by Canada to the United States must also apply to the following countries—Argentina Republic, Austria-Hungary, Bolivia, Columbia, Denmark, Japan, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

Then it is provided "that the advantages granted to the United States shall extend to the United Kingdom and several of the British colonies." This will bring about free entrance of farm products from those great food exporting colonies, Australia and New Zealand.

In fact Canadian farmers will have to compete in their own home market with farm products from all the great food producing countries of the world.

ADDING TO THE UNCERTAINTY.

There is always some uncertainty about farming. The farmer never knows when he puts seed in the ground what the weather condition will be. These may be frost or hail or drought or too much rain.

Added to all these uncertainties due to Nature's variations there is the uncertainty regarding the prices that will prevail when the crop is harvested. How many acres should be devoted to one crop and how many to another depends upon a guess as to what demand there will be for the different agricultural products at the time of harvesting and what prices will prevail. What is true of farm crops is also true of live stock. It is comparatively easy for the farmer to study the conditions of the home market, but when he has to compete with the farmers of the world at large, it is much more difficult to determine what the future will be.

It is now proposed to add to the uncertainty of Canadian farming, imported farm products from the United States, the Argentine Republic, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Australia, New Zealand and a number of other countries coming into Canada without payment of any duties will to a considerable extent displace Canadian farm products in the home market as a result of the reciprocity compact.

To make up for losses in the home market the Canadian farmer will have to very greatly increase his exports to the United States. In sowing seed in raising stock, in growing vegetables and fruit he will always have to consider what is most likely to satisfy American demands. And after he has made his arrangements, while his crops are still unharvested and the live stock, which he has especially raised to suit the American market, is half grown, the United States Congress may suddenly decide to shut out Canadian farm products of all kinds. Remember the Reciprocity Compact is not a treaty. It may be ended by the United States Congress or the Canadian Parliament. It is well that we are not tied down to a permanent arrangement. Even the Free Trade Farmers' Convention in Ottawa on December 15 and 16, 1910 recommended that a permanent treaty should not be made, but that any understanding arrived at should be put into effect by concurrent legislation. All classes of the community were of the same opinion in this regard, and the Government could not have defied the unanimous sentiment of the community. So when we point out that either the United States or Canada is at liberty to end the agreement at short notice, we are not blaming the Government for this. We believe that Canadians in general, including both farmers and city people, will find the arrangement so unsatisfactory that they will be thankful Parliament has the power to terminate it, but if this forecast should prove wrong, there will always overhang the cloud of uncertainty regarding the attitude of the United States Congress.

There will always be strong influences at work in the United States that may cause Congress to alter the tariff. American farmers may be dissatisfied, or American manufacturers may think they are not getting enough out of the agreement and demand better terms. Mr. Taft has made no secret of his expectations the United States is to get greater concessions later on. If the United States Congress endorses the compact, it will be because of this expectation. Under such conditions, with what feelings of uncertainty will the Canadian farmer plan his work for a year ahead?

The above is an advertisement and is paid for as such. It does not in any way express the sentiments of this paper, as we are entirely in accord with the proposed trade agreement.—Ed. Post.

Jottings From Lively Janetville

(Special to the Post.)

Mr. Ben McGill, of Lindsay was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong last week.

Mr. Smith, of Orillia, was in town the former part of last week on business.

Miss Grace Hobbs, of Toronto, spent the early part of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hobbs.

Mrs. Andrew McGill, spent the early part of this week visiting friends in the city.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Marshall's little boy is getting better again.

Miss Pearl McGill attended the Peterboro Normal School At Home last Friday evening and was the guest of her sister over Sunday.

Mr. Johnson and his sister, Mrs. O. Edward left on Tuesday for their new home in the west, near Weyburn. We most heartily wish them every success.

A large crowd of people assembled to witness two games of hockey, namely, Reaboro vs. Janetville and Nestleton vs. Janetville junior team last Saturday at our rink. Unfortunately the ice was so soft that they were unable to play and the crowd had to go away disappointed. We hope for a better day for them in the future.

Last Thursday seven of our hockey players journeyed to Reaboro to encounter the team of that place. Both teams were in good spirits, and the ice was good, but as our players were not accustomed to the ice, they were not able to do justice to themselves. The final score was 8-3 in favor of Reaboro. Mr. Jas. Nasmyth acted as referee.

Miss Stuart, of Blackstock, is visiting friends in this village.

A large number of our people assembled last Friday evening to say farewell to one of our most esteemed young men who is leaving our midst. Mr. Herb Johnson has lived among us nearly all his life and has always worked for the good of the community. He was always an ardent and faithful worker in both the Epworth League and the Sunday school, and will be very much missed from both. As a sport he was ever ready to help along anything that would enliven the community. He will be very much missed from this sphere of life about here. To show in a meagre way their appreciation of his noble work, the League and friends presented him with an address and a purse of about $22. The address was read by Mr. Robt. Burns, and Dr. Gilson made the presentation. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all. Mrs. Skuce, of Mt. Horeb, was visiting at the home of Mrs. Geo. Bradburn.

McMillan brothers, of Port Perry purchased the high class team of Mr. Wm. McGill's. The price realized being nearly $600.

A number of our young people attended the church opening entertainment at Nestleton last Monday night.

Our hockey septette went to Nestleton on Monday to play a picked team from Nestleton, Port Perry, and Blackstock. A large crowd had assembled to witness the game and they received their share of the excitement, as the game from the first was exciting. Both teams played a fast game all through, but it was soon seen that the Janetville seven were no match for the bunch of star players. At the end of the second half the score was 18-5 against Janetville. All enjoyed the game very much. Dr. Gilson acted as referee.

Settlers' Trains to Great West

Attention is drawn to the C.P.R. Settlers' Train ad in this issue. Those of our readers who contemplate going West can travel to advantage by C.P.R. By coming into Lindsay by any morning train you can catch the 4.45 p.m. (daily) train for Toronto and you can leave that city at 10.10 p.m. daily. Only 40 hours, Lindsay to Winnipeg, by this route. This, and the excellent service provided, are strong considerations.

Spence, District Master, after which a refreshing lunch was served by the members of the Order, the remainder of the evening being spent in addresses and songs by prominent members. The meeting was then brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

A Letter From West

A letter from one of our old subscribers, Mr. A. G. Lake, who is now a resident of Kathrine, Man., says that the snow in his section has been very deep, about two feet on the level. December was fine and mild, but January was very cold and stormy the entire month. On the 9th and 10th it blew continuously with the thermometer 25 below zero in the day time and 42 at night. The trains were all from 18 to 24 hours late and on some lines cancelled for days. The crop last season was good, as it averaged about 20 bushels an acre.
